Soviets Leave Way Open for Laos Cease Fire

No Action Imminent Is Report

Note Is Delivered Sunday in Moscow

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union rejected some details of the Western proposal for a cease-fire in Laos but kept the door open for further negotiations on the matter, a foreign office spokesman said today.

The spokesman declined to give the substance of the note, delivered Sunday in Moscow, but he made clear that Britain and the Soviet Union won't be joining right away in calling a cease-fire to suspend the fighting between the Western-backed Laotian government of Prince Boun Oum and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas.

Can't Give Views Yet

The spokesman said further contacts with the Soviet government would be required and that meanwhile Britain is consulting with the United States, France and Commonwealth countries.

"Until we have completed discussions with our allies and come to some conclusions," the spokesman said, "we can give no indication as to our views on how the note is to be regarded."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the reply to British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts shortly after the arrival in Moscow of Prince Souvanna Phouma, the Laotian neutralist whom the Soviets recognize as the legal prime minister of Laos.

Confers With Gromyko

Souvanna on a world tour to sound out ideas for peace within his war-divided kingdom, conferred today with Gromyko and First Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin.

For three weeks the Kremlin had delayed answering Britain's proposal of March 23 that a cease-fire be called in Laos, that the International Truce Commission of 1954 be revived and that a conference of 14 nations be called to arrange for a unified, neutral Laos.

Chief Block

The chief stumbling block was the Western insistence that a cease-fire must precede any major conference on Laos. Other Communist nations have been arguing for an immediate international conference to work out a cease-fire, an arrangement strongly opposed by the United States.

The Soviet Union, in its first reaction to the British proposal agreed in principle that a cease-fire should be called but hedged on the timing. The West was suspicious that the Soviets were delaying so that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels in Laos could gain as much territory as possible before being brought to the conference table.

HARRY RIGBY JR.

Kingstonian Is Consultant on Civil War Event

A well-known local historian, Harry Rigby Jr., of 48 Plymouth Avenue, has been named by Bruce Catton, chairman of New York State Civil War Centennial Commission, to coordinate centennial obervance activities in the Hudson Valley, and to act as consultant to the commission.

He has been licensed by the State Education Department as a teacher of regional history in adult education.

President of the New York State Fuel Merchants Association and chairman of the Eastern States Fuel Conference, Rigby is vice president of Kingston Coal Company. He is also vice president of Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Last year, Rigby was appointed as a consultant on the preservation of historic and cultural sites by the firm of Raymond and May Associates, city planners active in the redevelopment of many areas of New York State.

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—martin Murphy, 56, is held here for grand jury action on a charge of manslaughter in the death of a woman police said was his common law wife.

Police said the woman, Marion Roaver, 59, died after Murphy knocked her head against a bedpost.

John Saxe, Banker, Is Dead at 79

Former Sheriff Was Civic Leader

John H. Saxe, 79, one of Ulster County's best known citizens died late Sunday night at Kingston Hospital where he had been since January 20 when he fell at his West Hurley residence, sustaining a fractured hip.

Mr. Saxe was born in Old West Hurley on April 18, 1882, and had served the people of the county as village store-keeper, public official and for the past many years in financial circles, having served as a director of the State of New York National Bank since 1923 and later as vice president and since 1937 president of that bank. He was also a trustee of the Ulster County Savings Institution.

Started Business Early

Through his exceptionally pleasant personality, thoughtfulness and desire to be of assistance to his friends and neighbors, Mr. Saxe built up one of the widest circle of friends of any citizen of the county.

His education was received in the common schools of his home township and later he attended Spencer's Business School. At an early age he engaged in the butcher and livery business in the old village of West Hurley. That business he continued to operate most successfully until West Hurley was wiped out by reason of the construction of the Ashokan Reservoir.

Then, with many of his neighbors who were compelled to leave their homes as the New York City water system engulfed their homes, he moved to what is presently the village of West Hurley, just outside the taking line of the Ashokan Reservoir.

Became Land Developer

Mr. Saxe was one of the first "developers" of suburban communities. He established his home in West Hurley along Route 28 where he continued to reside throughout the balance of his lifetime.

West Hurley, then open farmlands, rapidly developed as a thriving community as many of his old neighbors forced from the homes in their native village, erected homes in the new village.

In 1913 Mr. Saxe formed a partnership with Levi E. DuMond in the store business at West Hurley, carrying on a general merchandise, feed and flour business under the name of DuMond and Saxe.

In 1915 Mr. Saxe bought out the interests of his partner and continued the business under his own name until October 1920,

59,313 Enrolled In County; Shows GOP Gains 4,891

A total of 59,313 voters are enrolled in Ulster County, an increase of 10,640 over last year, including 29,483 Republicans, 11,819 Democrats and 384 Liberals. Records of the Department of State show 17,627 persons did not fill out the enrollment form didn't turn in the completed form, or filled the form out incorrectly.

County Republicans showed an increase of 4,891 enrolled under the GOP, while Democrats showed an increase of 1,922 over last year's figures. Liberal Party enrollments increased 162 from 222 in last year to 384.

17,627 Undeclared

Blank, void or missing, including those who did not designate a party increased 3,665 over last year for a total of 17,627.

Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon today reported a total of 7,260,911 enrolled voters in New York State.

Enrolled voters in other counties in the 34th Senatorial District show the following totals:

Greene — 10,249 Republicans; 4,280 Democrats; 85 Liberals, 3,455 blank, void or missing, a total of 18,069.

Sullivan—12,113 Republicans; 10,227 Democrats; 254 Liberals; 3,005 blank, void or missing a total of 25,599.

Delaware — 16,228 Republicans; 5,324 Democrats; 48 Liberals; 606 blank, void or missing, a total of 22,206.

For Use in Primaries

The enrollment was taken in the fall of 1960 for use in 1961 primaries.

The Associated Press said the voter enrollment announced over the weekend prompted Republican and Democratic politicians to swap charges regarding the figures and Republican Gov. Rockefeller's record in office.

The charges were issued in statements in Albany and New York City and a speech in Rochester by Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a possible candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination next year.

A report by Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon that enrolled Democrats outnumber enrolled Republicans by 373,178 in the state set off partisan claims and counterclaims.

Weekend Storms Batter Midwest; 18 Persons Die

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A crippling spring snowstorm, sweeping out of the northern Plains with all the fury of a mid-winter blockbuster, staggered the Midwest today.

The heavy wet snow, whipped by strong winds, smothered spring with a blanket of white from the Dakotas across the north central region.

The storm, which started in some areas Saturday night, increased in intensity Sunday. As the storm moved eastward, there was some letup in snowfall, but strong winds continued, causing much drifting.

Fresh snow measured up to more than a foot and a half in northern Minnesota. Drifts piled up to 10 feet in some areas. Blowing snow cut visibility sharply.

At least 18 deaths were attributed to the stormy weather, mostly in traffic accidents on icy and snow-covered highways, with two of the deaths caused by heavy rains east of the snow belt.

The damaging storm, a climatic shocker for the fifth week in

Architect's Estimate $1,126,400 for College

The proposed Ulster County Community College building is estimated to cost $1,126,400 in a preliminary estimate prepared for the Community College Committee by Augustus R. Schrowang, architect of 41 Pearl Street.

Half the cost, or $563,200, will be borne by the state, according to education law regarding the financing of community colleges.

Plan Two-Stories

Preliminary plans call for a two-story structure 274 by 75 feet and a one-story addition 103 feet by 74 feet.

The main building would have five science laboratories and two general classrooms on the ground floor and 10 classrooms on the second floor.

The structure will be designed to house 480 students. The one-story addition would include a lobby, dining hall, kitchen, boiler room and all-purpose room.

The preliminary plans were prepared in accordance with a schedule submitted to the office of Schrowang by New York State University. The drawings and plans are subject to change when the local sponsor prepares an approved list of the subjects to be offered.

List Auxiliary Rooms

Incided in the plans for the building are two chemistry lavatories, balance and storage rooms; a biology lavatory, preparation and storage space; physics lavatory, preparation, storage and dark rooms; a library, conference room and storage space; an all-purpose room; eight staff offices; two teachers lavatories and two for students; two coat rooms; two storage rooms; a snack bar and storage space; a lobby and one dining room.

The administrative area will have 4 offices, conference room, vault, waiting room and storage room. The service area would contain a janitor's room, boiler room, electric vault and field storage.

The architect's preliminary plan calls for a building area of 46,800 square feet. General construction is estimated at $666,900; plumbing $70,200; electrical work $93,600, and heating and ventilating $105,300.

Site development is estimated at $50,000 and equipment and furniture at $140,400.

Cite Master Plan

The master plan, standards the State University trustees shall include provisions for financing the capital costs and operating costs of the proposed college. State financial aid shall be one-half of the amount of capital costs and one-third of the amount of operating costs.

The local sponsor shall provide one-half of the capital costs and one-third of the operating costs.

Where the local sponsor provides all or a portion of its share of capital or operating costs in real or personal property, or in services, the valuation of such property and services, for the purpose of determining the amount of state aid, shall be made by the State University trustees with the approval of the director of the budget.

The architect's fundamental estimate also includes comparison figures from Dutchess County Community College in Poughkeepsie.

Gives Comparison

Dutchess County College is a two-story remodeled hospital buildiing on a 58-acre site. The state estimated the value of the building at $500,000 with an additional $500,00 for alterations and $102,00 for furnishings, making the total cost $1,102,000. The current enrollment there is 650 day students and 850 evening pupils.

The survey showed that 25 per cent of the students are from

United States Is Not Intervening

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Invaders seeking to overthrow Fidel Castro landed in Cuba today by sea and air.

The Cuban prime minister, acknowledging the attack, said it was launched by mercenaries organized by the United States. He declared his troops are advancing against the invaders and are certain of victory. He called on Cubans to maintain order and discipline.

Castro told his people by radio that the invaders had landed at several points in southern Las Villas Province.

Cuban exile sources in the United States said forces also had gone ashore in extreme eastern and western Cuba and on a beach southeast of Havana.

The exiles declared "the battle to liberate our homeland" had been joined.

Castro's regime charged before the United Nations that the invaders were armed and financed by the United States.

Raul Roa, Cuban foreign minister, told the United Nations that the invaders came from Guatemala and Florida. The United States replied with an immediate denial.

U.S. Not to Intervene

Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared the American people sympathize with those fighting against dictatorship but the United States will not intervene. Rusk said his reports indicated there was no large-scale invasion.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia echoed Roa's charge of the use of Americans in the action. Izvestia declared the Communist world stands behind Prime Minister Castro, but it made no mention of Premier Khrushchev's pledge last summer, later toned down, to support Cuba with rockets if necessary.

Taxpayers Must File '61 Return Before Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP)—For three million Americans, tonight's midnight deadline for filing tax returns will mark only the start of their dealings with the Internal Revenue Service.

To discourage tax cheats, IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin wants to increase the number of returns which get a thorough test for accuracy.

The goal is to check, or audit, about 3 million of the estimated 61 million returns to be filed. In 1960 the number of audits was 2.8 million.

Caplin hopes for further increases in the years ahead. Whereas IRS now checks about one return in every 20, he wants to approach a one to 10 ratio.

The 1961 filing deadline was extended two days because the usual April 15 date fell on the weekend. IRS will accept any return postmarked by midnight tonight.

Caplin told a reporter he hopes all taxpayers will understand "there is nothing wrong with being audited."

"One whose conscience is clear has no cause for alarm. We are not implying that he is dishonest. It may be a mere random audit, or simply that some characteristic of his return suggests to our examiners a possibility of error which we think should be explored," Caplin said.

A taxpayer whose return is audited will be contacted by an IRS agent who will ask additional information—usually the production of records—to support items in the return.

After the examination, the agent may accept the return as filed or may even decide the taxpayer paid too much. However, if he disagrees with the taxpayers he may order an additional payment.

Caplin emphasized that a taxpayer may be represented at these sessions by a lawyer or an accountant. Also, he has avenues of appeal both within IRS and through the federal courts if he is unwilling to accept the agent's findings.

More Clerks Are Allowed Under Bill by Wilson

A bill introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Woodstock, relative to the number of deputy town clerks that may be appointed, has been signed by Governor Rockefeller and now becomes law.

In announcing the signing of the bill today, Assemblyman Wilson pointed out that previous to the new law the town clerk in each town could appoint not more than two deputies. The new law authorizes the town clerk of each town to appoint "not more than three deputies".

For Public Convenience

This bill will be benefical to the public at large, and in particular to the residents of the towns in the County of Ulster. A great many towns in New York state are comparatively large and in some towns the town clerk lives and has his office in a comparatively remote area. It therefore would be of particular convenience to the public at large if deputies were appointed at different locations in the town and were authorized to issue licenses such as hunting and fishing licenses. In this way, the public would not be compelled to travel long distances when seeking services of a town clerk.

Patrolman Kivlan Surprises Two In Station, One Dies of Bullet

One of two men surprised in a reported Sunday night burglary attempt at a North Front Street gas station died at Kingston Hospital in less than two hours after he was felled by Officer Joseph Kivlan.

Police said William Francis Ricketson, 21, of Route 28, just west of the Washington Avenue viaduct, was dropped by a shot fired by the officer only a few hundred feet from the Gulf Gas Station, 79 North Front Street, from which they ran.

Following Leads

Leads which could bring the early arrest of the man who escaped were pursued today by police. Kivlan said he ran through an alley near the building of Franz Rambler Sales, Inc., 112 North Front Street.

The officer reported firing warning shots as the two fled, and the one which dropped Ricketson, he said, had been aimed at his feet as he ran among parked cars near Fatum Brothers Chevron Station, 109 North Front Street.

The bullet, police said, entered the back on the lower left side, and Coroner Francis J. McCardle today reported death due to hemorrhage. The bullet, he said, entered the region of the fourth lumbar vertebra, lacerating the aorta.

Officer Fully Justified

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today said it was an "unfortunate end" to a police chase, but the officer was "fully justified in the performance of his duty and would be remiss in acting otherwise." Such action, he said, which is "the duty of all officers should serve notice to all that they are in for trouble if caught in committing a crime, and particularly so when they run away and fail to stop at the command of an officer."

Officer Kivlan, in his report for the record, said he was walking his uptown post making routine checks, when at about 10:10 p. m., he looked into the Gulf gas station operated by Henry J. Werber and noticed someone inside.

Told to 'Come Out'

Through a front window, he said, he saw "a man in a crouched position in front of a soda machine." The machine, he noticed, had been opened. He drew his pistol, rapped on a window and told them to come out the door.

The person he saw, the officer said, ran toward the rear of the building into another room. Then Kivlan moved along the east side of the building so that he might observe its front and rear. Moving toward the rear he heard a noise in the front and as he headed again toward the front he saw "two men run out of the front door."

Failed to Halt

Kivlan said he yelled, "Halt!" and when they continued he fired a warning shot. They continued down North Front Street, toward Converse Street, he said, and "one man ran into an alley next to the Franz Rambler building, and the other ran into an alley near Fatum's station."

Again, the officer said, he yelled "Halt," and "fired another warning shot into the air." He pursued the one near the Fatum station, chasing him past several parked cars, again yelled, "Halt!" and "fired my gun low to stop him."

As the running man passed parked cars Kivlan noted, he also passed Henry Filiatrault, Converse Street garageman, "who came out in the yard, and then went back in his garage and turned on flood lights."

Officer Gives Help

Kivlan said the low shot he fired "struck the man and he fell to the ground." Then he told Filiatrault to telephone police headquarters and an ambulance. The officer said he then went over to the man "to see if

The proposed Ulster County Community College building is estimated to cost $1,126,400 in a preliminary estimate prepared for the Community College Committee by Augustus R. Schrowang, architect of 41 Pearl Street.

Half the cost, or $563,200, will be borne by the state, according to education law regarding the financing of community colleges.

Plan Two-Stories

Preliminary plans call for a two-story structure 274 by 75 feet and a one-story addition 103 feet by 74 feet.

The main building would have five science laboratories and two general classrooms on the ground floor and 10 classrooms on the second floor.

The structure will be designed to house 480 students. The one-story addition would include a lobby, dining hall, kitchen, boiler room and all-purpose room.

The preliminary plans were prepared in accordance with a schedule submitted to the office of Schrowang by New York State University. The drawings and plans are subject to change when the local sponsor prepares an approved list of the subjects to be offered.

List Auxiliary Rooms

Incided in the plans for the building are two chemistry lavatories, balance and storage rooms; a biology lavatory, preparation and storage space; physics lavatory, preparation, storage and dark rooms; a library, conference room and storage space; an all-purpose room; eight staff offices; two teachers lavatories and two for students; two coat rooms; two storage rooms; a snack bar and storage space; a lobby and one dining room.

The administrative area will have 4 offices, conference room, vault, waiting room and storage room. The service area would contain a janitor's room, boiler room, electric vault and field storage.

The architect's preliminary plan calls for a building area of 46,800 square feet. General construction is estimated at $666,900; plumbing $70,200; electrical work $93,600, and heating and ventilating $105,300.

Site development is estimated at $50,000 and equipment and furniture at $140,400.

Cite Master Plan

The master plan, standards the State University trustees shall include provisions for financing the capital costs and operating costs of the proposed college. State financial aid shall be one-half of the amount of capital costs and one-third of the amount of operating costs.

The local sponsor shall provide one-half of the capital costs and one-third of the operating costs.

Where the local sponsor provides all or a portion of its share of capital or operating costs in real or personal property, or in services, the valuation of such property and services, for the purpose of determining the amount of state aid, shall be made by the State University trustees with the approval of the director of the budget.

The architect's fundamental estimate also includes comparison figures from Dutchess County Community College in Poughkeepsie.

Gives Comparison

Dutchess County College is a two-story remodeled hospital buildiing on a 58-acre site. The state estimated the value of the building at $500,000 with an additional $500,00 for alterations and $102,00 for furnishings, making the total cost $1,102,000. The current enrollment there is 650 day students and 850 evening pupils.

The survey showed that 25 per cent of the students are from

Patrolman Kivlan Surprises Two In Station, One Dies of Bullet

One of two men surprised in a reported Sunday night burglary attempt at a North Front Street gas station died at Kingston Hospital in less than two hours after he was felled by Officer Joseph Kivlan.

Police said William Francis Ricketson, 21, of Route 28, just west of the Washington Avenue viaduct, was dropped by a shot fired by the officer only a few hundred feet from the Gulf Gas Station, 79 North Front Street, from which they ran.

Following Leads

Leads which could bring the early arrest of the man who escaped were pursued today by police. Kivlan said he ran through an alley near the building of Franz Rambler Sales, Inc., 112 North Front Street.

The officer reported firing warning shots as the two fled, and the one which dropped Ricketson, he said, had been aimed at his feet as he ran among parked cars near Fatum Brothers Chevron Station, 109 North Front Street.

The bullet, police said, entered the back on the lower left side, and Coroner Francis J. McCardle today reported death due to hemorrhage. The bullet, he said, entered the region of the fourth lumbar vertebra, lacerating the aorta.

Officer Fully Justified

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today said it was an "unfortunate end" to a police chase, but the officer was "fully justified in the performance of his duty and would be remiss in acting otherwise." Such action, he said, which is "the duty of all officers should serve notice to all that they are in for trouble if caught in committing a crime, and particularly so when they run away and fail to stop at the command of an officer."

Officer Kivlan, in his report for the record, said he was walking his uptown post making routine checks, when at about 10:10 p. m., he looked into the Gulf gas station operated by Henry J. Werber and noticed someone inside.

Told to 'Come Out'

Through a front window, he said, he saw "a man in a crouched position in front of a soda machine." The machine, he noticed, had been opened. He drew his pistol, rapped on a window and told them to come out the door.

The person he saw, the officer said, ran toward the rear of the building into another room. Then Kivlan moved along the east side of the building so that he might observe its front and rear. Moving toward the rear he heard a noise in the front and as he headed again toward the front he saw "two men run out of the front door."

Failed to Halt

Kivlan said he yelled, "Halt!" and when they continued he fired a warning shot. They continued down North Front Street, toward Converse Street, he said, and "one man ran into an alley next to the Franz Rambler building, and the other ran into an alley near Fatum's station."

Again, the officer said, he yelled "Halt," and "fired another warning shot into the air." He pursued the one near the Fatum station, chasing him past several parked cars, again yelled, "Halt!" and "fired my gun low to stop him."

As the running man passed parked cars Kivlan noted, he also passed Henry Filiatrault, Converse Street garageman, "who came out in the yard, and then went back in his garage and turned on flood lights."

Officer Gives Help

Kivlan said the low shot he fired "struck the man and he fell to the ground." Then he told Filiatrault to telephone police headquarters and an ambulance. The officer said he then went over to the man "to see if

Landings Are Made On Coasts

United States Is Not Intervening

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Invaders seeking to overthrow Fidel Castro landed in Cuba today by sea and air.

The Cuban prime minister, acknowledging the attack, said it was launched by mercenaries organized by the United States. He declared his troops are advancing against the invaders and are certain of victory. He called on Cubans to maintain order and discipline.

Castro told his people by radio that the invaders had landed at several points in southern Las Villas Province.

Cuban exile sources in the United States said forces also had gone ashore in extreme eastern and western Cuba and on a beach southeast of Havana.

The exiles declared "the battle to liberate our homeland" had been joined.

Castro's regime charged before the United Nations that the invaders were armed and financed by the United States.

Raul Roa, Cuban foreign minister, told the United Nations that the invaders came from Guatemala and Florida. The United States replied with an immediate denial.

U.S. Not to Intervene

Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared the American people sympathize with those fighting against dictatorship but the United States will not intervene. Rusk said his reports indicated there was no large-scale invasion.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia echoed Roa's charge of the use of Americans in the action. Izvestia declared the Communist world stands behind Prime Minister Castro, but it made no mention of Premier Khrushchev's pledge last summer, later toned down, to support Cuba with rockets if necessary.

Taxpayers Must File '61 Return Before Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP)—For three million Americans, tonight's midnight deadline for filing tax returns will mark only the start of their dealings with the Internal Revenue Service.

To discourage tax cheats, IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin wants to increase the number of returns which get a thorough test for accuracy.

The goal is to check, or audit, about 3 million of the estimated 61 million returns to be filed. In 1960 the number of audits was 2.8 million.

Caplin hopes for further increases in the years ahead. Whereas IRS now checks about one return in every 20, he wants to approach a one to 10 ratio.

The 1961 filing deadline was extended two days because the usual April 15 date fell on the weekend. IRS will accept any return postmarked by midnight tonight.

Caplin told a reporter he hopes all taxpayers will understand "there is nothing wrong with being audited."

"One whose conscience is clear has no cause for alarm. We are not implying that he is dishonest. It may be a mere random audit, or simply that some characteristic of his return suggests to our examiners a possibility of error which we think should be explored," Caplin said.

A taxpayer whose return is audited will be contacted by an IRS agent who will ask additional information—usually the production of records—to support items in the return.

After the examination, the agent may accept the return as filed or may even decide the taxpayer paid too much. However, if he disagrees with the taxpayers he may order an additional payment.

Caplin emphasized that a taxpayer may be represented at these sessions by a lawyer or an accountant. Also, he has avenues of appeal both within IRS and through the federal courts if he is unwilling to accept the agent's findings.

Two Face Charges After 2 Weekend Traffic Mishaps

Two drivers were booked on charges after two of four weekend traffic mishaps in which only two persons were reported injured, and one accident involved a police patrol car.

Henry Klercker, 32, of Shokan, whose car, police said, crashed into a Washington Avenue viaduct post Saturday night was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident. Attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe appeared for him in city court today and the case was put over to April 26. He is under $200 bail.

Police were notified late Saturday night that a car had hit the viaduct post on the city side and continued on without stopping. This was followed by a report that a car had been seen going into the parking area of The Barn, Route 28, where its lights were doused.

Grover Teague, 46, of Overlook Drive, Woodstock, listed as driver of a car involved in the mishap with the police car, was booked for alleged failure to signal and yield right-of-way.

The collision was on Albany Avenue near the Empire Market parking lot. The patrol car was driven by Officer Anthony Turck, who reported knee and back injuries. Officer George Deyo rode with him.

The police car was damaged on its right front and the other car on the left rear fender and door. The patrol car was on a downtown call.

Teague is due for city court hearing April 24.

A Saturday afternoon report said Joseph Cantwell, 6, of 163 Hunter Street, suffered a fracture of the right leg, when he was struck by an eight-year-old boy on a bicycle while crossing Hunter Street. He was taken to the Benedictine Hospital.

A car which struck a pole on Albany Avenue near Tremper Avenue Sunday night was towed from the scene, but its driver reported no injuries. Officer Ernest Bartroff said Robert C. King, 25, of 67 Elmendorf Street, reported being "blinded by oncoming lights, pulled to the right and hit the pole."

point was that his party's largest gains were in suburban and Upstate counties once considered GOP strongholds.

Republican Chairman L. Judson Morhouse noted, in a statement, that the state had a Republican governor and lieutenant governor, a Republican attorney general, two Republicans in the Senate and Republican majorities in both houses of the Legislature.

The report showed 3,767,317 persons enrolled as Democrats, 3,394,139 as Republicans and 99,455 as Liberals, are eligible to vote in the primary election next Sept. 7. In addition, 32,000 enrollment forms were void and 620,350 persons who voted last Nov. 8 did not enroll in any party.

The enrollments were taken at the general election but are a separate function from voting.

Attacks GOP Record

Levitt, the leading Democratic gubernatorial opponent for Rockefeller at the moment, discarded his prepared text Sunday to attack Rockefeller's record during the past three years.

In the prepared text, however, Levitt said warring factions within the party were weakening its chances of beating Rockefeller.

Prendergast also announced a program aimed at marshalling public support in the state behind President Kennedy's congressional programs.

He charged that the Republican party in the state and Republican Congressmen from New York were "determining their policy by what is best for the special interest rather than what is best for the general welfare."

Geckos are the only lizards known to have voices; they can emit a faint squeak.

Prendergast Hits Blue Cross Probe

NEW YORK (AP)--Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast accused Gov. Rockefeller today of scuttling a thorough investigation of Blue Cross in New York State.

Prendergast said in a statement:

"The plan is not fulfilling its avowed purpose of seeking that adequate medical service is available at reasonable cost to patients of modest and low income.

Prendergast said the Republican governor showed no reluctance to aid "special interests" during the recent session of the GOP - controlled Legislature, but was silent when the Legislature shelved an investigation of Blue Cross.

Man Is Accused In Wife's Death

COCHOCTON, N. Y. (AP) — A tavern owner beat his wife to death with a high-heeled shoe Sunday, police said, then drove 16 miles to turn himself into authorities.

On the way, he picked up the mother of an employe and dropped her at church without mentioning the slaying to her, authorities said.

Ervin Smith, 59, was charged with first - degree manslaughter. Steuben County sheriff's deputies said he walked into their office at Bath and announced that he had killed his wife, Leola, 39.

They quoted Smith as saying he and his wife began arguing violently in their upstairs apartment above his grill. Smith told deputies they began choking each other and when his wife fell to the floor he beat her with one of her shoes, police said.

Smith was granted a three-day delay when arraigned before Peace Justice Herbert Johnson to decide if he will ask a preliminary hearing. He was released in $8,000 bail.

Group Opposes New Import Restriction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of U. S. industrialists has opposed moves to place new restrictions on textiles imported by the United States.

The group, joined in the "Committed for a National Trade Policy," made public a memorandum Sunday on what it said was "the new offensive mounted by the U.S. textile industry." The memorandum has been forwarded to President Kennedy.

The directors of the committee are 28 executives from U.S. manufacturing and importing firms.

"It is out judgment," the memorandum said, "that the injurious effect of textile imports has been exaggerated."

spring, had widespread effects. Record snowfalls for the date were reported in many areas. Freezing weather added to the discomfort. Wind gusts were clocked up to 50 m.p.h.

Thousands of cars and motorists were stranded. Major and arterial roads were blocked. Snowplow crews were frustrated by the blowing snow.

Schools in many areas were closed, scores of them in Minnesota and Illinois. Travel by bus, plane and train slowed. Motorists in many cities were urged not to drive unless necessary. Driving conditions were extremely hazardous in central and northern parts of the Great Lakes region and sections of the Ohio Valley. Traffic accidents were far in excess of normal.

Increase in Income

The increase over February was $3.4 billion, the Commerce Department reported Sunday. That is, the annual rate of personal income jumped from $406.2 billion to $409.6 billion.

The report showed the wage and salary payments increased by $1.1 billion to $272.1 billion, the first advance in this category since last July.

Elderly Woman Killed in Crash West of Highland

An elderly New Paltz woman was killed Saturday night, and four persons hospitalized, in a two-car collision at Route 299 and South Elting Road, Town of Lloyd.

Mrs. Mabel M. Schneider, 80 of Plutarch Road, well-known throughout the New Paltz area for her weekly column, "Up in the Woods," which appeared in the New Paltz Independent, lost her life in the collision which occurred near Elting Corners five miles west of Highland.

Highland state police reported that Mrs. Schneider was riding in a 1960 sedan operated by her daughter, Mrs. Marion Brown, 41, of Wallkill, which was in collision with a 1955 sedan driven by Peter Capone, 64, of 6 Grove Street, New Paltz, a custodian at the State University College of Education, New Paltz.

Four Hospitalized

Troopers P. M. Luongo, James Kaljian and Edward Whalen reported that Mrs. Brown, Howard Murray, 62, a passenger in the Brown car, Capone and his wife, Beatrice, 56, a Hudson River State Hospital employe, were hospitalized.

Mrs. Capone was reported in fair condition today, the other three as satisfactory. All were taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Murray suffered chest injuries and possible internal injuries and was, first, reported in poor condition.

Mrs. Brown suffered a possible fractured hip and injuries to the right side of her chest. Capone suffered rib injuries, a possible spine injury and lacerations of the scalp, and his wife received injured ribs, a back injury and lacerations of the jaw.

Investigation Continues

The accident, which occurred at 6:15 p. m., is still under investigation.

Mrs. Brown was traveling north on South Elting Road, which crosses Route 299. Capone was proceeding west on Route 299 in the direction of New Paltz.

The injured persons were removed to the hospital by Vassar ambulance and the New Paltz Fire Department ambulance.

Driver Sought After Accident

A car reported stolen early Saturday evening was in an accident at the Route 28 traffic circle just outside Kingston later that night but the occupant of the vehicle fled before state police reached the scene.

The car, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Herdman of Vincent Street, town of Ulster, was reportedly taken from Central Broadway shortly after 9 p. m.

A few minutes later a driver proceeding into Kingston reported to the Ulster County sheriff's office that a car had passed him on the Route 28 traffic circle proceeding at a high rate of speed, failed to negotiate the curve and went off the side of the road into a ditch.

The unidentifled driver leaped from the vehicle and fled the scene, it was reported.

Rocky Has Until Midnight April 24 on 693 Measures

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller entered the final week of his annual bill-signing period today with a mountain of work still ahead of him.

By today, his office had announced action on 601 of the 1,294 measures passed by the 1961 Legislature by the time it adjourned March 25.

The governor has until midnight next Monday to complete his bill-signing chore.

He has acted on most of the major bills, such as higher education, relief for commuter railroads and medical care for the aged.

Today, he announced the following action:

Speed Limits — He signed a measure, effective Oct. 1, that authorizes the State Traffic Commission to set speed limits on those portions of state highways passing through cities and villages. The local limits now apply. Sponsors of the bill said it would allow "realistic" limits. The law will not apply to New York City.

Ambulances — Rockefeller vetoed a bill that would have authorized the State Health Department to regulate and inspect ambulances.

Marriage Licenses—He also vetoed a bill that would have required the clergyman or official performing a marriage ceremony to issue a duplicate of the certificate of marriage to the couple he had married. The governor said the bill did not specify what the legal status of the duplicate would be.

Over the weekend, he said he had signed the following bills:

Consumers —Contracts executed after Oct. 1 for maintenance, repair or other services cannot become renewed automatically unless the person receiving the service is notified the contract is about to become renewed. The person thus is afforded an opportunity to cancel if he wishes.

Another bill provides that all property - improvement contracts executed after Sept. 30 involving a promissory note must bear this warning: "Do not sign this note until the work is fully completed."

Snow-removal—Counties, cities, towns and villages may issue five-year notes to raise money to meet the cost of removing the extremely heavy snowfall of last winter.

Under present law, the municipalities would have to pay off the entire cost with one annual tax collection, placing a heavy burden on taxpayers. Under five-year bonds, the cost could be spread over three annual tax collections.

the shot had struck him, and how badly he was hurt."

The man said his back hurt, and Kivlan said as they awaited the ambulance and patrol car he helped him "in any way I could." He was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance.

Chief Murphy and all detectives were notified and several officers were dispatched to the area.

Was Arrested for Assault

Local police records show that Rickertson was arrested earlier this year on a third degree assault charge. He was given a suspended sentence of 30 days and placed on probation for a period not to exceed three years.

Funeral services will be held at the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs Street, Wednesday 2 p. m. where the Rev. Roy Allan Hassel, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Rosendale Plains Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

outside of Dutchess County with 80 per cent of that figure from Ulster County.

Saturday's Freeman announced the last of three site donations accepted by the Community College Committee for submission to the State Educational Department.

Facts and figures on the three sites are being prepared in brochure form. They will be forwarded to the State Education Department who will recommend the site best suited for the college and the one which will be assessed favorably to insure the largest amount of state aid.

50 Acres Donated

The donation of a 50-acre site, the southwest portion of the 700-acre Winston Farm near the Saugerties Thruway interchange, purchased March 8 by Ferdinand Schaller of Closter, N. J. was confirmed today in a letter received by the clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Albert S. Holmes, attorney for Schaller, widely-known sausage maker, confirmed the offer in the letter, and in addition offered a 60-foot wide roadway from Route 32 to the site. The water lines would come from Route 212, the letter said.

The Saugerties land offer was made Thursday during negotiations in the Town Hall offices of Supervisor Peter M. Williams (R) of Saugerties, after several weeks of discussions. Schaller, his attorney, several county officials and high-ranking Republican leaders attended the session, it was reported.

The Winston property was prominently mentioned as the site most favorable this past summer following a survey of three sites made by the Community College Committee of Ulster County Board of Supervisors and State University College officials.

Other Sites Named

The other two sites under consideration include a tract offered as a gift from International Business Machines Corp., Kingston in the Flatbush area near Whittier housing development, and a site on Linderman Avenue, Kingston, which involves the purchase of a portion of the land.

At the Thursday night Board of Supervisor's meeting Supervisor Roy Webber (R) of Marbletown, chairman of the college committee, requested a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors prior to the regular May meeting to discuss the proposed college.

Cuba Invaded

Cuban airports were closed.

Telephone and telegraph communications with Cuba were cut off early today, shortly after a Cuban army officer confirmed one landing on the south coast.

The Cuban government radio was heard summoning all people's militia units to report at once to their stations.

One source representing Cuban exiles in the United States said Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, the rebel leader who broke with Castro over Communist influence in Cuba, was heading for Cuba. But his public relations chief in New York said he had not reached there.

South Coast Landing

One landing on the south coast was confirmed by a Cuban officer before the island nation, 90 miles off the U.S. shore, cut communications.

The officer said a force of unknown size had landed at Playa Larga, about 100 miles southeast of Havana, and fighting had broken out. Near Playa Larga is an air strip and the naval station at Cienfuegos. Loyalty of the forces at Cienfuegos to Castro always has been questionable.

Rebel sources in the United States said some military units had joined the invaders, possibly from the naval station, where defections from Castro's ranks have been reported in recent weeks.

Cuban sources in Washington said another force landed unopposed at Baracoa, in Oriente Province. Baracoa, at the eastern end of Cuba, controls a road leading toward the U.S. naval base at said Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, may already be in the invaders' hands. U.S. Navy officers said there had been no special alert at Guantanamo naval base.

Third Force in Action

The third force was said to have hit the beaches at Cabanas, in Pinar del Rio Province in the western extremity of the island.

Cabanas, a minor port of about 2,000 population, is only 38 miles southwest of Havana.

One exile leader in Washington said anti-Castro forces were shelling the Isle of Pines, off the south coast where a few Americans and several thousand Cubans are held as political prisoners. He asserted Cuban broadcasts said the island was under attack by five ships.

A rebel source in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said the landing forces had been waiting off the coasts of Cuba for 15 days. The informant, Rafael Garcia Navarro, predicted 5,000 exile soldiers will be in battle before the day is over.

Announces Battle

A statement by Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, was issued in New York announcing the battle of liberation had begun. But council members in Washington said the statement had been prepared in advance ,and that Miro Cardona actually left New York Sunday.

"Everything looks fine," said a council spokesman in Washington. "This is the beginning of the end."

The exiles said there were unconfirmed reports of street fighting in Havana but last press reports direct from Havana said the capital was quiet.

Castro's militia of workers and peasants had been on an invasion alert since defecting Cuban pilots bombed and strafed three targets in Cuba Saturday.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the U.S. government is sympathetic to the anti-Castro effort but will follow a strict hands-off policy.

Two Face Charges After 2 Weekend Traffic Mishaps

Two drivers were booked on charges after two of four weekend traffic mishaps in which only two persons were reported injured, and one accident involved a police patrol car.

Henry Klercker, 32, of Shokan, whose car, police said, crashed into a Washington Avenue viaduct post Saturday night was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident. Attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe appeared for him in city court today and the case was put over to April 26. He is under $200 bail.

Police were notified late Saturday night that a car had hit the viaduct post on the city side and continued on without stopping. This was followed by a report that a car had been seen going into the parking area of The Barn, Route 28, where its lights were doused.

Grover Teague, 46, of Overlook Drive, Woodstock, listed as driver of a car involved in the mishap with the police car, was booked for alleged failure to signal and yield right-of-way.

The collision was on Albany Avenue near the Empire Market parking lot. The patrol car was driven by Officer Anthony Turck, who reported knee and back injuries. Officer George Deyo rode with him.

The police car was damaged on its right front and the other car on the left rear fender and door. The patrol car was on a downtown call.

Teague is due for city court hearing April 24.

A Saturday afternoon report said Joseph Cantwell, 6, of 163 Hunter Street, suffered a fracture of the right leg, when he was struck by an eight-year-old boy on a bicycle while crossing Hunter Street. He was taken to the Benedictine Hospital.

A car which struck a pole on Albany Avenue near Tremper Avenue Sunday night was towed from the scene, but its driver reported no injuries. Officer Ernest Bartroff said Robert C. King, 25, of 67 Elmendorf Street, reported being "blinded by oncoming lights, pulled to the right and hit the pole."

59,313 Enrolled

point was that his party's largest gains were in suburban and Upstate counties once considered GOP strongholds.

Republican Chairman L. Judson Morhouse noted, in a statement, that the state had a Republican governor and lieutenant governor, a Republican attorney general, two Republicans in the Senate and Republican majorities in both houses of the Legislature.

The report showed 3,767,317 persons enrolled as Democrats, 3,394,139 as Republicans and 99,455 as Liberals, are eligible to vote in the primary election next Sept. 7. In addition, 32,000 enrollment forms were void and 620,350 persons who voted last Nov. 8 did not enroll in any party.

The enrollments were taken at the general election but are a separate function from voting.

Attacks GOP Record

Levitt, the leading Democratic gubernatorial opponent for Rockefeller at the moment, discarded his prepared text Sunday to attack Rockefeller's record during the past three years.

In the prepared text, however, Levitt said warring factions within the party were weakening its chances of beating Rockefeller.

Prendergast also announced a program aimed at marshalling public support in the state behind President Kennedy's congressional programs.

He charged that the Republican party in the state and Republican Congressmen from New York were "determining their policy by what is best for the special interest rather than what is best for the general welfare."

Geckos are the only lizards known to have voices; they can emit a faint squeak.

Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo discovered Santa Catalina Island, off California's coast, in 1542.

Prendergast Hits Blue Cross Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast accused Gov. Rockefeller today of scuttling a thorough investigation of Blue Cross in New York State.

Prendergast said in a statement:

"The plan is not fulfilling its avowed purpose of seeking that adequate medical service is available at reasonable cost to patients of modest and low income.

Prendergast said the Republican governor showed no reluctance to aid "special interests" during the recent session of the GOP - controlled Legislature, but was silent when the Legislature shelved an investigation of Blue Cross.

Man Is Accused In Wife's Death

COCHOCTON, N. Y. (AP) — A tavern owner beat his wife to death with a high-heeled shoe Sunday, police said, then drove 16 miles to turn himself into authorities.

On the way, he picked up the mother of an employe and dropped her at church without mentioning the slaying to her, authorities said.

Ervin Smith, 59, was charged with first - degree manslaughter. Steuben County sheriff's deputies said he walked into their office at Bath and announced that he had killed his wife, Leola, 39.

They quoted Smith as saying he and his wife began arguing violently in their upstairs apartment above his grill. Smith told deputies they began choking each other and when his wife fell to the floor he beat her with one of her shoes, police said.

Smith was granted a three-day delay when arraigned before Peace Justice Herbert Johnson to decide if he will ask a preliminary hearing. He was released in $8,000 bail.

Group Opposes New Import Restriction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of U. S. industrialists has opposed moves to place new restrictions on textiles imported by the United States.

The group, joined in the "Committed for a National Trade Policy," made public a memorandum Sunday on what it said was "the new offensive mounted by the U.S. textile industry." The memorandum has been forwarded to President Kennedy.

The directors of the committee are 28 executives from U.S. manufacturing and importing firms.

"It is out judgment," the memorandum said, "that the injurious effect of textile imports has been exaggerated."

Weekend Storms

spring, had widespread effects. Record snowfalls for the date were reported in many areas. Freezing weather added to the discomfort. Wind gusts were clocked up to 50 m.p.h.

Thousands of cars and motorists were stranded. Major and arterial roads were blocked. Snowplow crews were frustrated by the blowing snow.

Schools in many areas were closed, scores of them in Minnesota and Illinois. Travel by bus, plane and train slowed. Motorists in many cities were urged not to drive unless necessary. Driving conditions were extremely hazardous in central and northern parts of the Great Lakes region and sections of the Ohio Valley. Traffic accidents were far in excess of normal.

A car reported stolen early Saturday evening was in an accident at the Route 28 traffic circle just outside Kingston later that night but the occupant of the vehicle fled before state police reached the scene.

The car, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Herdman of Vincent Street, town of Ulster, was reportedly taken from Central Broadway shortly after 9 p. m.

A few minutes later a driver proceeding into Kingston reported to the Ulster County sheriff's office that a car had passed him on the Route 28 traffic circle proceeding at a high rate of speed, failed to negotiate the curve and went off the side of the road into a ditch.

Rocky Has Until Midnight April 24 on 693 Measures

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller entered the final week of his annual bill-signing period today with a mountain of work still ahead of him.

By today, his office had announced action on 601 of the 1,294 measures passed by the 1961 Legislature by the time it adjourned March 25.

The governor has until midnight next Monday to complete his bill-signing chore.

He has acted on most of the major bills, such as higher education, relief for commuter railroads and medical care for the aged.

Today, he announced the following action:

Speed Limits — He signed a measure, effective Oct. 1, that authorizes the State Traffic Commission to set speed limits on those portions of state highways passing through cities and villages. The local limits now apply. Sponsors of the bill said it would allow "realistic" limits. The law will not apply to New York City.

Ambulances — Rockefeller vetoed a bill that would have authorized the State Health Department to regulate and inspect ambulances.

Marriage Licenses—He also vetoed a bill that would have required the clergyman or official performing a marriage ceremony to issue a duplicate of the certificate of marriage to the couple he had married. The governor said the bill did not specify what the legal status of the duplicate would be.

Over the weekend, he said he had signed the following bills:

Consumers —Contracts executed after Oct. 1 for maintenance, repair or other services cannot become renewed automatically unless the person receiving the service is notified the contract is about to become renewed. The person thus is afforded an opportunity to cancel if he wishes.

Another bill provides that all property - improvement contracts executed after Sept. 30 involving a promissory note must bear this warning: "Do not sign this note until the work is fully completed."

Snow-removal—Counties, cities, towns and villages may issue five-year notes to raise money to meet the cost of removing the extremely heavy snowfall of last winter.

Under present law, the municipalities would have to pay off the entire cost with one annual tax collection, placing a heavy burden on taxpayers. Under five-year bonds, the cost could be spread over three annual tax collections.

the shot had struck him, and how badly he was hurt."

The man said his back hurt, and Kivlan said as they awaited the ambulance and patrol car he helped him "in any way I could." He was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance.

Chief Murphy and all detectives were notified and several officers were dispatched to the area.

Was Arrested for Assault

Local police records show that Rickertson was arrested earlier this year on a third degree assault charge. He was given a suspended sentence of 30 days and placed on probation for a period not to exceed three years.

Funeral services will be held at the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs Street, Wednesday 2 p. m. where the Rev. Roy Allan Hassel, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Rosendale Plains Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

eH was born in Kingston, July 22, 1939. He is survived by his parents, Bennett and Hester Stokes Ricketson; two sisters Mrs. Edward Sickler of Kingston and Mrs. Anthony Vasi of Glenerie Lake; two brothers, Carl and Thomas Ricketson, both of Kingston. Architect's outside of Dutchess County with 80 per cent of that figure from Ulster County.

Saturday's Freeman announced the last of three site donations accepted by the Community College Committee for submission to the State Educational Department.

Facts and figures on the three sites are being prepared in brochure form. They will be forwarded to the State Education Department who will recommend the site best suited for the college and the one which will be assessed favorably to insure the largest amount of state aid.

50 Acres Donated

The donation of a 50-acre site, the southwest portion of the 700-acre Winston Farm near the Saugerties Thruway interchange, purchased March 8 by Ferdinand Schaller of Closter, N. J. was confirmed today in a letter received by the clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Albert S. Holmes, attorney for Schaller, widely-known sausage maker, confirmed the offer in the letter, and in addition offered a 60-foot wide roadway from Route 32 to the site. The water lines would come from Route 212, the letter said.

The Saugerties land offer was made Thursday during negotiations in the Town Hall offices of Supervisor Peter M. Williams (R) of Saugerties, after several weeks of discussions. Schaller, his attorney, several county officials and high-ranking Republican leaders attended the session, it was reported.

The Winston property was prominently mentioned as the site most favorable this past summer following a survey of three sites made by the Community College Committee of Ulster County Board of Supervisors and State University College officials.

Other Sites Named

The other two sites under consideration include a tract offered as a gift from International Business Machines Corp., Kingston in the Flatbush area near Whittier housing development, and a site on Linderman Avenue, Kingston, which involves the purchase of a portion of the land.

At the Thursday night Board of Supervisor's meeting Supervisor Roy Webber (R) of Marbletown, chairman of the college committee, requested a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors prior to the regular May meeting to discuss the proposed college.

Cuba Invaded

Cuban airports were closed.

Telephone and telegraph communications with Cuba were cut off early today, shortly after a Cuban army officer confirmed one landing on the south coast.

The Cuban government radio was heard summoning all people's militia units to report at once to their stations.

One source representing Cuban exiles in the United States said Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, the rebel leader who broke with Castro over Communist influence in Cuba, was heading for Cuba. But his public relations chief in New York said he had not reached there.

South Coast Landing

One landing on the south coast was confirmed by a Cuban officer before the island nation, 90 miles off the U.S. shore, cut communications.

The officer said a force of unknown size had landed at Playa Larga, about 100 miles southeast of Havana, and fighting had broken out. Near Playa Larga is an air strip and the naval station at Cienfuegos. Loyalty of the forces at Cienfuegos to Castro always has been questionable.

Rebel sources in the United States said some military units had joined the invaders, possibly from the naval station, where defections from Castro's ranks have been reported in recent weeks.

Cuban sources in Washington said another force landed unopposed at Baracoa, in Oriente Province. Baracoa, at the eastern end of Cuba, controls a road leading toward the U.S. naval base at said Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, may already be in the invaders' hands. U.S. Navy officers said there had been no special alert at Guantanamo naval base.

Third Force in Action

The third force was said to have hit the beaches at Cabanas, in Pinar del Rio Province in the western extremity of the island.

Cabanas, a minor port of about 2,000 population, is only 38 miles southwest of Havana.

One exile leader in Washington said anti-Castro forces were shelling the Isle of Pines, off the south coast where a few Americans and several thousand Cubans are held as political prisoners. He asserted Cuban broadcasts said the island was under attack by five ships.

A rebel source in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said the landing forces had been waiting off the coasts of Cuba for 15 days. The informant, Rafael Garcia Navarro, predicted 5,000 exile soldiers will be in battle before the day is over.

Announces Battle

A statement by Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, was issued in New York announcing the battle of liberation had begun. But council members in Washington said the statement had been prepared in advance ,and that Miro Cardona actually left New York Sunday.

"Everything looks fine," said a council spokesman in Washington. "This is the beginning of the end."

The exiles said there were unconfirmed reports of street fighting in Havana but last press reports direct from Havana said the capital was quiet.

Castro's militia of workers and peasants had been on an invasion alert since defecting Cuban pilots bombed and strafed three targets in Cuba Saturday.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the U.S. government is sympathetic to the anti-Castro effort but will follow a strict hands-off policy.

GET THE RIGHT DOCTOR

When Messrs. Kennedy, Goldberg and their college professors say we are in a recession, half of us at least not only believe them, but also that they have a patented medicine to cure it.

But when conservative leaders tell us that we have been moving toward collapse for many years, they are dismissed with the words: "They live in the past, dead but unburied."

E. F. Hutton

Congressman Passman has recently put out some documented information that both sides should consider.

During the eight Eisenhower years, the Federal Government collected in taxes $53,701,710,417 more than all the Presidents before him collected, — from George Washington through Harry Truman. More in eight years than the entire previous 164 years!

Senator Byrd of Virginia, in a recent address, on the Manion Forum, said that our total debt, Federal, State, local, and private, is $1,000,000,000,000 — a trillion dollars.

He continues: "The value of the dollar is 46½c on the 1939 index. It will drop further. We have run deficits for 24 of the last 30 years. Our gold supply is at the lowest level in 20 years.

"The more Government is centralized, the more easily it is influenced by the pressure groups. The political target is brought nearer."

But Messrs. Kennedy, Goldberg and their professors prepare to spend more, go deeper into debt and move the target closer to the pressure groups.

You have two sets of doctors to choose from. And they are all Democrats!

Four Universities Are Joining Program to Improve Training

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A six-year, $1,844,200 cooperative program for improving the training of school teachers and administrators is being undertaken by four Upstate universities.

The universities, Rochester, Buffalo, Syracuse and Cornell, said Sunday they believed it was the first time in the history of American higher education that a sustained, cooperative program to conduct and evaluate teacher-education and training of administrators had been attempted.

The Ford Foundation has granted the schools $1,844,200 to finance the first six years of the project. Then, the universities and cooperative school systems are to continue the program on a self-supporting basis.

The grant was one of several the foundation made Sunday.

State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said the teacher and administrator training project "adds a whole new potential to the strength of higher education in New York State and points the way for similar cooperative efforts here and throughout the world."

The schools of education at the four universities will carry out the program. Students selected by each university will participate during their third, fourth and fifth years of study. A total of 120 will be enrolled each year.

Instead of formal courses, the 120 will have tutorial and honors work, special studies in education and do independent study.

Under a second part of the project, 24 graduates studying for doctorates in educational administraton will serve one-year internships as full-time salaried employes of a school system.

525 Students to Make World Trip

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — "A viewer who stands in many places sees more than an observer who stands in only one" says a statement of purpose of an unusual educational project announced in this Los Angeles suburb.

Under impressively backed plans:

A 487-foot ship bearing approximately 525 students will embark in September 1962 as a floating university heading around the world.

The faculty of 35 to 40 will be "drawn from educational experts from many lands."

It will provide "a curriculum that emphasizes the study of man" and "a mobile environment for learning which takes the student to the world as a laboratory."

The "University of the Seven Seas," as it is called, got its initial sponsorship from the Whittier Rotary Club.

The trustees include three college professors, a former college president, a former school superintendent, a retired admiral, a retired U.S. department of Agriculture entomologist and a lumber company president. William T. Hughes, president of the Whittier Pipe and Supply Co., heads the trustees.

The cost of a semester aboard will include tuition, board, room, passage and land arrangements.

"It will be less than a student's expenses for a year at many land-based institutions and will range from $2,500 to $3,500 depending on accommodations," the announcement says. Junior standing or a bachelor's degree will be required of students.

BOMBPROOF BOXCAR—An Eastern Air Lines pilot has found a new use for a worn-out boxcar. Ralph Dougherty, who lives on a farm near Griffin, Ga., about 35 miles south of Atlanta, explains to his children, Janet, 2,, Rickey, 12, and Randy, 5, how he will convert an old refrigerator car into a combination tornado and fallout shelter. Dougherty purchased the car from Central of Georgia Railway Co. and plans to bury it three feet underground. He figures he could shelter 16 people in the car. He expects to equip the shelter—in between flying chores—for about $700, as against $2,500 for a prefabricated job. Civil Defense people are watching the project to see how the idea works out.

Power Assn. Joins Opposition to DelawareCompact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Public Power Association has joined the opposition to the proposed Delaware River Basin Compact between New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

The association, in a letter Sunday, claimed the compact failed to give adequate protection to customers of municipal electric systems.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall has stated his opposition to the federal government joining the states in the river development plan.

Legislation to ratify the compact and authorize federal participation is pending in Congress.

Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., a backer of the compact, says the "administration position must and will be changed." He said rejection would mean "continuing chaos" in resource development in the basin.

Alex Radin, president of the organization of municipal utilities, said in a letter to President Kenn dy that the compact does not contain the traditional preference clause giving public bodies and cooperatives a prior right to purchase hydroelectric power from public projects.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall has stated his opposition to the federal government joining the states in the river development plan.

Legislation to ratify the compact and authorize federal participation is pending in Congress.

Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., a backer of the compact, says the "administration position must and will be changed." He said rejection would mean "continuing chaos" in resource development in the basin.

Alex Radin, president of the organization of municipal utilities, said in a letter to President Kennedy that the compact does not contain the traditional preference clause giving public bodies and cooperatives a prior right to purchase hydroelectric power from public projects.

COMPLAINT IN PARADISE

Anyone complacent over the wonders and comforts of life in the United States may be shocked to learn that many of the students from foreign countries go home displeased and disappointed over their experience in the land of the free. An official of the Foreign Students Advisors Association has been quoted as saying that about half of the students have some such reaction.

The reasons for this are of special interest to Americans who believe that closer rapport between the various peoples of the world is important. Though not many of us consider life here to be without blemish, it has always been easy to picture our gates as besieged by thousands clamoring to get it. In some ways this is still true, but the disturbing fact is that many keen young students from distant lands find conditions in the United States undesirable.

What are their difficulties? Almost any sensitive person could guess at least one: racial discrimination. Though schools receiving these young people tend to ignore skin color, off-campus attitudes can be another matter. Here intolerance has in some cases interfered with needs for housing—even for haircuts. Non-white students have frequently been puzzled and disillusioned by the treatment received. Nor have we scored high in some other respects. Many students fail to comprehend our great preoccupation with material things; many are troubled by the violence of our entertainment on television.

All these and other criticisms should neither overwhelm nor anger us. They do provide a good chance to do what Robert Burns thought was important—to see ourselves as others see us.

TIME TO BEAT THE COLD

Dr. Robert J. Huebner, a government virologist at the National Institutes of Health, is a man who thinks big. The evidence is that a) he believes science might be able to put the kibosh on the common cold by about 1970, and b) he suggests that a billion dollars—that's billion with a "b"—be devoted to this endeavor.

It is easy to understand why, as Dr. Huebner notes, there is "not a single institute or private foundation devoted to the common cold at present." The cold, despite its high misery potential, does not kill or cripple. A man with the snuffles may be an object of commiseration, but there is nothing dramatic about his plight.

Yet the common cold exacts an enormous health and economic toll. If there appears to be any real chance of checkmating it within a decade, an all-out effort should be made. Dr. Huebner and his associates believe there is such a chance, given enough money to launch a massive attack.

A billion dollars for this purpose sounds fantastic. But there is no reason why our society could not ante up a healthy fraction of that sum to squelch an ailment that plagues almost everyone from time to time.

FLY KITES SAFELY

Warmer weather will come soon and with it kite-flying season. The following very useful instructions have been issued to the "kid pilots" for the safe flying of their kites:

Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail.

Don't use tinsel-string wire, or any twine with metal in it.

Don't fly a kite in the rain.

Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.

Don't fly a kite over TV or radio aerials.

Don't fly a kite near electric or power lines.

Don't run across streets or highways while flying kites.

Don't touch fallen electric wires.

We used to say that half of the people didn't know how the other half lived. Now they know, thanks to picture windows.

'These Days'

TWO CHINAS

For some years the United Nations avoided a sharp split on the China question by maintaining a moratorium on its discussion. At the beginning of each session, it was decided not to discuss the admission of Red China. At first the vote was sufficiently large to make it a fixed policy. In recent years, as the membership of the General Assembly of the United Nations increased, the vote between those who favored debating the question and those who opposed it has been narrowing. The result is that the notion of a two Chinas is taking on new strength, despite the war in Laos. The fear is that the moratorium cannot be carried any longer.

The two Chinas idea is a British notion designed to assuage the feeling of Red China. It simply means that both the Republic of China (Formosa) and Red China will be members of the United Nations. The first mention of this idea appeared in an article by T. A. Bisson, in an Institute of Pacific Relations' publication as far back as 1943. The question arises as to which of these two Chinas is to hold China's permanent seat on the Security Council. Regarding this, no one has proposed a sound formula. The likelihood is that nobody has a solution.

Neither Taipeh nor Peking likes the two Chinas idea. Each side regards it as an insult. Chiang Kai-shek holds that his government retains its seat in the United Nations because of the sacrifices it made in war, because of legitimacy, and because obviously Red China will be strengthened should it be granted a seat in the United Nations and would, because of this, make efforts to conquer the whole of Southeast Asia. Nationalist China wonders why, now that Red China is in an economically and morally weakened condition, the United States wants to bale it out of its troubles and give "face" to a regime that may topple. Chiang Kai-shek wrote of this: "The two Chinas talk in international circles today is the repetition of an old tune first played by American Communists. . . ."

The British are worried about Hongkong which the Red Chinese can take in a few hours unless the United States fights for it. Only the American fleet in Asiatic waters can save Hongkong for the British if the Communists decide to take the port, which is the last vestige of British strength in Southeast Asia, apart from Singapore. British trade in Hongkong and in Red China is not as satisfactory as it used to be. The British would like to act as honest brokers between the United States and Red China and earn the gratitude of each side. Ample gratitude from Red China might safeguard Hongkong.

If the United States permits the two Chinas idea to gain strength at a time when we are beating the drums, if nothing else, concerning Laos, we shall be regarded as hypocrites and tricksters and we shall lose "face" all over Asia. The contradictions in our position cannot be understood or accepted by any Asiatic. We would become the laughing stock of Asia, as we did when we were defeated by Chen Yi in Korea. Boasting is not victory. To an Oriental unless there is a total victory, there is a defeat. We cannot risk another defeat.

However, many of those who have an important voice in the formulation of the foreign policy of the Kennedy Administration believe in a two Chinas concept as an easy and tricky way out of an unpleasant dilemma. They believe that Red China will not eccept such an indignity and that therefore, the offer having been made and rejected by Red China, they are not at fault.

There are two possibilities of error:

1. Red China might fool them, accept the offer and throw the United Nations into turmoil;

2. Other Asiatic nations would regard the offer as evidence of American weakness and this would justify the adoption of an anti-American attitude by nations which already feel that this country does not live up to its promises.

Whether President Kennedy made any promises to Prime Minister Macmillan on this subject, I do not know. Only events will open the window to the truth, but this is certain, if we want to get out of Asia completely and finally, the pursuit of the two Chinas policy is the best way to do it.

Family Health Record Is Invaluable Protection

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most of us have family Bibles in which we record births, weddings and deaths. Why can't we keep a similar record of health—the name, date and nature of every immunization given to each member of the family?

Harvard University Medical School runs a clinic at which immunization is offered for little or no fee. Hundreds of parents bring their children there for protection.

Recently, medical students under faculty direction began to survey the parents who brought their children in for immunization against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and poliomyelitis. Each parent was asked: "Have you been immunized against this disease? Do you have a record?

The shocking result of the survey was that one-fourth did not know whether they had been immunized. Slightly less than two-fifths had never been immunized for diphtheria, whooping cough or tetanus (lock jaw) and more than one half had not taken advantage of polio vaccine.

Stated in positive terms, only a small minority had profited by the opportunities for health protection offered by the clinic. And if this is the immunization status of parents living in close proximity to a medical center such as Boston, one shudders to think what the results might be in rural areas where protection is less readily obtained.

Now what are the explanations for this self-neglect on the part of parents, including those whose faith in immunization led them to get protection for their children?

For one thing, it is the erroneous impression that certain dieases, especially whooping cough and poliomyelitis, are children's diseases." To be sure more children than adults are afflicted with these infections. But that's only because most adults suffered the disease in childhood, recovered and developed a natural immunity.

What they seem to forget is that this immunity is not transferable from one adult to another. In other words, the adult who did not develop an immunity as the result of a childhood attack of the disease is every bit as susceptible as unprotected youngster.

A second cause for this neglect is the false notion that artificially acquired immunity, produced by protective injections, is lifelong. Thus, many of us who had shots in childhood or in the armed services settle back in the secure belief that we're untouchables. But this is not so, especially in the case of tetanus, to which so many farmers, laborers, motorists and even amateur gardeners are occupationally exposed. Booster shots are needed periodically to assure a sufficiently high degree of protection in the case of wound contamination, especially of a penetrating type.

Finally, for present purposes, we don't keep proper records of health protection. And this is especially regrettable at a time when so many "white-collar" employes are shifting jobs.

I wish I could persuade readers to keep an immunization family record. I do not exaggerate when I state that such information might well be of vital importance at some future time.

"You Must Admit We're Tops in the Compact Field"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The best reason for celebrating Pan American Week and Pan American Day this year is that the Cuban anti-Castro factions have finally united in a revolutionary council under Dr. Jose Miro Cardona. Castro admits that an opposition front has been established on the island. And there is active training of guerrilla invasion forces to back it up.

"Coffee Day" was inappropriately celebrated in Washington at the Pan American Union with a cocktail party, of all things, not a Kaffeeklatsch.

ELSEWHERE, PAN AMERICAN WEEK has been celebrated more by words than by deeds. Everybody and his brother seems to be writing a report telling somebody else what he ought to do to save Latin America from a fate worse than the Congo or Laos.

President Kennedy's White House speech calling for his Alianza Para Progreso—Alliance for Progress with Latin America—has just been printed in a 16-page pocket pamphlet with a bright, spring green and blue cover.

It makes a handy companion piece to the 36-page "white paper" pocket book on Cuba, put out by the State Department to call on Fidel Castro to sever his ties with communism and be good.

This document is faintly reminiscent of a larger, more comprehensive blue book on the Argentine, issued by the State Department during the war. It called on dictator Peron to sever his ties with the Nazis. Its effect was to anger the Argentine people. They responded by keeping Peron in power till 1955. All you can do is hope the new white paper won't have a similar effect.

IN OTHER CIRCLES, Committee for Economic Development, made up of 200 U. S. progressive business leaders, has just released a 60-page report in a bright yellow cover bearing the title, "Co-operation for Progress in Latin America."

In the main, CED endorses the Act of Bogota, where the American Republics agreed they'd better do something. Also, CED says Latin-American businessmen ought to get together to reform their countries' economies.

Population Reference Bureau of Washington is in with another pocket size pamphlet, "Latin America: Decade of Decision." The burden is that there will be a population explosion down there by 1970 if somebody (else) doesn't so something.

Inter-American Development Bank has just issued its first annual report of 48 pages bound in baby blue and white. It is full of statistics. They show, among other things, that the bank had about $147 million in paid up capital as of Dec. 31, and that its expenses up to then were $1.6 million.

In this period the bank received 194 applications for loans and 174 inquiries. But it had made no loans. Good, conservative way to run a bank.

SINCE THEN, INTER-AMERICAN bank has made five loans, but it hasn't disturbed one centavo. Its president, Felipe Herrara, and most of his staff are in Rio during Pan American Week, along with U. S. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon. They may announce some new loans down there to show they're in business—for the second year. But this hasn't done much good down there yet.

International Labor Organization, currently holding its annual meeting in Buenos Aires, has published a 143-page report in deeper blue and white cover, calling for "a new substantial burst of progress in Latin America . . . if present trends toward a slackening of growth are to be reversed."

Meanwhile, Congress is taking its own deliberate time to act on Kennedy's message request for $500 million for Latin-American social development. This was authorized last year at the request of former President Eisenhower.

Congress renewed the sugar act just before it was to expire March 31. This gave the President authority to take away Cuba's quota and also Dominican Republic's, which makes both mad.

FINALLY, EX-SEN. William Benton, publisher of Encyclopedia Britannica, is bringing out a 60,000-word report on his trip to 12 Latin-American republics with Gov. Adlai Stevenson last year. It will be published in book form under the title of "The Voice of Latin America."

This is the umteenth report on Latin America that has come out in the last few months. Words. Words. Words. Words. One more study paper and the Latinos should unite to declare war as the best possible way to celebrate Pan American Week.

Reds' Secrecy Raises Query: Did Gagarin Really Orbit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17—Was the Soviet stunt in outer space, as announced officially from Moscow, a hoax? Granted that something went around the earth, was a man really in it, or did the astronaut merely make a separate flight similar to that which an American airman Albert Walker, recently made in an X-15 rocket plane at an altitude of 32 miles?

These questions are being asked by scientists because there are same obvious discrepancies in the boastful account of his trip given by Major Yuri Gagarin.

First of all, Maj. Gagarin says he was over South America eleven minutes after he started. This couldn't be right and the tracking data collected by Americans tells the story of this gross exaggeration.

Second, Maj. Gagarin says he came down by parachute. It is now being inferred by a Russian scientist that the satellite may actually have glided to the earth.

Maj. Gagarin, in his first interview, said:

"While flying over Soviet territory, I saw perfectly great squares of collective farms. It was possible to distinguish between plowed land and grass land."

Were There Portholes?

The Russian major declared how he saw all this through portholes but it isn't clear whether this vehicle had portholes. In fact, Dr. Anatoli A. Blagonravov, a noted Russian scientist, interviewed at Rome at an international space symposium, said at first that there were no portholes in the ship but later declared there were "slits."

Can the human eye really see 200 miles away through portholes or "slits?" It might distinguish large formations such as the lines on the moon but it seems incredible that Maj. Gagarin could have seen anything as relatively small as meadows or fields such as he described.

Christopher Shawcross, chairman of the British section of the International Institute of Space Law, is quoted in a Reuter's dispatch from London as saying a protest had been launched with the International Aeronautical Federation in Paris against an attempt by the Moscow government to seek registration of the space flight as an altitude record for man. He said the published evidence of the flight was not credible.

Walter Sullivan, a science writer for the New York "Times," says in an article published over the weekend:

"Three days after man's first space flight there are still several puzzles concerning the circumstances of the trip. They pertain to its timing, the presence or absence of portholes in the manned capsule and the manner in which the occupant returned to earth.

Timetable Questioned

"The timetable issued in Moscow said the vehicle had reached the sky over South America within fifteen minutes. However, there is no point in Soviet territory from which an orbiting vehicle could come close to South America in so short a time."

There's another mysterious aspect. "The Daily Worker," a Communist newspaper in London, published an article on the flight before it was officially announced as having happened. The article spoke on April 7 of the flight as having already occurred when it wasn't announced or tracked by American observing stations as in orbit until five days later. The Communist newspaper revealed that the astronaut, son of a Soviet plane designer, was under medical care. Later on, Russian scientists in Moscow denied that the earlier flight had occurred.

The Soviets are past masters at deception. It could be that they did have a man in flight and that the stunt failed. Not to be denied their laurels, the Communists may have substituted the experience of one of their high flying airmen who may have simulated the kind of altitude venture which the American, Joseph Albert Walker, achieved with his X-15 rocket plane. The sensations experienced might well have been identical with those encountered by a man in orbit. After all, to go 32 miles into the air might bring exactly the same sensations and perhaps the same view of the earth, and even perhaps some observation of meadows and fields, similar to those exultantly described by Maj. Gagarin.

Unsolved Mystery

It probably is true that the Russians sent a satellite around the earth in 90 minutes. America has done this too. It is also probably true that Maj. Gagarin went high into the air. But whether he traveled around the earth as claimed, or merely achieved a high altitude in the air, remains an unsolved mystery.

Just why would the Russians concoct the story if it isn't entirely true? One answer is that the Communists have no morals—they regard lying as a legitimate device in national and international policies. Just now it is important for Nikita Khrushchev to divert the attention of the Russian people from their hardships and to appeal to their national pride. History records that the czars of another era also engaged in huge spectacles, parades and displays to impress the people and cause them to forget or put aside their woes.

The Communists have much to explain. Scientists throughout the world will remain curious. Science has a way of probing into such things. Already the Soviet government has declined to make its data public. Secrecy is always the refuge of totalitarian governments which do not hesitate to try to fool not only their own peple but the whole world.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Here are a few items I found in the Morning Courier published in Rondout, N. Y. This issue being, Monday, Dec. 26, 1881. It was loaned to me by James Rigney Jr., of 2 South Washington Avenue. One item read: "The Rondout post office will be opened today as follows: From 8:30 to 9:30 a. m., and from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 7:30 to 8 o'clock this evening."

Another Dec. 26, 1881 item read: "Mr. George Jarrold was presented with a neat pair of gold spectacles Sunday by the Wurts Street Baptist School, he being their chorister. Master Clifford Wood, the cornetist, received a silver fruit knife . . . The firm of Humphrey, Crosby and Ennist took their clerks to the Excelsior House on Saturday night, after the closing of the store, and treated them to an oyster supper, gotten up in the most appetizing manner by the Professor." (The store was at 2-4-6 Broadway).

This item may interest uptown merchants. "The Fair Street depot is not half large enough to hold the large number of people that come and go on the trains. On Saturday afternoon, before the 3 o'clock train, up, arrived, the depot was crowded as full as they could stand comfortably, and as many more were out on the verandah, which will be very nice place to wait in the summer time. It is one of the finest railroad accommodations that part of the city has had for both city and country people."

"Professor Budington and the employes at the Excelsior House were surprised on Christmas morning by Mr. Hockstader, on behalf of the boarders with a gift of money. Mr. Brigham also presented each employe with a handsome scarf and pin."

I wonder how many remember that extra large picture window on the balcony of the Rose-Gorman-Rose store, which gave all of us a tremendous view of the mountains. This Dec. 26, 1881 newspaper gives a little item on the view. "The Catskills were as visible as at any time in the summer, and the Overlook, Harding House, and the old Catskill Mountain House could be seen from the horse cars near the Wallkill depot, and the mountains rose in their majesty, but with a somber hue, and not as green and beautiful as when the trees are covered with green verdue." This of course was before the Rose-Gorham-Rose store days.

The Hudson River was open for navigation in 1881 part of the time anyway I imagine from the following item, "The James W. Baldwin steamer, left New York Friday night, 10 o'clock, and arrived at her dock in Rondout about 6 o'clock Saturday morning, encountering a tremendous gale all the way up the Hudson. She had a good freight and large number of passengers. She made her last trip Sunday night."

I see that New Year cards were sold back in the 1880's in Kingston. They should be in the antique class today. Perhaps there are some around in old trunks and attics. Stereoscopic views were sold in the Catskills, Grand Hotel, Tremper House and vicinities for $1.50 per dozen and also Kerr's Book Store and Lewis' Gallery uptown.

A local news item of 1881: "Mr. S. Donegan, a farmer from Town of Ulster, was turning his wagon, loaded with hay to get in the barn of the Oriental Brewery on Hone Street, when the team, wagon, hay load and driver backed into a construction of a basement for a new ice house by Mr. Hoffman, a distance of about 15 feet. Luckily the horses and driver were not hurt and wagon not broken although it took some time and effort to get them all out of the cellar."

What are their difficulties? Almost any sensitive person could guess at least one: racial discrimination. Though schools receiving these young people tend to ignore skin color, off-campus attitudes can be another matter. Here intolerance has in some cases interfered with needs for housing—even for haircuts. Non-white students have frequently been puzzled and disillusioned by the treatment received. Nor have we scored high in some other respects. Many students fail to comprehend our great preoccupation with material things; many are troubled by the violence of our entertainment on television.

All these and other criticisms should neither overwhelm nor anger us. They do provide a good chance to do what Robert Burns thought was important—to see ourselves as others see us.

TIME TO BEAT THE COLD

Dr. Robert J. Huebner, a government virologist at the National Institutes of Health, is a man who thinks big. The evidence is that a) he believes science might be able to put the kibosh on the common cold by about 1970, and b) he suggests that a billion dollars—that's billion with a "b"—be devoted to this endeavor.

It is easy to understand why, as Dr. Huebner notes, there is "not a single institute or private foundation devoted to the common cold at present." The cold, despite its high misery potential, does not kill or cripple. A man with the snuffles may be an object of commiseration, but there is nothing dramatic about his plight.

Yet the common cold exacts an enormous health and economic toll. If there appears to be any real chance of checkmating it within a decade, an all-out effort should be made. Dr. Huebner and his associates believe there is such a chance, given enough money to launch a massive attack.

A billion dollars for this purpose sounds fantastic. But there is no reason why our society could not ante up a healthy fraction of that sum to squelch an ailment that plagues almost everyone from time to time.

FLY KITES SAFELY

Warmer weather will come soon and with it kite-flying season. The following very useful instructions have been issued to the "kid pilots" for the safe flying of their kites:

Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail.

Don't use tinsel-string wire, or any twine with metal in it.

Don't fly a kite in the rain.

Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.

Don't fly a kite over TV or radio aerials.

Don't fly a kite near electric or power lines.

Don't run across streets or highways while flying kites.

Don't touch fallen electric wires.

We used to say that half of the people didn't know how the other half lived. Now they know, thanks to picture windows.

TWO CHINAS

For some years the United Nations avoided a sharp split on the China question by maintaining a moratorium on its discussion. At the beginning of each session, it was decided not to discuss the admission of Red China. At first the vote was sufficiently large to make it a fixed policy. In recent years, as the membership of the General Assembly of the United Nations increased, the vote between those who favored debating the question and those who opposed it has been narrowing. The result is that the notion of a two Chinas is taking on new strength, despite the war in Laos. The fear is that the moratorium cannot be carried any longer.

The two Chinas idea is a British notion designed to assuage the feeling of Red China. It simply means that both the Republic of China (Formosa) and Red China will be members of the United Nations. The first mention of this idea appeared in an article by T. A. Bisson, in an Institute of Pacific Relations' publication as far back as 1943. The question arises as to which of these two Chinas is to hold China's permanent seat on the Security Council. Regarding this, no one has proposed a sound formula. The likelihood is that nobody has a solution.

Neither Taipeh nor Peking likes the two Chinas idea. Each side regards it as an insult. Chiang Kai-shek holds that his government retains its seat in the United Nations because of the sacrifices it made in war, because of legitimacy, and because obviously Red China will be strengthened should it be granted a seat in the United Nations and would, because of this, make efforts to conquer the whole of Southeast Asia. Nationalist China wonders why, now that Red China is in an economically and morally weakened condition, the United States wants to bale it out of its troubles and give "face" to a regime that may topple. Chiang Kai-shek wrote of this: "The two Chinas talk in international circles today is the repetition of an old tune first played by American Communists. . . ."

The British are worried about Hongkong which the Red Chinese can take in a few hours unless the United States fights for it. Only the American fleet in Asiatic waters can save Hongkong for the British if the Communists decide to take the port, which is the last vestige of British strength in Southeast Asia, apart from Singapore. British trade in Hongkong and in Red China is not as satisfactory as it used to be. The British would like to act as honest brokers between the United States and Red China and earn the gratitude of each side. Ample gratitude from Red China might safeguard Hongkong.

If the United States permits the two Chinas idea to gain strength at a time when we are beating the drums, if nothing else, concerning Laos, we shall be regarded as hypocrites and tricksters and we shall lose "face" all over Asia. The contradictions in our position cannot be understood or accepted by any Asiatic. We would become the laughing stock of Asia, as we did when we were defeated by Chen Yi in Korea. Boasting is not victory. To an Oriental unless there is a total victory, there is a defeat. We cannot risk another defeat.

However, many of those who have an important voice in the formulation of the foreign policy of the Kennedy Administration believe in a two Chinas concept as an easy and tricky way out of an unpleasant dilemma. They believe that Red China will not eccept such an indignity and that therefore, the offer having been made and rejected by Red China, they are not at fault.

There are two possibilities of error:

1. Red China might fool them, accept the offer and throw the United Nations into turmoil;

2. Other Asiatic nations would regard the offer as evidence of American weakness and this would justify the adoption of an anti-American attitude by nations which already feel that this country does not live up to its promises.

Whether President Kennedy made any promises to Prime Minister Macmillan on this subject, I do not know. Only events will open the window to the truth, but this is certain, if we want to get out of Asia completely and finally, the pursuit of the two Chinas policy is the best way to do it.

Family Health Record Is Invaluable Protection

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most of us have family Bibles in which we record births, weddings and deaths. Why can't we keep a similar record of health—the name, date and nature of every immunization given to each member of the family?

Harvard University Medical School runs a clinic at which immunization is offered for little or no fee. Hundreds of parents bring their children there for protection.

Recently, medical students under faculty direction began to survey the parents who brought their children in for immunization against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and poliomyelitis. Each parent was asked: "Have you been immunized against this disease? Do you have a record?

The shocking result of the survey was that one-fourth did not know whether they had been immunized. Slightly less than two-fifths had never been immunized for diphtheria, whooping cough or tetanus (lock jaw) and more than one half had not taken advantage of polio vaccine.

Stated in positive terms, only a small minority had profited by the opportunities for health protection offered by the clinic. And if this is the immunization status of parents living in close proximity to a medical center such as Boston, one shudders to think what the results might be in rural areas where protection is less readily obtained.

Now what are the explanations for this self-neglect on the part of parents, including those whose faith in immunization led them to get protection for their children?

For one thing, it is the erroneous impression that certain dieases, especially whooping cough and poliomyelitis, are children's diseases." To be sure more children than adults are afflicted with these infections. But that's only because most adults suffered the disease in childhood, recovered and developed a natural immunity.

What they seem to forget is that this immunity is not transferable from one adult to another. In other words, the adult who did not develop an immunity as the result of a childhood attack of the disease is every bit as susceptible as unprotected youngster.

A second cause for this neglect is the false notion that artificially acquired immunity, produced by protective injections, is lifelong. Thus, many of us who had shots in childhood or in the armed services settle back in the secure belief that we're untouchables. But this is not so, especially in the case of tetanus, to which so many farmers, laborers, motorists and even amateur gardeners are occupationally exposed. Booster shots are needed periodically to assure a sufficiently high degree of protection in the case of wound contamination, especially of a penetrating type.

Finally, for present purposes, we don't keep proper records of health protection. And this is especially regrettable at a time when so many "white-collar" employes are shifting jobs.

I wish I could persuade readers to keep an immunization family record. I do not exaggerate when I state that such information might well be of vital importance at some future time.

"You Must Admit We're Tops in the Compact Field"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The best reason for celebrating Pan American Week and Pan American Day this year is that the Cuban anti-Castro factions have finally united in a revolutionary council under Dr. Jose Miro Cardona. Castro admits that an opposition front has been established on the island. And there is active training of guerrilla invasion forces to back it up.

"Coffee Day" was inappropriately celebrated in Washington at the Pan American Union with a cocktail party, of all things, not a Kaffeeklatsch.

ELSEWHERE, PAN AMERICAN WEEK has been celebrated more by words than by deeds. Everybody and his brother seems to be writing a report telling somebody else what he ought to do to save Latin America from a fate worse than the Congo or Laos.

President Kennedy's White House speech calling for his Alianza Para Progreso—Alliance for Progress with Latin America—has just been printed in a 16-page pocket pamphlet with a bright, spring green and blue cover.

It makes a handy companion piece to the 36-page "white paper" pocket book on Cuba, put out by the State Department to call on Fidel Castro to sever his ties with communism and be good.

This document is faintly reminiscent of a larger, more comprehensive blue book on the Argentine, issued by the State Department during the war. It called on dictator Peron to sever his ties with the Nazis. Its effect was to anger the Argentine people. They responded by keeping Peron in power till 1955. All you can do is hope the new white paper won't have a similar effect.

IN OTHER CIRCLES, Committee for Economic Development, made up of 200 U. S. progressive business leaders, has just released a 60-page report in a bright yellow cover bearing the title, "Co-operation for Progress in Latin America."

In the main, CED endorses the Act of Bogota, where the American Republics agreed they'd better do something. Also, CED says Latin-American businessmen ought to get together to reform their countries' economies.

Population Reference Bureau of Washington is in with another pocket size pamphlet, "Latin America: Decade of Decision." The burden is that there will be a population explosion down there by 1970 if somebody (else) doesn't so something.

Inter-American Development Bank has just issued its first annual report of 48 pages bound in baby blue and white. It is full of statistics. They show, among other things, that the bank had about $147 million in paid up capital as of Dec. 31, and that its expenses up to then were $1.6 million.

In this period the bank received 194 applications for loans and 174 inquiries. But it had made no loans. Good, conservative way to run a bank.

SINCE THEN, INTER-AMERICAN bank has made five loans, but it hasn't disturbed one centavo. Its president, Felipe Herrara, and most of his staff are in Rio during Pan American Week, along with U. S. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon. They may announce some new loans down there to show they're in business—for the second year. But this hasn't done much good down there yet.

International Labor Organization, currently holding its annual meeting in Buenos Aires, has published a 143-page report in deeper blue and white cover, calling for "a new substantial burst of progress in Latin America . . . if present trends toward a slackening of growth are to be reversed."

Meanwhile, Congress is taking its own deliberate time to act on Kennedy's message request for $500 million for Latin-American social development. This was authorized last year at the request of former President Eisenhower.

Congress renewed the sugar act just before it was to expire March 31. This gave the President authority to take away Cuba's quota and also Dominican Republic's, which makes both mad.

FINALLY, EX-SEN. William Benton, publisher of Encyclopedia Britannica, is bringing out a 60,000-word report on his trip to 12 Latin-American republics with Gov. Adlai Stevenson last year. It will be published in book form under the title of "The Voice of Latin America."

This is the umteenth report on Latin America that has come out in the last few months. Words. Words. Words. Words. One more study paper and the Latinos should unite to declare war as the best possible way to celebrate Pan American Week.

Reds' Secrecy Raises Query: Did Gagarin Really Orbit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17—Was the Soviet stunt in outer space, as announced officially from Moscow, a hoax? Granted that something went around the earth, was a man really in it, or did the astronaut merely make a separate flight similar to that which an American airman Albert Walker, recently made in an X-15 rocket plane at an altitude of 32 miles?

These questions are being asked by scientists because there are same obvious discrepancies in the boastful account of his trip given by Major Yuri Gagarin.

First of all, Maj. Gagarin says he was over South America eleven minutes after he started. This couldn't be right and the tracking data collected by Americans tells the story of this gross exaggeration.

Second, Maj. Gagarin says he came down by parachute. It is now being inferred by a Russian scientist that the satellite may actually have glided to the earth.

Maj. Gagarin, in his first interview, said:

"While flying over Soviet territory, I saw perfectly great squares of collective farms. It was possible to distinguish between plowed land and grass land."

Were There Portholes?

The Russian major declared how he saw all this through portholes but it isn't clear whether this vehicle had portholes. In fact, Dr. Anatoli A. Blagonravov, a noted Russian scientist, interviewed at Rome at an international space symposium, said at first that there were no portholes in the ship but later declared there were "slits."

Can the human eye really see 200 miles away through portholes or "slits?" It might distinguish large formations such as the lines on the moon but it seems incredible that Maj. Gagarin could have seen anything as relatively small as meadows or fields such as he described.

Christopher Shawcross, chairman of the British section of the International Institute of Space Law, is quoted in a Reuter's dispatch from London as saying a protest had been launched with the International Aeronautical Federation in Paris against an attempt by the Moscow government to seek registration of the space flight as an altitude record for man. He said the published evidence of the flight was not credible.

Walter Sullivan, a science writer for the New York "Times," says in an article published over the weekend:

"Three days after man's first space flight there are still several puzzles concerning the circumstances of the trip. They pertain to its timing, the presence or absence of portholes in the manned capsule and the manner in which the occupant returned to earth.

Timetable Questioned

"The timetable issued in Moscow said the vehicle had reached the sky over South America within fifteen minutes. However, there is no point in Soviet territory from which an orbiting vehicle could come close to South America in so short a time."

There's another mysterious aspect. "The Daily Worker," a Communist newspaper in London, published an article on the flight before it was officially announced as having happened. The article spoke on April 7 of the flight as having already occurred when it wasn't announced or tracked by American observing stations as in orbit until five days later. The Communist newspaper revealed that the astronaut, son of a Soviet plane designer, was under medical care. Later on, Russian scientists in Moscow denied that the earlier flight had occurred.

The Soviets are past masters at deception. It could be that they did have a man in flight and that the stunt failed. Not to be denied their laurels, the Communists may have substituted the experience of one of their high flying airmen who may have simulated the kind of altitude venture which the American, Joseph Albert Walker, achieved with his X-15 rocket plane. The sensations experienced might well have been identical with those encountered by a man in orbit. After all, to go 32 miles into the air might bring exactly the same sensations and perhaps the same view of the earth, and even perhaps some observation of meadows and fields, similar to those exultantly described by Maj. Gagarin.

Unsolved Mystery

It probably is true that the Russians sent a satellite around the earth in 90 minutes. America has done this too. It is also probably true that Maj. Gagarin went high into the air. But whether he traveled around the earth as claimed, or merely achieved a high altitude in the air, remains an unsolved mystery.

Just why would the Russians concoct the story if it isn't entirely true? One answer is that the Communists have no morals—they regard lying as a legitimate device in national and international policies. Just now it is important for Nikita Khrushchev to divert the attention of the Russian people from their hardships and to appeal to their national pride. History records that the czars of another era also engaged in huge spectacles, parades and displays to impress the people and cause them to forget or put aside their woes.

The Communists have much to explain. Scientists throughout the world will remain curious. Science has a way of probing into such things. Already the Soviet government has declined to make its data public. Secrecy is always the refuge of totalitarian governments which do not hesitate to try to fool not only their own peple but the whole world.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Here are a few items I found in the Morning Courier published in Rondout, N. Y. This issue being, Monday, Dec. 26, 1881. It was loaned to me by James Rigney Jr., of 2 South Washington Avenue. One item read: "The Rondout post office will be opened today as follows: From 8:30 to 9:30 a. m., and from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 7:30 to 8 o'clock this evening."

Another Dec. 26, 1881 item read: "Mr. George Jarrold was presented with a neat pair of gold spectacles Sunday by the Wurts Street Baptist School, he being their chorister. Master Clifford Wood, the cornetist, received a silver fruit knife . . . The firm of Humphrey, Crosby and Ennist took their clerks to the Excelsior House on Saturday night, after the closing of the store, and treated them to an oyster supper, gotten up in the most appetizing manner by the Professor." (The store was at 2-4-6 Broadway).

This item may interest uptown merchants. "The Fair Street depot is not half large enough to hold the large number of people that come and go on the trains. On Saturday afternoon, before the 3 o'clock train, up, arrived, the depot was crowded as full as they could stand comfortably, and as many more were out on the verandah, which will be very nice place to wait in the summer time. It is one of the finest railroad accommodations that part of the city has had for both city and country people."

"Professor Budington and the employes at the Excelsior House were surprised on Christmas morning by Mr. Hockstader, on behalf of the boarders with a gift of money. Mr. Brigham also presented each employe with a handsome scarf and pin."

I wonder how many remember that extra large picture window on the balcony of the Rose-Gorman-Rose store, which gave all of us a tremendous view of the mountains. This Dec. 26, 1881 newspaper gives a little item on the view. "The Catskills were as visible as at any time in the summer, and the Overlook, Harding House, and the old Catskill Mountain House could be seen from the horse cars near the Wallkill depot, and the mountains rose in their majesty, but with a somber hue, and not as green and beautiful as when the trees are covered with green verdue." This of course was before the Rose-Gorham-Rose store days.

The Hudson River was open for navigation in 1881 part of the time anyway I imagine from the following item, "The James W. Baldwin steamer, left New York Friday night, 10 o'clock, and arrived at her dock in Rondout about 6 o'clock Saturday morning, encountering a tremendous gale all the way up the Hudson. She had a good freight and large number of passengers. She made her last trip Sunday night."

I see that New Year cards were sold back in the 1880's in Kingston. They should be in the antique class today. Perhaps there are some around in old trunks and attics. Stereoscopic views were sold in the Catskills, Grand Hotel, Tremper House and vicinities for $1.50 per dozen and also Kerr's Book Store and Lewis' Gallery uptown.

A local news item of 1881: "Mr. S. Donegan, a farmer from Town of Ulster, was turning his wagon, loaded with hay to get in the barn of the Oriental Brewery on Hone Street, when the team, wagon, hay load and driver backed into a construction of a basement for a new ice house by Mr. Hoffman, a distance of about 15 feet. Luckily the horses and driver were not hurt and wagon not broken although it took some time and effort to get them all out of the cellar."

Display Travel Items at Session Of Study Club

Mrs. Charles Wright was hostess to the recent annual meeting of New Paltz Study Club.

Members brought interesting items they had picked up on their travels throughout the world. These items were attractively displayed by Mrs. Gordon Pine and she gave a commentary of each article.

Items ranged from a wooden nutcracker brought from Interlachen, Switzerland in 1900, to a jar of shells from Florida in 1961, and a graceful pewter sugar bowl of the sixteen-hundreds. From England there was a large piece of Staffordshire — Bob Roy, and copper kettles; beautiful handmade shell boxes; jewelry from Mexico; a tray made of feathers; relish dishes carved from monkey-pod trees from Hawaii; bowls carved from myrtle-wood found only in Oregon and Bethlehem; Apostle spoons; petrified wood from Arizona; silver cups won in the year 1901 in Switzerland. There was an interesting candle from Winston-Salem and a coral model of a Bermuda home. There was also many interesting silver souvenir spoons and other and varied items.

Mrs. William Seitz added a touch of humor by displaying a picture of her husband whom she met on a boat going to Europe, and a plate she purchased while visiting her family in Germany.

The members marked with regret the passing of two of the club's founding members: Mrs. Leanetta Elting DuBois, and Miss Cora DuBois. It was agreed a committee write a fitting memorial testimony to the memory of both.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The popular stock market indexes have been hitting new highs. These days the stock price averages are followed almost as closely as will be the batting averages now that the baseball season is under way.

But a lot more people can tell you how the batting averages are arrived at than can tell you how the stock price averages are figured.

Higher Index Puzzling

Many are puzzled by the fact that the index figures are so much higher than the actual average price of the stocks included.

Few can name the stocks selected for use in the averages—or how and why the component stocks may be changed from time to time.

Many may not know why some days the averages go up while more stocks decline in price than advance.

Many traders belittle the indexes as poor aid to anyone seriously interested in the stock market. Yet the popular indexes are followed closely by a multitude who accept them as the best available gauge of what's happening to stocks in general.

Some 15 million Americans own one or more stocks these days. Uncounted more follow the market—wistfully, curiously, or as a guide to business trends in general.

Perhaps the three most closely watched are the Dow-Jones industrial average of 30 stocks; The Associated Press average of 60 stocks (30 of them industrials; and Standard & Poor's 500 stocks (425 of them industrials).

The Dow-Jones index hit a new high of 694.11 April 11. That day the AP 30 industrials hit a new high of 359.36. Standard & Poor's industrials closed at 70.53.

Yet on that day one share each of the 30 stocks on the Dow-Jones index sold at $2,198.63 for an average of $73.29. The total price of one each of the 30 on the AP index was $2,170.50, for an average of $72.35.

Few Changes

Only the Standard & Poor's index figure was practically the same as the dollar price. That was because it was started in 1957 and has had comparatively few changes with the Dow-Jones, started in 1897 and revised many times. The AP index was launched in 1935 and has had fewer changes than the Dow-Jones.

When an index was started the figuring was simple—prices of the stocks included were added and then divided by the number of stocks. The index figure was the same as the average price.

Changes Important

But changes have to be made. Stocks are split, and the index must be adjusted to reflect the fact that the resultant single share sells for less than before the split.

The adjustment is made by dividing the total price by less than the number of stocks. Each adjustment has made the divisor smaller. Example: The Dow Jones total s now divided by 3.165 instead of by 30. The AP index by 6.03 instead of 30.

There are changes in the list and the figuring of the index for other reasons than splits or stock dividends which increase shares outstanding.

An index is revised as financial conditions warrant. Only two stocks on the original Dow-Jones list in 1897 are still there: American Tobacco and General Electric. The AP list has been changed five times in its shorter history.

Whole industries have appeared on the Dow-Jones list, or disappeared from it. Individual companies once representative of the market no longer are and have been dropped. Examples: Steam locomotive firms have disappeared from the list; chemicals, oils and motors are among those making their bows on the list since 1897.

Decisions to revise the list—to drop one company, to add another—are made after long study. All the top officials of Dow-Jones are in on the final decision.

The last changes in the Dow-Jones industrials were in 1959. To make the list more representative of the market then: Anaconda was substituted for American Smelting, Swift for Corn Products, Alcoa for National Steel, and Owens-Illinois Glass for National Distillers Chemical.

Mr. Olmsted is a farmer. The only stock he knows about is livestock. Yet he and millions of other New Yorkers put up the money that put up your home.

How? By being depositors in the New York State Savings Banks—the banks that finance more homes in New York State than all other financial institutions combined. (Can you think of a more constructive way to use savings than in the construction of homes?)

Why don't you join Mr. Olmsted at the teller's window? See your money create more jobs, greater prosperity and better living conditions for us all. See your money do all this while it earns the highest interest dividends of any bank in the state!

Q. Can you guess the dividends paid savings bank depositors for 1960?

A. Believe it or not, a whopping $740,319,000 . . . an all-time high for any 12-month period. Did you get your share? Two out of every three New York Staters did.

Display Travel Items at Session Of Study Club

Mrs. Charles Wright was hostess to the recent annual meeting of New Paltz Study Club.

Members brought interesting items they had picked up on their travels throughout the world. These items were attractively displayed by Mrs. Gordon Pine and she gave a commentary of each article.

Items ranged from a wooden nutcracker brought from Interlachen, Switzerland in 1900, to a jar of shells from Florida in 1961, and a graceful pewter sugar bowl of the sixteen-hundreds. From England there was a large piece of Staffordshire — Bob Roy, and copper kettles; beautiful handmade shell boxes; jewelry from Mexico; a tray made of feathers; relish dishes carved from monkey-pod trees from Hawaii; bowls carved from myrtle-wood found only in Oregon and Bethlehem; Apostle spoons; petrified wood from Arizona; silver cups won in the year 1901 in Switzerland. There was an interesting candle from Winston-Salem and a coral model of a Bermuda home. There was also many interesting silver souvenir spoons and other and varied items.

Mrs. William Seitz added a touch of humor by displaying a picture of her husband whom she met on a boat going to Europe, and a plate she purchased while visiting her family in Germany.

The members marked with regret the passing of two of the club's founding members: Mrs. Leanetta Elting DuBois, and Miss Cora DuBois. It was agreed a committee write a fitting memorial testimony to the memory of both.

NEW YORK (AP)—The popular stock market indexes have been hitting new highs. These days the stock price averages are followed almost as closely as will be the batting averages now that the baseball season is under way.

But a lot more people can tell you how the batting averages are arrived at than can tell you how the stock price averages are figured.

Higher Index Puzzling

Many are puzzled by the fact that the index figures are so much higher than the actual average price of the stocks included.

Few can name the stocks selected for use in the averages—or how and why the component stocks may be changed from time to time.

Many may not know why some days the averages go up while more stocks decline in price than advance.

Many traders belittle the indexes as poor aid to anyone seriously interested in the stock market. Yet the popular indexes are followed closely by a multitude who accept them as the best available gauge of what's happening to stocks in general.

Some 15 million Americans own one or more stocks these days. Uncounted more follow the market—wistfully, curiously, or as a guide to business trends in general.

Not Guilty, Says Eichmann To Indictment by Israel

By RELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann grated out the words "not guilty" 15 times in court today, denying all counts in Israel's monumental indictment naming him as the master destroyer of Jews in Europe during World War II.

The prosecution, opening its case, asserted that Eichmann beat a Jewish child to death with his own hands for stealing peaches.

"This," cried Israeli Attorney General Gideon Hausner, "is the trial of the destroyer."

The former Gestapo officer stared back at Hausner, unblinking.

Eichmann's plea of innocence marked the actual start of his trial on charges of complicity in the death of six million European Jews during the war. It came after the three-man court headed by Supreme Court Justice Moshe Landau overruled defense objections to the court's competence to hear the case and to the Israeli law under which Eichmann is charged. Landau said the details of the judges' reasoning would be embodied in their final decision at the end of the trial.

Then Landau ordered Eichmann to stand up and remove the headphones over which he listens to the translation into German of the Hebrew language of the court.

Point by point, through the 15 sections of the indictment, Landau repeated, "do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

Denes All Counts

Fifteen times Eichmann replied, "In the spirit of the indictment, I am not guilty."

His voice was firm and low-pitched. He stood stiff-backed, chin thrust defiantly upward, looking steadily at Landau from the prisoner's dock enclosed in sheets of bullet-proof glass.

A somber silence hung over the court during the 10 minutes that it took to go through this legal step.

Then Eichmann leaned back quietly in his chair, folded his hands in his lap, and looked at Hausner.

The attorney general adjusted the collar of his flowing black robes, waited a moment as the audience sat soundless, and then began in a voice vibrant with feeling:

"When I stand before you, judges of Israel, to accuse Adolf Eichmann, I do not stand here alone.

"Here with me stand six million prosecutors. But, Alas, they cannot rise and level a finger at the man in the prisoner's dock.

"Their blood cries to heaven but their voices cannot be heard."

The prosecutor outlined the rise of the Nazis to power in Germany in 1933, their use of anti-Semitism as a weapon to advance their objectives in the world and finally the ghastly ordeal visited on the Jews.

Carole, Finch To Move Today For New Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, faced sentencing to life imprisonment today for the murder of his socialite wife.

But first there were to be arguments on defense motions for a new trial — which, if granted, would be the fourth for the handsome surgeon and his auburn-haired ex-receptionist.

If a new trial is denied, the defense was expected to file a notice of appeal.

Finch, 43, who formerly had a thriving practice in suburban West Covina, and Miss Tregoff, 24, a onetime model, were convicted March 27 of killing his wife, Barbara Jean, 36.

The lovers claimed they had gone to the Finch home the night of July 18, 1959, merely to talk to his wife about getting a divorce. The doctor testified she produced a gun, he struggled with her and wrested it away and it discharged accidentally as he tried to toss it aside.

Mrs. Finch died of a bullet in the back. The state contended the defendants deliberately killed her so they could marry without sharing Finch's fortune with her in a divorce settlement

On April 5 the same jury of 10 men and 2 women that had convicted the pair decreed life imprisonment. Under California law, murder trial juries that return convictions then deliberate a second time and set the penalty.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market churned in extremely heavy trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .10 at 245.60 with industrials up .60, rails off .10 and utilities off .10.

The strength in industrials was enough to push the Dow Jones industrial average on an hourly basis above the recent historic closing high.

Steels, most motors, oils and chemicals had an upside edge. Utilities declined. The group was depressed by a loss of about 2 points in American Telephone.

The electronics and aircraft-missile sections were mixed. Drugs tended to the downside. Schering dropped more than 2.

Expectations of another boost in weekly steel production aided the steels. The top producers were all up fractionally.

American Broadcasting - Paramount jumped more than 3.

Gains of about 2 points were made by Polaroid and Ronson. Ampex, Sperry Rand and Smith-Corona Marchant were all up about a point each. Radio Corp. was about a point lower.

Volume for the first two hours was 2.29 million shares, compared with 2.15 million the first two hours on Friday.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.34 at 695.06. The historic closing high was 694.11 posted last Tuesday.

John Saxe Dies

when he sold the business to Charles R. Tiller.

Helped Village Progress

Possessing a strong native attraction and affection for the community where he was born, Mr. Saxe was very active in helping to build up the present village of West Hurley. On the heights above the original village, he laid out a development and erected a number of houses there. This was one of the county's first "housing developments" built on the high ridge off the Ontora Trail with a magnificent view of the Catskill Mountains and the Ashokan reservoir.

Later he became interested in the development of a large tract of land about a half mile south of old Hurley village on the Kingston-Ellenville road in the Town of Hurley. This settlement known locally as "Saxeville," was developed into a modern suburban home community.

Supervisor 8 Years

The various activities of Mr. Saxe not only endeared him to his neighbors, but they sought to show their appreciation, which they did by electing him to the office of collector of taxes. So well was he acquainted with the needs of his town that they subsequently elected him supervisor of his town, the first Republican to be elected to the office of supervisor in the Town of Hurley in 12 years. He served his town as supervisor during 1912 and 1913 and again from 1916 through 1921 he served his town in the county legislative body, serving a total of eight years on the board of supervisors. The same confidence which had so long been shown by his neighbors followed him into the county's legislative hall and he was elected chairman of the board of supervisors.

Intimate acquaintance with the farming industry in Ulster County led to Mr. Saxe's election by the Board of Supervisors as the representative of that board to a directorship on the Ulster County Farm Bureau when that Bureau was organized. He served well as a director of the Ulster County Farm Bureau and was also a member of the Ulster County Agricultural Society.

Headed Bank Expansion

The confidence of the business community was demonstrated when he was elected a trustee of the Ulster County Savings Institution and a director of the State of New York National Bank of Kingston. Later he became vice-president and in 1937 was elected president, a position which he held with the State of New York National Bank at the time of his death. During his office as president the bank expanded, opening a branch and later consolidating with the former Ulster County National Bank of Kingston and recently with the Hugenot National Bank of New Paltz.

In 1922 Mr. Saxe was further honored by the citizens of Ulster County when he was elected Ulster County clerk. So well did he administer that office that he was re-elected County Clerk serving a total of six years in that office. It was during his tenure of office that the duties of the office increased through the addition of numerous new departments, including the issuance of motor vehicle licenses locally.

Became Sheriff

Mr. Saxe, a lifelong Republican, was selected as the Republican candidate for sheriff of Ulster County and in 1933 succeeded the late Wright J. (Doc) Smith in office. He served as sheriff from 1933 through 1935 and shortly thereafter he engaged in the active career as a banker, a profession which he continued until his recent illness.

During the time Mr. Saxe was a storekeeper at West Hurley he took a great interest in public affairs in his town and during the war he gave very generously of his time and ability to lend aid to his country. He was always active in all drives for charitable purpose, active in the Red Cross and served as chairman of many committees engaged in relief work. Because of his extreme friendship among his neighbors and his pleasing and genial disposition he became the Republican leader in his community and took a very active part in Republican politics throughout the county.

Socially Mr. Saxe was a member of Kingston Lodge No. 10, F&AM, of Kingston; Bearsville Lodge No. 533, IOOF; Hurley Grange, Ulster County Farm Bureau, Kingston Rotary Club, West Hurley Methodist Church and he was one of the organizers and a charter member of the West Hurley Fire Department.

Surviving is his wife, Ina E. Stone Saxe of West Hurley; a son, Ira N. Saxe of West Hurley; three daughters, Mrs. Carolyn Prothmann of Baldwin, Long Island, Mrs. Eleanor Nadeau Muller of New York City and Mrs. Evelyn S. Robinson of Scarsdale, N. Y. Five grandchildren also survive, John Robinson of Scarsdale, Miss Eliane Nadeau and Miss Lorraine Muller, both of New York City, Robert N., and James C. Saxe, both of West Hurley. His parents were the late Ira D. and Carrie Slater Saxe.

Friends may call at the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair Street, Tuesday from 7 to 9 p. m., and Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Funeral will be from the West Hurley Methodist Church Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial in Woodstock Cemetery.

Lynch Company Honors Retiring Chief at Dinner

C. A. Lynch Fire Company of Saugerties reputed to be the oldest company in the state held its annual banquet for the first time in its new fire station on Theodore Place Saturday night.

The dinner attended by nearly 50 members and guests this year served as a testimonial to one of its members, John A. Hill, outgoing chief of Saugerties Fire Department.

Following the serving of roast beef by a committee of members including former Chief Hill as chef, Mandeville Diaz, company president and toastmaster presented a gift from the company to Hill.

Among those who spoke briefly was the Saugerties chief, Robert Desmond ,a member of R. A. Snyder Fire Company.

Desmond said he had formerly belonged to the Lynch Company and was always proud of his membership because of its fine record and the fact that it was the oldest fire company in the state.

Commissioner of Buildings Cornelius Cox, who until a few weeks ago was police commissioner, was the only member of the Village Board who attended. Contrary to reports, Cox did not speak on "raises for the police force," but took his usual bow when introduced.

Others at the speaker's table were Cornelius A. Lynch, for whom the company was named; Edward Flanagan, a past Saugerties chief; First Assistant Chief William P. McMonegal, and Earl Martin, second assistant chief. Also in attendance, representing the township was Assessor Ned Bond.

Budget Hearing Slated Tonight

A large attendance is anticipated at tonight's meeting of the Saugerties Village Board of Trustees when the tentative budget for the year 1961-May, 1962 will be open for public discussion. The meeting is scheduled for 7 o'clock at the village clerk's office in the municipal building, and all indications point to a lively session when the question of pay raises for village employees is considered.

The budget, as prepared, calls for pay increases for most of the village employees, excepting the members of the police force. This has been the subject of controversy throughout the area for the past month, and was enhanced on April 3, when Mayor George Holmes removed Cornelius M. Cox from the office of Police Commissioner and appointed George P. Terpening Jr. in his place. Cox was known to have been disturbed over the fact that his men were not included in the pay increases. He has made his stand very clear since then by speaking out at every meeting or dinner where he has had the opportunity to do so. However, the new police commissioner also issued a three point program, adopted by the police at the first meeting held since his appointment, which includes raising the standard of living of the police department personnel. He has made no other statements to indicate how he stands on the issue.

The budget to be reviewed tonight lists expenditures as $236,085; estimated revenues as $60,531, with the amount of $175,554 to be raised by taxation. The tentative tax rate is $17.364 per thousand.

Local Debaters Lose at Tourney

Saugerties High School's forensic hopes for a share of National Forensic speech laurels this year were dashed by early reverses in the State District tourney at Syracuse, Friday and Saturday. Jamestown speakers seemed to dominate virtually every field of activity. In addition to the "Sweepstakes" award for total points they won the debate championship over Jeffersonville, the Oratory and both first and second in Oratorical Interpretation.

Pamela LaPlante and Charles Hall, whose winning string was snapped at 14 consecutive wins; Sharon Johnson and Virginia Roeser gained consolation only from the fact that they fell before Albany, Ossining, Jeffersonville, and Jamestown all semi-finalists.

Mos encouraging of the Sawyer speech entries was that of Albert Giannotti and Wayne Abbott. Giannotti entered in both dramatic interpretation and oratorical interpretation advanced to the semi-finals in both events before his elimination. Abbott started with an opening round first but was eliminated when he had two subsequent thirds in Boy's extemporaneous.

The remainder of the Blue and White entries, Robert Francello, Linda Boettcher, Mary Metzler, Ronald Smith, Frank Mauro, Robert Herb, and Patricia Mayone, compiled sufficient points to give the Sawyers a cummulative placement of seventh among the 21 participating schools.

Special Displays Will Be Library Week Features

In keeping with National Library Week April 17-22, Saugerties Public Library will feature displays of local collectors and special shelves of books of particular interest.

Mandeville Diaz, curator of the village museum which is in the basement of the library, has arranged with local people to display some of their hobbies. Noteworthy is the First Day Covers of John Nau and Howard Wittenbeacher whose collections fill two of the glass display cases in the room. The commemorative envelopes cover almost every important event within the past 100 years up to and including the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy. The covers are from the north pole and south pole, World Fairs and Statehood anniversaries and a particularly interesting Last Day cover from the last run made by a famous old railroad.

Mrs. Betty Layton also has her stamp collection displayed which includes the Coronation series and several mint blocks.

On the main reading room floor, Mrs. Chester Glunt and Richard Smith have loaned some of their works of photography for display during the week. A fine oil painting of the old Schoonmaker stone house on Main Street done by Alida Schoonmaker is also displayed on the shelf above the fireplace in the children's section of the library.

Mrs. Layton has filled the special shelves throughout the room with books of interest, such as the one on the right of the front door for "Reading Out Loud Books," and the one on the left called the Garden Shelf.

The public may visit the library and view the displays. The library has recently had new lighting installed and the walls have been painted a soft green. Newspapers and magazines are always available and Mrs. Layton and her assistants will assist in finding special materials.

Little League Mothers Make Campaign Appeal

The Mothers Auxiliary of the Saugerties Little League is currently conducting a telephone campaign to get members as Little League boosters. Funds derived from this source are used to help defray the expense of the teams during the playing season, and the maintenance of the fields and equipment. Mrs. Charles Mullaney is chairman of the committee, but all members are actively working to make the campaign a success.

The auxiliary members have assisted the men in the registration of boys at the firehouse April 8 and 15, and will be at Cantine's Field April 24 when the spring training starts, to register any boy who failed to register at either previous date.

Girl Scouts Start Cookie Sale Delivery

Saugerties area Girl Scouts and Brownies have begun the delivery of 4800 boxes of cookies this week in Mt. Marion, Malden, West Camp, Blue Mountain, Barclay Heights and Saugerties, as a result of orders taken during Girl Scout Week by the ten participating local troops.

Mrs. Joseph Gaglianello, chairman of the drive, explained that half of the proceeds goes for the payment of the cookies, five cents of each box benefits the individual troop, and the remainder is used for operating costs of Girl Scout headquarters in the county, and for the maintenance of the Girl Scout Camp Wendy, Wallkill. Each troop has an extra supply of cookies for those who would like them but were not contacted for orders previously.

Little Gardens Group

Members of the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens answered roll call at its Wednesday meeting with varied descriptions of "Birds in My Yard." Mrs. Harry Smith of Ferry Street was hostess.

Mrs. Daniel Lamb presented the program for the afternoon from a paper prepared by her and Mrs. Arthur Lamb, called the Green Book of Rules, which concerned the preparation of a flower show and rules governing the judging of a show.

A new member, Mrs. Alyce Minogue was welcomed. Announcement was made of the postponement of the trip to Sterling Forest from April 26 to May 3, because of the cold weather. Anyone not attending Wednesday's meeting and desiring to make the trip should contact Mrs. Norman Bolinder of Garden Circle.

The next meeting will be held May 10, at the home of Mrs. William Willt, 157 Smith Avenue, Kingston.

Area Notes

T/Sgt Richard Rasmussen, who has been stationed with the U. S. Air Force in France for the past two years, is now visiting with his sister, Mrs. Roy Ennis at her home in West Camp. On Thursday of this week he will leave for Englin Air Base, Florida, where he will be stationed.

Emory Oliver returned to his home in West Camp after being a patient at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Albany for the past three weeks.

Scheduled Events

Tonight 7 o'clock village board, meets at village clerk's office.

Tuesday merchants committee of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting, will be held at the Exchange Hotel, 1 p. m.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Spread Risk and Avoid Major Loss

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "During 1953, I purchased 300 shares of Lockheed. Through stock dividends and stock splits, I now have 740 shares. In 1954, I bought 150 shares of Georgia-Pacific and as a result of stock dividends, I now have 450 shares. Should I sell all or a portion of these holdings?" — C. K.

A) Your question really comes down to this. Shall I remain over-concentrated in two issues, or shall I diversify and pay a large captial gains tax?

The choice isn't easy. You hold two strong stocks, both of which seem likely to sell higher. If you have read this column regularly you will recall that I have constantly liked Lockheed (NYSE) and have believed that it would overcome its Electra difficulties. I'm also on record as believing that Georgia-Pacific (NYSE) would benefit a good deal from Washington's efforts to spur housing construction.

I still like both stocks. You must understand, however, that there is risk in any stock investment. The only way you can protect yourself against a possible crippling loss in any single situation is to spread your risk over a fairly wide group of stocks. This is all that diversification means.

You haven't given me a list of your holdings, but I assume that the $60,000 you currently have tied up in these two situations represents a substantial part of your total invested capital. If this is so, your position is vulnerable and you should aim toward gradually shifting into other good quality equities over a period of time.

Q) "You mentioned American Sterilizer briefly. What do they make and do you still like the stock?" — S. W.

A) American Sterlizer (OTC) makes sterilizing and sanitizing equipment for hospitals and research laboratories. It also maintains such equipment on a fee basis for 2,600 hospitals. The company is in one of the fastest-growing groups in our economy, and I continue to like the shares.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Store Operator Gains Delay in Check, Wage Case

The case of Frank Goldwitz, 35, of 24 Marina Road, Poughkeepsie, who was picked up in Leeds on Saturday and returned to Poughkeepsie to face charges of issuing fraudulent checks and non-payment of wages, has been adjourned until May 2.

Goldwitz, who operates several discount centers in the area, is accused by George Clark, owner of Mike's Tavern, Poughkeepsie, of issuing two checks, one for $37.50, the other for $46, at the tavern. Both were returned from the National Bank of Coxsackie marked "insufficient funds," according to Poughkeepsie police.

The second charge, non-payment of wages, was entered by Albert G. Bruzgul, who contends that the defendant owes him $898 in wages for his job as manager and salesman from March 3 to April 7. Bail of $500 on each count was posted Saturday and he was released for an appearance in city court this morning.

Bishop Assails Faith Revision

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (AP)—The Episcopal bishop of Long Island has issued a pastoral letter critical of Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike of California for his statements about the virgin birth of Christ.

The Rt. Rev. James P. DeWolfe directed that his letter be read in the churches of the diocese next Sunday.

"No single bishop has the authority to revise the faith of this church," the letter declares.

Although the letter does not mention Bishop Pike by name, Bishop DeWolfe said at his residence here Sunday night that it obviously referred to recent comments by Bishop Pike.

In the Christian Century of Dec. 21, Bishop Pike wrote:

"Biblical evidence and the theological implications seem to be in favor of assuming that Joseph was the human father of Jesus."

As a result of the article, a group of Episcopal clergymen in Georgia brought charges of heresy against Bishop Pike.

Informed in San Francisco of the letter and its contents, Bishop Pike said he was "in no fundamental disagreement with Bishop DeWolfe's pastoral letter."

APRIL

April is especially associated with the coming of Spring. During this month the trees put on green leaves, early wild flowers begin to blossom, and the birds return in large numbers to their northern haunts. It is known as the month of changeable weather "April showers bring May flowers." This expression is often heard and suggests that April is a time of alternating rain and sunshine.

Don't let the April showers dampen your spirits. Come in and let us add a bit of sunshine to your life. A sensible insurance program will help. Allan L. Hanstein, Inc., 41 Pearl Street, Kingston. FEderal 1-3864.

Not Guilty, Says Eichmann To Indictment by Israel

By RELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann grated out the words "not guilty" 15 times in court today, denying all counts in Israel's monumental indictment naming him as the master destroyer of Jews in Europe during World War II.

The prosecution, opening its case, asserted that Eichmann beat a Jewish child to death with his own hands for stealing peaches.

"This," cried Israeli Attorney General Gideon Hausner, "is the trial of the destroyer."

The former Gestapo officer stared back at Hausner, unblinking.

Eichmann's plea of innocence marked the actual start of his trial on charges of complicity in the death of six million European Jews during the war. It came after the three-man court headed by Supreme Court Justice Moshe Landau overruled defense objections to the court's competence to hear the case and to the Israeli law under which Eichmann is charged. Landau said the details of the judges' reasoning would be embodied in their final decision at the end of the trial.

Then Landau ordered Eichmann to stand up and remove the headphones over which he listens to the translation into German of the Hebrew language of the court.

Point by point, through the 15 sections of the indictment, Landau repeated, "do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

Denes All Counts

Fifteen times Eichmann replied, "In the spirit of the indictment, I am not guilty."

His voice was firm and low-pitched. He stood stiff-backed, chin thrust defiantly upward, looking steadily at Landau from the prisoner's dock enclosed in sheets of bullet-proof glass.

A somber silence hung over the court during the 10 minutes that it took to go through this legal step.

Then Eichmann leaned back quietly in his chair, folded his hands in his lap, and looked at Hausner.

The attorney general adjusted the collar of his flowing black robes, waited a moment as the audience sat soundless, and then began in a voice vibrant with feeling:

"When I stand before you, judges of Israel, to accuse Adolf Eichmann, I do not stand here alone.

"Here with me stand six million prosecutors. But, Alas, they cannot rise and level a finger at the man in the prisoner's dock.

"Their blood cries to heaven but their voices cannot be heard."

The prosecutor outlined the rise of the Nazis to power in Germany in 1933, their use of anti-Semitism as a weapon to advance their objectives in the world and finally the ghastly ordeal visited on the Jews.

Carole, Finch To Move Today For New Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, faced sentencing to life imprisonment today for the murder of his socialite wife.

But first there were to be arguments on defense motions for a new trial — which, if granted, would be the fourth for the handsome surgeon and his auburn-haired ex-receptionist.

If a new trial is denied, the defense was expected to file a notice of appeal.

Finch, 43, who formerly had a thriving practice in suburban West Covina, and Miss Tregoff, 24, a onetime model, were convicted March 27 of killing his wife, Barbara Jean, 36.

The lovers claimed they had gone to the Finch home the night of July 18, 1959, merely to talk to his wife about getting a divorce. The doctor testified she produced a gun, he struggled with her and wrested it away and it discharged accidentally as he tried to toss it aside.

Mrs. Finch died of a bullet in the back. The state contended the defendants deliberately killed her so they could marry without sharing Finch's fortune with her in a divorce settlement.

On April 5 the same jury of 10 men and 2 women that had convicted the pair decreed life imprisonment. Under California law, murder trial juries that return convictions then deliberate a second time and set the penalty.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market churned in extremely heavy trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .10 at 245.60 with industrials up .60, rails off .10 and utilities off .10.

The strength in industrials was enough to push the Dow Jones industrial average on an hourly basis above the recent historic closing high.

Steels, most motors, oils and chemicals had an upside edge. Utilities declined. The group was depressed by a loss of about 2 points in American Telephone.

The electronics and aircraft-missile sections were mixed. Drugs tended to the downside. Schering dropped more than 2.

Expectations of another boost in weekly steel production aided the steels. The top producers were all up fractionally.

American Broadcasting - Paramount jumped more than 3.

Gains of about 2 points were made by Polaroid and Ronson. Ampex, Sperry Rand and Smith-Corona Marchant were all up about a point each. Radio Corp. was about a point lower.

Volume for the first two hours was 2.29 million shares, compared with 2.15 million the first two hours on Friday.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.34 at 695.06. The historic closing high was 694.11 posted last Tuesday.

John Saxe Dies

when he sold the business to Charles R. Tiller.

Helped Village Progress

Possessing a strong native attraction and affection for the community where he was born, Mr. Saxe was very active in helping to build up the present village of West Hurley. On the heights above the original village, he laid out a development and erected a number of houses there. This was one of the county's first "housing developments" built on the high ridge off the Ontora Trail with a magnificent view of the Catskill Mountains and the Ashokan reservoir.

Later he became interested in the development of a large tract of land about a half mile south of old Hurley village on the Kingston-Ellenville road in the Town of Hurley. This settlement known locally as "Saxeville," was developed into a modern suburban home community.

Supervisor 8 Years

The various activities of Mr. Saxe not only endeared him to his neighbors, but they sought to show their appreciation, which they did by electing him to the office of collector of taxes. So well was he acquainted with the needs of his town that they subsequently elected him supervisor of his town, the first Republican to be elected to the office of supervisor in the Town of Hurley in 12 years. He served his town as supervisor during 1912 and 1913 and again from 1916 through 1921 he served his town in the county legislative body, serving a total of eight years on the board of supervisors. The same confidence which had so long been shown by his neighbors followed him into the county's legislative hall and he was elected chairman of the board of supervisors.

Intimate acquaintance with the farming industry in Ulster County led to Mr. Saxe's election by the Board of Supervisors as the representative of that board to a directorship on the Ulster County Farm Bureau when that Bureau was organized. He served well as a director of the Ulster County Farm Bureau and was also a member of the Ulster County Agricultural Society.

Headed Bank Expansion

The confidence of the business community was demonstrated when he was elected a trustee of the Ulster County Savings Institution and a director of the State of New York National Bank of Kingston. Later he became vice-president and in 1937 was elected president, a position which he held with the State of New York National Bank at the time of his death. During his office as president the bank expanded, opening a branch and later consolidating with the former Ulster County National Bank of Kingston and recently with the Hugenot National Bank of New Paltz.

In 1922 Mr. Saxe was further honored by the citizens of Ulster County when he was elected Ulster County clerk. So well did he administer that office that he was re-elected County Clerk serving a total of six years in that office. It was during his tenure of office that the duties of the office increased through the addition of numerous new departments, including the issuance of motor vehicle licenses locally.

Became Sheriff

Mr. Saxe, a lifelong Republican, was selected as the Republican candidate for sheriff of Ulster County and in 1933 succeeded the late Wright J. (Doc) Smith in office. He served as sheriff from 1933 through 1935 and shortly thereafter he engaged in the active career as a banker, a profession which he continued until his recent illness.

During the time Mr. Saxe was a storekeeper at West Hurley he took a great interest in public affairs in his town and during the war he gave very generously of his time and ability to lend aid to his country. He was always active in all drives for charitable purpose, active in the Red Cross and served as chairman of many committees engaged in relief work. Because of his extreme friendship among his neighbors and his pleasing and genial disposition he became the Republican leader in his community and took a very active part in Republican politics throughout the county.

Socially Mr. Saxe was a member of Kingston Lodge No. 10, F&AM, of Kingston; Bearsville Lodge No. 533, IOOF; Hurley Grange, Ulster County Farm Bureau, Kingston Rotary Club, West Hurley Methodist Church and he was one of the organizers and a charter member of the West Hurley Fire Department.

Surviving is his wife, Ina E. Stone Saxe of West Hurley; a son, Ira N. Saxe of West Hurley; three daughters, Mrs. Carolyn Prothmann of Baldwin, Long Island, Mrs. Eleanor Nadeau Muller of New York City and Mrs. Evelyn S. Robinson of Scarsdale, N. Y. Five grandchildren also survive, John Robinson of Scarsdale, Miss Eliane Nadeau and Miss Lorraine Muller, both of New York City, Robert N., and James C. Saxe, both of West Hurley. His parents were the late Ira D. and Carrie Slater Saxe.

Friends may call at the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair Street, Tuesday from 7 to 9 p. m., and Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Funeral will be from the West Hurley Methodist Church Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial in Woodstock Cemetery.

Lynch Company Honors Retiring Chief at Dinner

C. A. Lynch Fire Company of Saugerties reputed to be the oldest company in the state held its annual banquet for the first time in its new fire station on Theodore Place Saturday night.

The dinner attended by nearly 50 members and guests this year served as a testimonial to one of its members, John A. Hill, outgoing chief of Saugerties Fire Department.

Following the serving of roast beef by a committee of members including former Chief Hill as chef, Mandeville Diaz, company president and toastmaster presented a gift from the company to Hill.

Among those who spoke briefly was the Saugerties chief, Robert Desmond ,a member of R. A. Snyder Fire Company.

Desmond said he had formerly belonged to the Lynch Company and was always proud of his membership because of its fine record and the fact that it was the oldest fire company in the state.

Commissioner of Buildings Cornelius Cox, who until a few weeks ago was police commissioner, was the only member of the Village Board who attended. Contrary to reports, Cox did not speak on "raises for the police force," but took his usual bow when introduced.

Others at the speaker's table were Cornelius A. Lynch, for whom the company was named; Edward Flanagan, a past Saugerties chief; First Assistant Chief William P. McMonegal, and Earl Martin, second assistant chief. Also in attendance, representing the township was Assessor Ned Bond.

Budget Hearing Slated Tonight

A large attendance is anticipated at tonight's meeting of the Saugerties Village Board of Trustees when the tentative budget for the year 1961-May, 1962 will be open for public discussion. The meeting is scheduled for 7 o'clock at the village clerk's office in the municipal building, and all indications point to a lively session when the question of pay raises for village employees is considered.

The budget, as prepared, calls for pay increases for most of the village employees, excepting the members of the police force. This has been the subject of controversy throughout the area for the past month, and was enhanced on April 3, when Mayor George Holmes removed Cornelius M. Cox from the office of Police Commissioner and appointed George P. Terpening Jr. in his place. Cox was known to have been disturbed over the fact that his men were not included in the pay increases. He has made his stand very clear since then by speaking out at every meeting or dinner where he has had the opportunity to do so. However, the new police commissioner also issued a three point program, adopted by the police at the first meeting held since his appointment, which includes raising the standard of living of the police department personnel. He has made no other statements to indicate how he stands on the issue.

The budget to be reviewed tonight lists expenditures as $236,085; estimated revenues as $60,531, with the amount of $175,554 to be raised by taxation. The tentative tax rate is $17.364 per thousand.

Local Debaters Lose at Tourney

Saugerties High School's forensic hopes for a share of National Forensic speech laurels this year were dashed by early reverses in the State District tourney at Syracuse, Friday and Saturday. Jamestown speakers seemed to dominate virtually every field of activity. In addition to the "Sweepstakes" award for total points they won the debate championship over Jeffersonville, the Oratory and both first and second in Oratorical Interpretation.

Pamela LaPlante and Charles Hall, whose winning string was snapped at 14 consecutive wins; Sharon Johnson and Virginia Roeser gained consolation only from the fact that they fell before Albany, Cssining, Jeffersonville, and Jamestown all semi-finalists.

Mos encouraging of the Sawyer speech entries was that of Albert Giannotti and Wayne Abbott. Giannotti entered in both dramatic interpretation and oratorical interpretation advanced to the semi-finals in both events before his elimination. Abbott started with an opening round first but was eliminated when he had two subsequent thirds in Boy's extemporaneous.

The remainder of the Blue and White entries, Robert Francello, Linda Boettcher, Mary Metzler, Ronald Smith, Frank Mauro, Robert Herb, and Patricia Mayone, compiled sufficient points to give the Sawyers a cummulative placement of seventh among the 21 participating schools.

Special Displays Will Be Library Week Features

In keeping with National Library Week April 17-22, Saugerties Public Library will feature displays of local collectors and special shelves of books of particular interest.

Mandeville Diaz, curator of the village museum which is in the basement of the library, has arranged with local people to display some of their hobbies. Noteworthy is the First Day Covers of John Nau and Howard Wittenbeacher whose collections fill two of the glass display cases in the room. The commemorative envelopes cover almost every important event within the past 100 years up to and including the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy. The covers are from the north pole and south pole, World Fairs and Statehood anniversaries and a particularly interesting Last Day cover from the last run made by a famous old railroad.

Mrs. Betty Layton also has her stamp collection displayed which includes the Coronation series and several mint blocks.

On the main reading room floor, Mrs. Chester Glunt and Richard Smith have loaned some of their works of photography for display during the week. A fine oil painting of the old Schoonmaker stone house on Main Street done by Alida Schoonmaker is also displayed on the shelf above the fireplace in the children's section of the library.

Mrs. Layton has filled the special shelves throughout the room with books of interest, such as the one on the right of the front door for "Reading Out Loud Books," and the one on the left called the Garden Shelf.

The public may visit the library and view the displays. The library has recently had new lighting installed and the walls have been painted a soft green. Newspapers and magazines are always available and Mrs. Layton and her assistants will assist in finding special materials.

Little League Mothers Make Campaign Appeal

The Mothers Auxiliary of the Saugerties Little League is currently conducting a telephone campaign to get members as Little League boosters. Funds derived from this source are used to help defray the expense of the teams during the playing season, and the maintenance of the fields and equipment. Mrs. Charles Mullaney is chairman of the committee, but all members are actively working to make the campaign a success.

The auxiliary members have assisted the men in the registration of boys at the firehouse April 8 and 15, and will be at Cantine's Field April 24 when the spring training starts, to register any boy who failed to register at either previous date.

Girl Scouts Start Cookie Sale Delivery

Saugerties area Girl Scouts and Brownies have begun the delivery of 4800 boxes of cookies this week in Mt. Marion, Malden, West Camp, Blue Mountain, Barclay Heights and Saugerties, as a result of orders taken during Girl Scout Week by the ten participating local troops.

Mrs. Joseph Gaglianello, chairman of the drive, explained that half of the proceeds goes for the payment of the cookies, five cents of each box benefits the individual troop, and the remainder is used for operating costs of Girl Scout headquarters in the county, and for the maintenance of the Girl Scout Camp Wendy, Wallkill. Each troop has an extra supply of cookies for those who would like them but were not contacted for orders previously.

Little Gardens Group

Members of the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens answered roll call at its Wednesday meeting with varied descriptions of "Birds in My Yard." Mrs. Harry Smith of Ferry Street was hostess.

Mrs. Daniel Lamb presented the program for the afternoon from a paper prepared by her and Mrs. Arthur Lamb, called the Green Book of Rules, which concerned the preparation of a flower show and rules governing the judging of a show.

A new member, Mrs. Alyce Minogue was welcomed. Announcement was made of the postponement of the trip to Sterling Forest from April 26 to May 3, because of the cold weather. Anyone not attending Wednesday's meeting and desiring to make the trip should contact Mrs. Norman Bolinder of Garden Circle.

The next meeting will be held May 10, at the home of Mrs. William Willt, 157 Smith Avenue, Kingston.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Spread Risk and Avoid Major Loss

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "During 1953, I purchased 300 shares of Lockheed. Through stock dividends and stock splits, I now have 740 shares. In 1954, I bought 150 shares of Georgia-Pacific and as a result of stock dividends, I now have 450 shares. Should I sell all or a portion of these holdings?" — C. K.

A) Your question really comes down to this. Shall I remain over-concentrated in two issues, or shall I diversify and pay a large captial gains tax?

The choice isn't easy. You hold two strong stocks, both of which seem likely to sell higher. If you have read this column regularly you will recall that I have constantly liked Lockheed (NYSE) and have believed that it would overcome its Electra difficulties. I'm also on record as believing that Georgia-Pacific (NYSE) would benefit a good deal from Washington's efforts to spur housing construction.

I still like both stocks. You must understand, however, that there is risk in any stock investment. The only way you can protect yourself against a possible crippling loss in any single situation is to spread your risk over a fairly wide group of stocks. This is all that diversification means.

You haven't given me a list of your holdings, but I assume that the $60,000 you currently have tied up in these two situations represents a substantial part of your total invested capital. If this is so, your position is vulnerable and you should aim toward gradually shifting into other good quality equities over a period of time.

Q) "You mentioned American Sterilizer briefly. What do they make and do you still like the stock?" — S. W.

A) American Sterlizer (OTC) makes sterilizing and sanitizing equipment for hospitals and research laboratories. It also maintains such equipment on a fee basis for 2,600 hospitals. The company is in one of the fastest-growing groups in our economy, and I continue to like the shares.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Store Operator Gains Delay in Check, Wage Case

The case of Frank Goldwitz, 35, of 24 Marina Road, Poughkeepsie, who was picked up in Leeds on Saturday and returned to Poughkeepsie to face charges of issuing fraudulent checks and non-payment of wages, has been adjourned until May 2.

Goldwitz, who operates several discount centers in the area, is accused by George Clark, owner of Mike's Tavern, Poughkeepsie, of issuing two checks, one for $37.50, the other for $46, at the tavern. Both were returned from the National Bank of Coxsackie marked "insufficient funds," according to Poughkeepsie police.

The second charge, non-payment of wages, was entered by Albert G. Bruzgul, who contends that the defendant owes him $898 in wages for his job as manager and salesman from March 3 to April 7. Bail of $500 on each count was posted Saturday and he was released for an appearance in city court this morning.

Bishop Assails Faith Revision

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (AP)—The Episcopal bishop of Long Island has issued a pastoral letter critical of Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike of California for his statements about the virgin birth of Christ.

The Rt. Rev. James P. DeWolfe directed that his letter be read in the churches of the diocese next Sunday.

"No single bishop has the authority to revise the faith of this church," the letter declares.

Although the letter does not mention Bishop Pike by name, Bishop DeWolfe said at his residence here Sunday night that it obviously referred to recent comments by Bishop Pike.

In the Christian Century of Dec. 21, Bishop Pike wrote:

"Biblical evidence and the theological implications seem to be in favor of assuming that Joseph was the human father of Jesus."

As a result of the article, a group of Episcopal clergymen in Georgia brought charges of heresy against Bishop Pike.

Informed in San Francisco of the letter and its contents, Bishop Pike said he was "in no fundamental disagreement with Bishop DeWolfe's pastoral letter."

APRIL

April is especially associated with the coming of Spring. During this month the trees put on green leaves, early wild flowers begin to blossom, and the birds return in large numbers to their northern haunts. It is known as the month of changeable weather "April showers bring May flowers." This expression is often heard and suggests that April is a time of alternating rain and sunshine.

Don't let the April showers dampen your spirits. Come in and let us add a bit of sunshine to your life. A sensible insurance program will help. Allan L. Hanstein, Inc., 41 Pearl Street, Kingston. FEderal 1-3864.

'World Freedom' Crusade Urged

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, one of the nation's most influential Protestant ministers and editors, today urged Americans everywhere to join a "World Freedom" crusade to "lift high the inalienable and fundamental right of every inhabitant of this globe to be free."

"Today the supreme world issue is not peace, peace at any price," Dr. Poling said. "It is not disarmament. Here and now the supreme world issue is freedom.

"Men have the right to be free," he said. "When this fact comes into focus, not only is our determination to achieve it immeasurably strengthened, but other lesser objectives fall into their proper places."

Dr. Poling, editor of Christian Herald and author of 28 books on religion in America, urged that "Freedom take the offensive, an offensive sweeping across all continents and all frontiers."

He suggested that the crusade be called "Americans United for World Freedom" and that its target date be 1976, the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

"But the time to begin is now," Dr. Poling said. "Americans still uphold Patrick Henry's 'Give me liberty or give me death.' In this hydrogen age we must add the sobering but inescapable ultimatum: Freedom for the world or atomic death for all. Freedom can no longer be isolated. It must be for all if eventually it is to be at all."

Dr. Poling, who has lectured in almost every country and flown more than two million miles to defend freedom and promote brotherhood slammed "sincere but mistaken and blind leaders who cry 'peace' and 'disarmament' and who call upon America to surender some of the basic guarantees of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, even branding these documents as 'outdated' and 'selfish.'

"They would have us mutilate American freedom in the interests of a world authority that in the expressed opinion of these mistaken ones would guarantee peace. They are blind leaders who would blind their fellow Americans. They cry 'peace' where there is and as of now can be no peace," Dr. Poling said.

Tool Engineers Exposition Set For May 22-26

Harry E. Conrad, general manager of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers, Detroit, said today a "quiet revolution" is underway in creative manufacturing techniqus. "In effect, this revolution will accomplish changes just as dramatic as the industrial revolution of the nineteenth century," Conrad said. "Continued prosperity and progress will be earned by those companies that keep pace with the trend."

Slated at Coliseum

ASTME's annual Tool Exposition and Convention, scheduled for New York City, May 22 to 26, will provide an opportunity for metalworking executives to evaluate the latest developments in their field. Over $12,000,000 worth of the latest creative manufacturing equipment will be displayed at the Coliseum. Concurrently, a series of technical sessions will give convention registrants an opportunity to get expert advice on the practical application of new materials and processes.

Nine plant tours to local industries have been planned. Hosts will be the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Electrolux Corp., Ford Motor Co., Fred Heinzelman & Sons, Pitney-Bowes, Inc., American Machine & Foundry Co., and Adamas Carbide Corp. Three Tech-Tours, which combine engineering discussions with plant tours, will take visitors to Republic Aviation Corp. to view numerical control facilities, Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. for a high energy metalworking demonstration, and to International Business Machines Corp., for a manufacturing operations management discussion and tour.

Registration Outlined

Registration forms can be obtained from ASTME Headquarters, 10700 Puritan Avenue, Detroit 38, Michigan. Those who register before May 1 will receive a Time Saver Badge and advance program by mail, and will be covered with $10,000 accidental death and dismemberment insurance. The insurance will provide 24-hour protection for the visitor — from the time he leaves his home for the Convention, until he returns.

Members of Catskill Region Chapter No. 151, Kingston are planning to attend.

Bad Year

More Americans were killed in motor vehicle accidents during the first six months of 1959 than succumbed to acute poliomyelitis, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough and diphtheria combined in the preceding six years.

'World Freedom' Crusade Urged

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, one of the nation's most influential Protestant ministers and editors, today urged Americans everywhere to join a "World Freedom" crusade to "lift high the inalienable and fundamental right of every inhabitant of this globe to be free."

"Today the supreme world issue is not peace, peace at any price," Dr. Poling said. "It is not disarmament. Here and now the supreme world issue is freedom.

"Men have the right to be free," he said. "When this fact comes into focus, not only is our determination to achieve it immeasurably strengthened, but other lesser objectives fall into their proper places."

Dr. Poling, editor of Christian Herald and author of 28 books on religion in America, urged that "Freedom take the offensive, an offensive sweeping across all continents and all frontiers."

He suggested that the crusade be called "Americans United for World Freedom" and that its target date be 1976, the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

"But the time to begin is now," Dr. Poling said. "Americans still uphold Patrick Henry's 'Give me liberty or give me death.' In this hydrogen age we must add the sobering but inescapable ultimatum: Freedom for the world or atomic death for all. Freedom can no longer be isolated. It must be for all if eventually it is to be at all."

Dr. Poling, who has lectured in almost every country and flown more than two million miles to defend freedom and promote brotherhood slammed "sincere but mistaken and blind leaders who cry 'peace' and 'disarmament' and who call upon America to surender some of the basic guarantees of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, even branding these documents as 'outdated' and 'selfish.'

"They would have us mutilate American freedom in the interests of a world authority that in the expressed opinion of these mistaken ones would guarantee peace. They are blind leaders who would blind their fellow Americans. They cry 'peace' where there is and as of now can be no peace," Dr. Poling said.

Tool Engineers Exposition Set For May 22-26

Harry E. Conrad, general manager of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers, Detroit, said today a "quiet revolution" is underway in creative manufacturing techniqus. "In effect, this revolution will accomplish changes just as dramatic as the industrial revolution of the nineteenth century," Conrad said. "Continued prosperity and progress will be earned by those companies that keep pace with the trend."

Slated at Coliseum

ASTME's annual Tool Exposition and Convention, scheduled for New York City, May 22 to 26, will provide an opportunity for metalworking executives to evaluate the latest developments in their field. Over $12,000,000 worth of the latest creative manufacturing equipment will be displayed at the Coliseum. Concurrently, a series of technical sessions will give convention registrants an opportunity to get expert advice on the practical application of new materials and processes.

Nine plant tours to local industries have been planned. Hosts will be the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Electrolux Corp., Ford Motor Co., Fred Heinzelman & Sons, Pitney-Bowes, Inc., American Machine & Foundry Co., and Adamas Carbide Corp. Three Tech-Tours, which combine engineering discussions with plant tours, will take visitors to Republic Aviation Corp. to view numerical control facilities, Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. for a high energy metalworking demonstration, and to International Business Machines Corp., for a manufacturing operations management discussion and tour.

Registration Outlined

Registration forms can be obtained from ASTME Headquarters, 10700 Puritan Avenue, Detroit 38, Michigan. Those who register before May 1 will receive a Time Saver Badge and advance program by mail, and will be covered with $10,000 accidental death and dismemberment insurance. The insurance will provide 24-hour protection for the visitor — from the time he leaves his home for the Convention, until he returns.

Members of Catskill Region Chapter No. 151, Kingston are planning to attend.

Bad Year

More Americans were killed in motor vehicle accidents during the first six months of 1959 than succumbed to acute poliomyelitis, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough and diphtheria combined in the preceding six years.

Democrats Hear van Rijn's Plan On Financing

Dates for the annual rummage sale and a first annual picnic were announced at the April meeting of the Woodstock Democratic Club in Deanie's.

The rummage sale will be held on Saturday, June 3, in the foyer and promenade of the Woodstock Playhouse. Jean Gaede and Betty Biesele have been named co-chairmen.

Sub-committees will be announced at a meeting of workers this week at the home of Mrs. Gaede in Bearsville. Collection centers will be designated at that time.

The Club's first picnic is scheduled on Sunday, August 6, at Morrison's in Lake Hill. Co-chairmen for the event are Thomas O'Brien, temporary chairman of the club, and Vito Di Benedetto, a Democratic town committeeman. Details will be announced later.

William Kronenberg of Zena was named chairman of a nominating committee to recommend a slate of officers for the annual election meeting on Thursday, May 12. Nominations may also be made from the floor at the May meeting.

Lewis Resolution

Other members of the nominating committee are: Bernice St. Pierre, Lawrence Walker, Thoas O'Brien, Edmund Gilligan Irving Kalish, George Eichler, Vito Di Benedetto and Earl Christiana.

Temporary chairman Thomas O'Brien announced that new membership cards will be ready by the May meeting. He also said that refreshments will be served at the May meeting.

Louis A. Lewis, former Democratic town chairman, offered a resolution urging the Planning Board to avail itself of the service of stream survey teams that are furnished by the State Conservation Department to survey local streams as a prelude to planning. A motion was adopted to write a letter to the Planning Board suggesting such action.

'Progress at Onteora' Is Theme for Tuesday At Onteora P-TA Panel

The Onteora P-TA will stage its annual "Progress at Onteora" meeting on Tuesday, April 18, at 8 p. m. in the cafeteria of the main building at Boiceville.

The meeting will deal with the improvements made in the school system at Onteora during the past year.

Members of the Board of Education and school administrators, including William H. Deming, Paul T. Runge, Ronald P. Vanni and George T. Finigan will participate in the panel discussion.

Fire Co. Auxiliary Is Planning Party

The Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Company No. 3 invites all area women to attend a houseware party on Tuesday, April 25, at 8:30 p. m. in the Lake Hill Firehouse.

An evening of pleasant relaxation with a variety of refreshments is planned. Part of the proceeds will be for the benefit of the Auxiliary's fund.

Slate Seminar At Local School

The Rev. Roger Gilbert Brown will give a seminar on International Relations on four Monday evenings in May at the Woodstock elementary school.

Rev. Brown, a graduate of Columbia University, has recently given a similar course in the Adult Education Program at the Onteora Central School. The aim of the course will be to develop a better understanding of international politics and will include study of elements of national power, propaganda, the United Nations and problems of world peace.

The first meeting will be held on Monday, May 1, at 8 p. m. The course is offered through the League of Women Voters of Woodstock and is open to the public. There is no fee.

Democratic Club Sets Dates For Rummage Sale and Picnic

A plan of voluntary financing of the township's Growth Plan was outlined to members of the Woodstock Democratic Club by J. C. van Rijn, chairman of the town Planning Board, at the club's April meeting in Deanie's.

van Rijn urged the 35 members present to pledge a donation, no matter how small, to the voluntary finance plan which is designed to raise $20,000 to get the Growth Plan under way.

The Planning Board chairman was a guest speaker at the Democratic Club meeting, along with Benjamin Webster, chairman of the Woodstock Association and also a member of the Planning Board.

van Rijn mentioned nearby Cooperstown as an example of a town which financed its growth plan through private donations. In Woodstock, a public subscription would be matched by a private donation of $10,000 to make up the required $20,000, van Rijn told the group.

The Planning Board chairman said he was hopeful the amount could be raised within six weeks. A total of $1,500 has been pledged since the recent meeting of local businessmen with a nationally famous planning consultant who has been working with the local board.

van Rijn said he preferred the public subscription idea, with pledges paid over a three-year period, to financing by a town budget appreciation. The voluntary plan would be tangible evidence that public sentiment was in favor of town planning.

The board acknowledged the fact that the widest possible publicity must be given the various stages required to get the Growth Plan into operation. He announced that a public meeting on planning would be held within three weeks at the town hall when a prominent planning expert would be present.

Hearing Slated

The Democratic Club members were also assured that there would be public hearings on all vital phases of the Growth Plan.

Webster outlined the background and general purposes and aims of the Woodstock Association and traced the growth of organized planning. He said the Association was a private, nonprofit group of Woodstock citizens who were concerned with the orderly growth of the community, while retaining those aspects of Woodstock which have made it unique as a town.

Webster said planning was not a new theory and, in effect, there was evidence of some forms of planning in the early 17th century. Modern planning and zoning had it inception in New York city in 1910 and is now a universally accepted method of controlling growth patterns in cities and communities around the world.

The Association chairman said that the Woodstock Association's survey in February 1960 furnished substantial evidence that residents of the township desired some form of planning.

Following their formal presentations, van Rijn and Webster answered several questions from the floor on planning and zoning.

Town Notes

Dr. Samuel B. Hand, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hand of Woodstock, has been awarded a Grant from the Harry S. Truman Library Institution for national and international affairs for research in Independent, Missouri, this summer on a biography of Judge Samuel I. Rosenman.

Woodstock took on the aspects of a Swiss village Saturday, with snow-capped Overlook Mountain forming a perfect backdrop for the sun drenched village. Occasional cars whisking through the village with skis strapped to the tops further accentuated the Swiss atmosphere. Sunday, well, that was another thing.

Justice of the Peace Rudi Baumgarten had the grand opening for his new service station in Route 28, across the highway from his old place of business. The grand opening marked his seventh year in the filling station business.

Recent returnees to Woodstock are Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Solomon of the Ohayo Mountain road from their annual sojourn to Mexico and Peter Whitehead, the Squire of Byrdcliffe, who spent several weeks in the southwest and California.

With something like 15 ties on their hand for the best slogan for Woodstock, the Jayces have a bit of a problem on their hands, but president Bob Carr is coming with a satisfactory solution.

Mrs. Evelyn Neeld has assumed duties as secretaray in charge of the Woodstock Country Club office. She is a temporary replacement for George Schwarzwaelder, who is recuperating from an extended illness.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock Town Board will be held Tuesday, April 18, at 8 p. m. at the town hall.

Trick Stealing Is Bridge Art

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This week's articles will concern themselves with a different type of bridge crime. The crime of stealing a trick or so.

This trick stealing is particularly important in duplicate where an extra trick may bring you a top score instead of an average and expert players continually go after everything that is not nailed down.

North's raise to three no-trump was a very good bid. He felt that his six card heart suit would produce as many tricks at no-trump as at hearts. Of course, if the opponents had gotten around to leading diamonds he would have been wrong, but West had a normal club opening.

A low club was played from dummy and after East played the eight South won the trick with his ten spot.

A heart was passed to East and he returned the deuce of clubs. South played the queen and West's king forced dummy's ace.

Now South ran off all dummy's hearts and discarded his four diamonds. West had to discard one of his spades. Four spade leads followed and on the last spade lead West didn't know whether to keep the ace of diamonds or the jack of clubs and finally went wrong. South made six no-trump for a real top.

Of course, East should have discarded so that West would know what to hold, but the point is that when South played the ten and queen of clubs and hung on to the nine he gave them a chance to go wrong.

Democrats Hear van Rijn's Plan On Financing

Dates for the annual rummage sale and a first annual picnic were announced at the April meeting of the Woodstock Democratic Club in Deanie's.

The rummage sale will be held on Saturday, June 3, in the foyer and promenade of the Woodstock Playhouse. Jean Gaede and Betty Biesele have been named co-chairmen.

Sub-committees will be announced at a meeting of workers this week at the home of Mrs. Gaede in Bearsville. Collection centers will be designated at that time.

The Club's first picnic is scheduled on Sunday, August 6, at Morrison's in Lake Hill. Co-chairmen for the event are Thomas O'Brien, temporary chairman of the club, and Vito Di Benedetto, a Democratic town committeeman. Details will be announced later.

William Kronenberg of Zena was named chairman of a nominating committee to recommend a slate of officers for the annual election meeting on Thursday, May 12. Nominations may also be made from the floor at the May meeting.

Lewis Resolution

Other members of the nominating committee are: Bernice St. Pierre, Lawrence Walker, Thoas O'Brien, Edmund Gilligan Irving Kalish, George Eichler, Vito Di Benedetto and Earl Christiana.

Temporary chairman Thomas O'Brien announced that new membership cards will be ready by the May meeting. He also said that refreshments will be served at the May meeting.

Louis A. Lewis, former Democratic town chairman, offered a resolution urging the Planning Board to avail itself of the service of stream survey teams that are furnished by the State Conservation Department to survey local streams as a prelude to planning. A motion was adopted to write a letter to the Planning Board suggesting such action.

'Progress at Onteora' Is Theme for Tuesday At Onteora P-TA Panel

The Onteora P-TA will stage its annual "Progress at Onteora" meeting on Tuesday, April 18, at 8 p. m. in the cafeteria of the main building at Boiceville.

The meeting will deal with the improvements made in the school system at Onteora during the past year.

Members of the Board of Education and school administrators, including William H. Deming, Paul T. Runge, Ronald P. Vanni and George T. Finigan will participate in the panel discussion.

Fire Co. Auxiliary Is Planning Party

The Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Company No. 3 invites all area women to attend a houseware party on Tuesday, April 25, at 8:30 p. m. in the Lake Hill Firehouse.

An evening of pleasant relaxation with a variety of refreshments is planned. Part of the proceeds will be for the benefit of the Auxiliary's fund.

Slate Seminar At Local School

The Rev. Roger Gilbert Brown will give a seminar on International Relations on four Monday evenings in May at the Woodstock elementary school.

Rev. Brown, a graduate of Columbia University, has recently given a similar course in the Adult Education Program at the Onteora Central School. The aim of the course will be to develop a better understanding of international politics and will include study of elements of national power, propaganda, the United Nations and problems of world peace.

The first meeting will be held on Monday, May 1, at 8 p. m. The course is offered through the League of Women Voters of Woodstock and is open to the public. There is no fee.

Democratic Club Sets Dates For Rummage Sale and Picnic

A plan of voluntary financing of the township's Growth Plan was outlined to members of the Woodstock Democratic Club by J. C. van Rijn, chairman of the town Planning Board, at the club's April meeting in Deanie's.

van Rijn urged the 35 members present to pledge a donation, no matter how small, to the voluntary finance plan which is designed to raise $20,000 to get the Growth Plan under way.

The Planning Board chairman was a guest speaker at the Democratic Club meeting, along with Benjamin Webster, chairman of the Woodstock Association and also a member of the Planning Board.

van Rijn mentioned nearby Cooperstown as an example of a town which financed its growth plan through private donations. In Woodstock, a public subscription would be matched by a private donation of $10,000 to make up the required $20,000, van Rijn told the group.

The Planning Board chairman said he was hopeful the amount could be raised within six weeks. A total of $1,500 has been pledged since the recent meeting of local businessmen with a nationally famous planning consultant who has been working with the local board.

van Rijn said he preferred the public subscription idea, with pledges paid over a three-year period, to financing by a town budget appreciation. The voluntary plan would be tangible evidence that public sentiment was in favor of town planning.

The board acknowledged the fact that the widest possible publicity must be given the various stages required to get the Growth Plan into operation. He announced that a public meeting on planning would be held within three weeks at the town hall when a prominent planning expert would be present.

Hearing Slated

The Democratic Club members were also assured that there would be public hearings on all vital phases of the Growth Plan.

Webster outlined the background and general purposes and aims of the Woodstock Association and traced the growth of organized planning. He said the Association was a private, non-profit group of Woodstock citizens who were concerned with the orderly growth of the community, while retaining those aspects of Woodstock which have made it unique as a town.

Webster said planning was not a new theory and, in effect, there was evidence of some forms of planning in the early 17th century. Modern planning and zoning had it inception in New York city in 1910 and is now a universally accepted method of controlling growth patterns in cities and communities around the world.

The Association chairman said that the Woodstock Association's survey in February 1960 furnished substantial evidence that residents of the township desired some form of planning.

Following their formal presentations, van Rijn and Webster answered several questions from the floor on planning and zoning.

Town Notes

Dr. Samuel B. Hand, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hand of Woodstock, has been awarded a Grant from the Harry S. Truman Library Institution for national and international affairs for research in Independent, Missouri, this summer on a biography of Judge Samuel I. Rosenman.

Woodstock took on the aspects of a Swiss village Saturday, with snow-capped Overlook Mountain forming a perfect backdrop for the sun drenched village. Occasional cars whisking through the village with skis strapped to the tops further accentuated the Swiss atmosphere. Sunday, well, that was another thing.

Justice of the Peace Rudi Baumgarten had the grand opening for his new service station in Route 28, across the highway from his old place of business. The grand opening marked his seventh year in the filling station business.

Recent returnees to Woodstock are Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Solomon of the Ohayo Mountain road from their annual sojourn to Mexico and Peter Whitehead, the Squire of Byrdcliffe, who spent several weeks in the southwest and California.

With something like 15 ties on their hand for the best slogan for Woodstock, the Jayces have a bit of a problem on their hands, but president Bob Carr is coming with a satisfactory solution.

Mrs. Evelyn Neeld has assumed duties as secretaray in charge of the Woodstock Country Club office. She is a temporary replacement for George Schwarzwaelder, who is recuperating from an extended illness.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock Town Board will be held Tuesday, April 18, at 8 p. m. at the town hall.

Trick Stealing Is Bridge Art

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This week's articles will concern themselves with a different type of bridge crime. The crime of stealing a trick or so.

This trick stealing is particularly important in duplicate where an extra trick may bring you a top score instead of an average and expert players continually go after everything that is not nailed down.

North's raise to three no-trump was a very good bid. He felt that his six card heart suit would produce as many tricks at no-trump as at hearts. Of course, if the opponents had gotten around to leading diamonds he would have been wrong, but West had a normal club opening.

A low club was played from dummy and after East played the eight South won the trick with his ten spot.

A heart was passed to East and he returned the deuce of clubs. South played the queen and West's king forced dummy's ace.

Now South ran off all dummy's hearts and discarded his four diamonds. West had to discard one of his spades. Four spade leads followed and on the last spade lead West didn't know whether to keep the ace of diamonds or the jack of clubs and finally went wrong. South made six no-trump for a real top.

Of course, East should have discarded so that West would know what to hold, but the point is that when South played the ten and queen of clubs and hung on to the nine he gave them a chance to go wrong.

Agreement Halts Bus Shutdown in Upstate Cities

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Buses were rolling again in Buffalo and Niagara Falls today following settlement of a crippling shutdown over drivers' schedules. For thousands, it meant getting to work without thumbing a ride or joining a car pool.

Niagara Frontier Transit Co. drivers agreed by voice vote in jammed downtown hall Sunday night to return to work at 4 a.m. today. The proposals they accepted were hammered out in a six - hour emergency meeting earlier by a citizen's committee and company and union officials.

The tie-up had left about 700,000 people in Buffalo and its northern suburbs without public transportation for a week. It spread to Niagara Falls Sunday morning when drivers there refused their new schedules, just as the Buffalo drivers had done the Sunday before.

The issue — overtime in the weekend runs—was the same in both cities serviced jointly by the NFT and its 1,000 drivers.

Under the agreement, drivers will work until Wednesday schedules which were in effect before the shutdown. Then they will bid on runs from the new schedules on a seniority basis.

After a five-week period, no runs will be assigned that extend over an 8½-hour period. This was the heart of the dispute.

State Observance

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Today is Verrazano Day in New York State and Wednesday will be Seventh Regiment Day. May first is Law Day and April 24-30 is Nurse Week.

Gov. Rockefeller issued proclamations today and over the weekend noting the anniversary of Giovanni da Verrazano's discovery of New York Harbor, the Civil War exploits of the Seventh Regiment, the inspiration of law and the state's pride in women who make nursing their life work.

Park Consultant Named

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Charles W. Mattison, a retired federal forestry official, will serve as a $10,000-a-year consultant in the state's purchase of $75 million in park lands.

Mattison, of Middle Grove, Saratoga County, retired last July as chief of the education branch of the U.S. Forest Service.

The Conservation Department said today he had been appointed as a consultant to handle administrative details in the park-land acquisition program.

Urge Chauffeurs Seek Renewal Before May 31

ALBANY — Chauffeurs whose licenses expire May 31 of this year, but who have not yet received a renewal application in the mail, were urged today to contact their nearest Motor Vehicle office.

If they don't, Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults warned today, they face possible delay in renewing their license.

The warning stems from a new punch-card licensing procedure begun this year by the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

"It no longer is possible to go into a Motor Vehicle office and pick up a chauffeur license blank," the Cmmissioner explained. "All applications, in the form of punch-cards, have been put into the mail, with the driver's name, address, and other vital statistics pre-imprinted."

"The cards are sent to the last address on file in our records," the commissioner explained.

Out of 758,000 such cards mailed out earlier this month, only 35,000, or fewer than five per cent, have been returned to the department by the Post Office Department as undeliverable.

Of these 35,000, Commissioner Hults said, many of the drivers may have died or moved out of state. But there will still be some of the 35,000 who have failed to keep the department of Motor Vehicles district office or, in most counties, their county clerk.

There, they will be asked to fill out a simple form (DP-120) and submit their current chauffeur license. After these are checked in the department's Albany office, and their records are straightened out, they will receive, by mail, their new punch-card application.

"This procedure will take a few days," Commissioner Hults warned. "Thus the sooner these chauffeurs attend to contacting their motor vehicle office, the sooner they'll have their new punch-card, wallet-sized licenses."

So far, Commissioner Hults said, there have been only minor difficulties in connection with the department's new mechanized license renewal program.

Chauffeur licenses are being converted to punch-cards as they expire, beginning this year. The vastly greater task of issuing punch-card operator licenses as those licenses expire will begin this fall. Since all New York State licenses are normally issued for three-year periods, every driver's license in the state will be on punch-cards by the end of 1963.

WE SOW INFLATION

For 20 years, the money supplies in America have been skyrocketing. One could gather from a casual examination of their growth that the wealth of the country has been increasing by leaps and bounds.

Yet such is not the case. In December of 1941 the 6,619 member banks of the Federal Reserve System had total demand and time deposits of $51,192,000,000. On January 25, 1961 the demand and time deposits of 6,164 member banks were $166,502,000,000! Thus, while the number of member banks was decreasing by 455, the deposit amount had increased more than $115,000,000,000.

Increase in wealth was aided very little by this enormous dollar growth. What did cause this spectacular advance in dollar supplies?

Mainly it was the growth of the federal debt. In 1941 before Pearl Harbor this debt was $48,000,000,000. On the 17th of March, 1961 it was $289,774,000,000. Thus in about 20 years the debt of the United States Government has increased by about $240,000,000,000! That is an average growth of 12 billions a year.

Now the savings in America have fallen far short of the growth of the debt, with the result that the commercial banking system has been forced to finance the debt. This has been accomplished by the banks' purchases of the bonds created by governmental deficit financing.

If the savings of the thrifty people in America had been as large as the federal deficits, and if these thrifty people had bought these bonds with their savings, there would not have been such an enormous increase in bank deposits.

Monetizing debt turns deficits into dollars. That is the primary force behind inflation. It generates the power that pushes prices, wages, costs and taxes higher and higher.

It is also a propelling force in the stock market. Millions of investors who understand what has been happening to the dollar for two decades not only will not take profits in stocks because of this money deterioration but they will also buy common stock at fantastic prices in the earnest endeavor to protect their money against further deterioration.

Today there are many stocks selling at 30, 40, and 50 times annual earnings. Without a deteriorating dollar, these things simply would not be.

The administration in Washington is predicting that federal deficits will be substantial in the two fiscal years ahead. Some estimates run as high as $5,000,000,000.

The stock market, it seems to me, is already discounting these red figures. Earnings and dividends should, of course, determine common stock prices.

But in 1961 and in the years ahead such calculations cannot be depended upon. Capital gains' taxes that prevent millions of investors from taking profits, unbalanced budgets in Washington that unsoundly increase the money supplies, a growing concern about the future purchasing power of the dollar—these are tremendous forces underlying common stock prices.

Economic America reaps what she sows. And for more than 20 years the seeds of inflation have been planted in our social, economic and political soil. No wonder the stock market is dangerously high.

"The cards are sent to the last address on file in our records," the commissioner explained.

Out of 758,000 such cards mailed out earlier this month, only 35,000, or fewer than five per cent, have been returned to the department by the Post Office Department as undeliverable.

Of these 35,000, Commissioner Hults said, many of the drivers may have died or moved out of state. But there will still be some of the 35,000 who have failed to keep the department of Motor Vehicles district office or, in most counties, their county clerk.

There, they will be asked to fill out a simple form (DP-120) and submit their current chauffeur license. After these are checked in the department's Albany office, and their records are straightened out, they will receive, by mail, their new punch-card application.

"This procedure will take a few days," Commissioner Hults warned. "Thus the sooner these chauffeurs attend to contacting their motor vehicle office, the sooner they'll have their new punch-card, wallet-sized licenses."

So far, Commissioner Hults said, there have been only minor difficulties in connection with the department's new mechanized license renewal program.

Chauffeur licenses are being converted to punch-cards as they expire, beginning this year. The vastly greater task of issuing punch-card operator licenses as those licenses expire will begin this fall. Since all New York State licenses are normally issued for three-year periods, every driver's license in the state will be on punch-cards by the end of 1963.

WE SOW INFLATION

For 20 years, the money supplies in America have been skyrocketing. One could gather from a casual examination of their growth that the wealth of the country has been increasing by leaps and bounds.

Yet such is not the case. In December of 1941 the 6,619 member banks of the Federal Reserve System had total demand and time deposits of $51,192,000,000. On January 25, 1961 the demand and time deposits of 6,164 member banks were $166,502,000,000! Thus, while the number of member banks was decreasing by 455, the deposit amount had increased more than $115,000,000,000.

Increase in wealth was aided very little by this enormous dollar growth. What did cause this spectacular advance in dollar supplies?

Mainly it was the growth of the federal debt. In 1941 before Pearl Harbor this debt was $48,000,000,000. On the 17th of March, 1961 it was $289,774,000,000. Thus in about 20 years the debt of the United States Government has increased by about $240,000,000,000! That is an average growth of 12 billions a year.

Now the savings in America have fallen far short of the growth of the debt, with the result that the commercial banking system has been forced to finance the debt. This has been accomplished by the banks' purchases of the bonds created by governmental deficit financing.

If the savings of the thrifty people in America had been as large as the federal deficits, and if these thrifty people had bought these bonds with their savings, there would not have been such an enormous increase in bank deposits.

Monetizing debt turns deficits into dollars. That is the primary force behind inflation. It generates the power that pushes prices, wages, costs and taxes higher and higher.

It is also a propelling force in the stock market. Millions of investors who understand what has been happening to the dollar for two decades not only will not take profits in stocks because of this money deterioration but they will also buy common stock at fantastic prices in the earnest endeavor to protect their money against further deterioration.

Today there are many stocks selling at 30, 40, and 50 times annual earnings. Without a deteriorating dollar, these things simply would not be.

The administration in Washington is predicting that federal deficits will be substantial in the two fiscal years ahead. Some estimates run as high as $5,000,000,000.

The stock market, it seems to me, is already discounting these red figures. Earnings and dividends should, of course, determine common stock prices.

But in 1961 and in the years ahead such calculations cannot be depended upon. Capital gains' taxes that prevent millions of investors from taking profits, unbalanced budgets in Washington that unsoundly increase the money supplies, a growing concern about the future purchasing power of the dollar—these are tremendous forces underlying common stock prices.

Economic America reaps what she sows. And for more than 20 years the seeds of inflation have been planted in our social, economic and political soil. No wonder the stock market is dangerously high.

Signs reading "Willkommen Adenauer" and "Howdy Podnur" proclaimed the friendliness of these Texans, who retain many customs and the speech of their ancestors.

From the moment Adenauer stepped from an Air Force helicopter near a Roman Catholic church to attend services until he talked with his host, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, the flavor of the fatherland surrounded him.

Today he was to address the Texas Legislature meeting in joint session at Austin, 80 miles east, after a parade up the state capital's main street and a helicopter tour of the highland lakes near Austin.

Must Register Pleasure Boats To Avoid Fine

NEW YORK — Rear Admiral E. J. Roland, commander, Third Coast Guard District has been notified by New York State Conservation Department, Motorboat Division, that thousands of pleasure boats primarily used in New York State have not yet registered with the State of New York.

The Federal Boating Act of 1958, as implemented by the New York State Numbering Act, requires that in New York State all owners of mechanically propelled boats (except U. S. Customs documented vessels) must register their boats under the new system and obtain new identification numbers. There are no size or horsepower limitations. Sailboats which use auxiliary power, either inboard or outboard, must also register.

Unregistered boats, Coast Guard numbered boats and boats bearing old New York numbers under NY 150,000, must be registered. All state registered boats above NY 150,000 must be registered in 1962. Failure to number boats with New York State can result in a fine of $50.00 for each offense.

Applications may be made by writing to the Division of Motor Boats, Conservation Department, New York State Campus, Albany 1.

Texas Welcomes Adenauer Sunday

FREDERICKSBURG, Texas, (AP)—Residents in this central Texas area of ranches and wooded hills, where German pioneers settled a century ago, warmly welcomed West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Sunday.

Signs reading "Willkommen Adenauer" and "Howdy Podnur" proclaimed the friendliness of these Texans, who retain many customs and the speech of their ancestors.

From the moment Adenauer stepped from an Air Force helicopter near a Roman Catholic church to attend services until he talked with his host, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, the flavor of the fatherland surrounded him.

Today he was to address the Texas Legislature meeting in joint session at Austin, 80 miles east, after a parade up the state capital's main street and a helicopter tour of the highland lakes near Austin.

Must Register Pleasure Boats To Avoid Fine

NEW YORK — Rear Admiral E. J. Roland, commander, Third Coast Guard District has been notified by New York State Conservation Department, Motorboat Division, that thousands of pleasure boats primarily used in New York State have not yet registered with the State of New York.

Customs documented vessels) must register their boats under the new system and obtain new identification numbers. There are no size or horsepower limitations. Sailboats which use auxiliary power, either inboard or outboard, must also register.

Unregistered boats, Coast Guard numbered boats and boats bearing old New York numbers under NY 150,000, must be registered. All state registered boats above NY 150,000 must be registered in 1962. Failure to number boats with New York State can result in a fine of $50.00 for each offense.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Benny is such an institution of broadcasting that his show doesn't often cause much comment. Chuckling appreciatively at Jack's age, miserliness and vanity has become a sort of weekly American habit.

But Sunday night, news was made on the Jack Benny Show: Peter Lawford, who has made such a big thing of banning all television references to his relatives in the White House, broke the silence himself.

It wasn't much of a break, to be sure, and it was dragged in by the heels, but the dam has now burst.

Jack, Peter and Diana Dors were involved in an English drawing room triangle (Jack, in a curly wig, was the lover; Peter, the husband).

"Derek," said Jack to Peter, "you are very democratic."

"Yes, Cecil," replied Peter, "it runs in the family."

The laughter was loud and appreciative as Peter mugged a bit.

Lee Marvin, playing a cynical and brutal night club comedian, carried Sunday night's GE Theater off to a rousing start. It started with him making savage and insulting remarks in a night club, snapping at his harried manager and raging at his estranged wife.

Then the story dribbled off to one of those unconvincing, saccharine finishes the show specializes in. The bitter comic underwent a complete change of personality upon receiving a letter from a poor family in France. In the fadeout, he was warm, lovable—and back with his wife.

Those Sunday night half-hour dramas usually have big stars, good production and fine camera work. Usually, too, they have distressingly sudsy little tales to tell.

NBC's "white paper" Sunday night was a brief biography of city hospitals which was both illuminating and disturbing. The cameras traveled purposely through the Cambridge, Mass., city hospital. Patients, doctors and interns talked about their problems of illness, finances, understaffing, training and facilities.

Recommended tonight: "Oscar" awards, ABC, 10:30-12:30, EST,—awards for the best motion picture performances of the year, Bob Hope, host.

Pioneer Village

The village of Schoenbrunn, Ohio, looks very much the same as it did more than 175 years ago when Moravian missionaries founded the first white settlement in what now is the state of Ohio.

First road built by the U.S. government was the old National Pike, now known as the National Old Trail Road or National Road.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Education—The number of dependents does not affect the Korean GI Bill training allowance of a veteran enrolled less than half-time in college. The training allowance rate paid for less than half-time training is either equal to the tuition and fees paid by non-veterans for a course or a proportionate amount based on $110 a month for a full-time course which is considered to be at least 14 credit hours, whichever is the lesser. A veteran, for example, taking six undergraduate college credit hours at $40 a credit hour, would receive either an amount equivalent to the tuition and fees of 6/14th of $110, whichever is the lesser. Tuition would be $240, whereas 6/14th of $110 would amount to $47.14 per month for the semester. The veteran in this example would receive the $47.14 monthly rate, as it would be less than the tuition.

Civil Service — Applications will be accepted up to April 24, 1961 for the following job opportunities under the New York State Civil Service: Senior Civil Engineer (Traffic), Senior Civil Engineer (Physical Research), Forest Surveyor, Senior Draftsman (Mechanical), Senior Mechanical Construction Engineer, Stationary Engineer, Supervisor of Hospital Volunteer Services, Senior Mechanical Stores Clerk, Supervising Public Health Educator (Industrial). Competitive examinations for these NYS Civil Service titles will be held May 27, 1961.

Legislation — The guaranteed and direct G.I. home loan programs for World War II and Korean Conflict veterans would be extended under the terms of a measure recently reported by the United States House of Representatives Veterans' Affairs Committee. The measure proposes to extend G.I. housing rights beyond the present termination dates on the basis of the length of time a veteran has served in the United States Armed Forces. The present expiration dates are July 25, 1962 for WW II veterans, and for veterans of the Korean Conflict January 31, 1965. Additionally, special consideration would be given to veterans with service-connected disability discharges. WW II veterans in this class would have G.I. housing rights extended to July 25, 1967 and Korean veterans in this class would have their housing rights extended to January 31, 1975.

The proposed legislation also would pump about a billion dollars more into the direct G.I. loan program over a seven year period.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Seek Better Bus Facilities

NEW PALTZ—Discussed at the recent meeting of the New Paltz Chamber of Commerce was the possibility of better facilities at Adirondack Transit Bus Lines stop here. At present there is no facilities. Just to line up on the sidewalk and wait regardless of the weather. In answer to a Chamber inquiry, the company has agreed to discuss the matter with Wesley Van Vliet, ticket agent, and the operator of Wesley's Service Station where the buses now stop. Addition of a new wing as a waiting room on the new service station when the present one is rebuilt is seen as a possibility.

A letter was read from the Thruway Authority in answer to a request from the Chamber for a sign on the Thruway indicating the College of Education here. The Authority refused the request with a letter of explanation that too many signs on the Thruway were not in the best interests of safety. The Chamber is planning to check with other highway officials to request a sign at the Thruway exit near Route 299.

Also discussed was the Welcome Newcomers brochure which will be presented to all new families coming into the area. The brochure will contain an insert page listing all members of the New Paltz Chamber in good standing for 1961. The page can be revised from time to time.

Joseph Walker brought up the subject of the New Paltz Jaycees Bicycle Rodeo Safety Campaign which was endorsed by by the Chamber.

Welch Says Reds Ruled on Several Major Decisions

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Robert Welch told a mink.and.ermine crowd of 1,200 Sunday night that the Soviet Union has no reason to start a war with the United States because this country could be taken "without a single shot" by Communist infiltration.

The founder of the controversial John Birch Society, speaking from a copyright text, renewed charges made earlier that the Communists have had a hand in every major U.S. decision since 1946.

He told an audience made up largely of residents from a fashionable North Dallas-Park Cities area, a conservative stronghold, that the Reds operate on "the principal of reversal" by using slogans that bring an opposite result and replace good with evil.

"By the 'liberation' of a country, such as Cuba, Communists mean the imposing on Cuba of a tyrannical Communist dictatorship," he said. "The whole foreign aid program is an example. For years we have been taken steadily down the road to communism by steps supposedly designed, and presented to the American people as ways of fighting communism."

Welch asserted the Communists helped devise slogans that won a third term for the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and prevented the nomination of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft at the 1952 Republican convention.

Welch also scored critics of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, saying "there was nothing wrong with McCarthy's methods from the viewpoint of American patriots."

Record Lending Service at Kingston Library Opens Today; Music Society Makes Donation

The record lending service of the Kingston City Library will open on Monday, April 17, during National Week, according to the library.

The new library of records is being established to bring to area citizens the opportunity of having available good music that may be taken home for study and listening. As these library facilities grow, the collection will include records of literature, poetry, historical events and the languages.

Mrs. Albert Sonnenberg of the Musical Society of Kingston, and her committee members, Mrs. William Rylance, Mrs. Martin Dienst, and Miss Alberta Davis have been active in promoting and establishing this new library service.

More than 100 records will be available for circulation at the present time and the committee has presented suggestions of policy in the maintenance and future growth of this collection.

To insure the most profitable use and to maintain the original purpose of this library, high standards and careful selection of records must be maintained, said Mrs. Sonnenberg. The basic library should include an ample selection of symphonies, overtures, semi-classical selections, and children's records.

Because of limited facilities a ruling of one record or album per person has been adopted. A nominal fee is charged for the loan. All monies received will be used for replacing records or purchasing new ones.

Hope was expressed that these facilities will be expanded so that in the future records can be loaned free of charge. An official listing of all record and monetary contributions will be given in the future by the library.

IBM Club Planning April Jazz Concert

Dixieland and modern jazz will be exploited at the IBM Country Club in Poughkeepsie on Sunday afternoon, April 30. Chris Connor and Pee Wee Russell headline a group of leading exponents of this typed music which is offered to area residents under the sponsorship of the IBM Club. Charles Kirchner, a local Poughkeepsian, appears with the Russell group.

Jazz organizations differ widely from the more conventional style presented by dance and recording orchestras. In jazz, the individual is given a wide latitude of expression. This is one reason why jazz groups are composed of individuals noted particularly for their solo ability. Included in the Russell group in addition to Mr. Kirchner on bass, will be such well known artists as trumpeteer Johnny Windhurst; trombonist Cutty Curtshall; and Gene Schroeder at the piano.

Miss Connor, one of the most imitated jazz singers, will be musically backed with a trio of her own choosing. Having sung with many of this nation's leading bands, she is currently touring the country's entertainment centers in a soloist role.

Clarinetist Russell needs no introduction to the 'Dixieland" admirer. His distinctive styling has remained popular for 35 years.

John Parsons, a local disk jockey, will be master of ceremonies for the program which, as such, is the local IBM Club's first venture in the jazz field which has met such wide acclaim and response from audiences throughout the world.

This is one reason why jazz groups are composed of individuals noted particularly for their solo ability. Included in the Russell group in addition to Mr. Kirchner on bass, will be such well known artists as trumpeteer Johnny Windhurst; trombonist Cutty Curtshall; and Gene Schroeder at the piano.

Miss Connor, one of the most imitated jazz singers, will be musically backed with a trio of her own choosing. Having sung with many of this nation's leading bands, she is currently touring the country's entertainment centers in a soloist role.

Clarinetist Russell needs no introduction to the 'Dixieland" admirer. His distinctive styling has remained popular for 35 years.

John Parsons, a local disk jockey, will be master of ceremonies for the program which, as such, is the local IBM Club's first venture in the jazz field which has met such wide acclaim and response from audiences throughout the world.

Tackle Shop Captures YMCA Basketball Tournament

WHOPPER—Sonny Barnes, well known local angler, caught a 31 inch, 10 pound, 4 ounce brown trout at the Ashokan Reservoir on Saturday. According to the Louis A. Wehle list of 1960 prize winners, the catch would have tied for third in the brown trout division. Barnes, a resident of 64 Emerick street, has been a top notch fisherman for several years. Halts Dye Works, 91-81, for Title; Siena Is Third

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Editor

Experience was the key weapon in the arsenal of Ray's Tackle Shop Saturday night. Forced to play most of the second half with only five players and having an 11 point halftime margin sliced to one, the Tackle Shop players dug into their bag of tricks and overcame the youthful French Dye Works quintet, 91-81, for the championship of the YMCA Invitational tournament.

The Siena Friars captured third place, winning by forfeit from the Ricci Pipers of White Plains. The Pipers had only four players on hand.

Big Halftime Lead

The Tackle Shop was on its way to an easy win in the opener, leading 45-34 at halftime. However, George Carpouzis was waived to the bench with five personals with 3:40 remaining in the third period and his teammates ahead, 58-49. To compound matters, Bob Bondar was playing with four fouls and there was nobody left on the bench.

With Joe Uhl showing the way, the Dye Works sliced the margin to four points, 72-68, with 7:10 remaining in the game.

A foul and jumper by Uhl, a and Leo Armstead's jumper made the scoreboard read, 74-73, and the capacity crowd at the small gym was rising to the occasion.

Kaye Comes Through

Marty Kaye, a great clutch player all evening long, made a tap off a missed shot and then Ronnie Scheffel took a lead pass from Klonowski and sped in for a driving layup. Leo Corkery put the contest out of reach with a pair of baskets. The final one came with less than four minutes to play and widened the gap to nine points, 82-73. The Dye Works was finished.

As usual, it was a superb team effort that carried this all-star club to its success. After a second and third this year, it marked the first tourney won by the Ward Dunham sponsored team.

Scheffel was high with 22 points and an excellent floor game. Carpouzis, who held Uhl to four points the first half, finished with 17. Kaye had 15 while Klonowski and Bondar had 14 each. Corkery chipped in with nine.

Uhl tallied 21 points in a blistering second half and finished with 25 for the losers. Armstead added 14 while Harry Pratt and John Kelly had 10 each. The combined efforts of Klonowski and Corkery held Richie Strong to nine points.

Uhl ended up with scoring honors in the tournament. He had totals of 29-30-25 for 84 markers.

New Paltz Has Veteran Club Back for Baseball

With last year's varsity club almost intact, New Paltz Central figures to be a top contender for UCAL honors this time around. Coach Joe Heloski, who guided the Huguenots to a 7-3 mark and second place in the circuit during 1960, is optimistic about this year's club and who can blame him?

Returning are pitchers Biff Longfield and Bill Lohrman; first baseman Herb VanValkenburg; second baseman John Keator; shortstop Eddie Kruescher and third baseman Ken Freer. Elwood Osterhoudt, who pitches and plays the outfield, is back and George Bond, a second string catcher last year also returns.

Other candidates are Frank Gray, Glen Moore, Barney Hansen and Bob Martin. The big loss is Billy Freer, the hard hitting catcher. Other losses are outfielders George Wirthman and Paul Dansereau.

Heloski, who played at Oswego State between 1954-57, is starting his third year as varsity baseball coach at New Paltz. Larry Johnson, the school's athletic director, handles the jayvees.

Heloski feels the league race will be between Highland, New Paltz, Wallkill and Marlboro.

National LL Set To Open May 20

Plans were made for the opening of the National Little league season at a meeting yesterday of league officials at the VFW Hall on Delaware Avenue. The season is scheduled to open on May 20 with a doubleheader.

A four foot hurricane fence, stretching 300 feet across the outfield, has been erected. A six foot fence is also being erected in front of the little league installations to protect the building and grounds from cars. The league will contact Mayor Radel and Police Chief Murphy about vandalism at the stadium.

President James Carlson asks fathers who can spare an hour to report to the field beginning Tuesday evening so that it may be put in first class shape by the opening of the season. Final registration and tryouts for the boys will take place on Saturday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at Block Park.

Geneva Woman New President State Bowling Association

Gladys Secor Banker of Geneva has been elected president of the New York State Woman's Bowling Association. She succeeds Alberta Crowe.

Mrs. Banker, who was sergeant-at-arms for several terms, defeated Harriet Darling of Syracuse in a two-way contest at the annual state convention in Niagara Falls Saturday.

The special election was necessitated by the declination of Mrs. Alberta Crowe to run for another term. Mrs. Crowe is now president of the Women's International Bowling Congress and said it would be impossible for her to hold both posts.

Four directors were re-elected, including: Mrs. Katherine Linder of Jamestown; Miss Ermine Mulholland, Albany; Mrs. Theresa Reynolds, Endicott; Mrs. Mrs. Ann Steeley, Olean, elected to three-year terms. Miss Margaret Barry, Buffalo, was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Clover Bayly of Watertown is state secretary.

Hall of Fame

The state association has instituted a Hall of Fame for women bowlers in New York state and the first inductee is Mrs. Iola Lasher, who helped organize the state association and was its president for 26 years. One candidate will be nominated each year by a committee designated by the state association.

The association also voted to reapportion its delegate strength for annual conventions and as a result the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association delegation has been reduced from 11 to six.

Mrs. Nell Glennon, KWBA president, headed the local delegation this past weekend. Other delegates included: Nell Alverson, Alicia Wrinn, Joan B. Grant, Chris Gallop, Sis Balash, Terry Beckert, Winnie Overfield, Doris Meyer, June Van Kleeck and Arlene Raible.

Syracuse was awarded the 1963 tournament. The 1962 event is scheduled in Kingston. The Poughkeepsie association made an unsuccessful bid for the 1963 tourney.

Mrs. Glennon announced that the new state president and secretary would be in Kingston in early May to select the bowling alleys and pick the dates for the tournament and the convention headquarters for the 1962 tournament.

Souchak Winner At Greensboro With 276 Score

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Broad-shouldered Mike Souchak, his awesome tee shots screaming down the fairways hole after hole, returned to the winner's circle after an absence of almost 10 months by winning the Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament Sunday.

The muscular 33-year-old former Duke University football end was the only player in the starting field of 120 to break par four times. He had rounds of 70-68-69-69 for a 72-hole total of 276, eight under par for the Sedgefield Country Club course.

Souchak, a Durham, N.C., resident, who plays out of Grossinger, N.Y., picked up $3,200 for his first victory since winning at Flint, Mich., last July.

His seven-stroke margin over runnerup Sam Snead equaled the biggest spread for the year's professional tour.

Snead, seven times winner here, closed with a par 71 to slip into second place and win $2,100 of the $22,500 purse.

Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., who had been tied for the 36-hole lead with Souchak and was only two strokes down starting the last round, finished third at 284. He won $1,650.

Tied for fourth place at 285 were Canadian Stan Leonard, who closed with 73, and Charlie Sifford, a 75 finisher. Each won $1,300.

San Francisco Leading in NL

Giants Beat Phillies, 5-2, Behind Jones

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco leads the National League on a combination of the Giants' 5-2 victory over Philadelphia Sunday and Pittsburgh's 13-6 defeat at Los Angeles.

The Giants staggered in the late stages of their game with the Phils but Manager Al Dark made the right move when he brought in Billy O'Dell to relieve Sam Jones in the ninth inning.

Dark went to the bullpen for O'Dell with the bases loaded and only one out. O'Dell promptly got Bobby Del Greco, a pinch hitter, to hit a comeback ball for a game-ending double play.

The Giants' 5-2 victory over Philadelphia, combined with the Los Angeles Dodgers' stormy 13-6 decision over Pittsburgh put San Francisco in first place all alone. Ray Sadecki pitched St. Louis to within a half game of the top with a 5-3 edge over Cincinnati. Milwaukee and Chicago were snowed out at Chicago.

Gets Two Hits

Jones contributed two doubles to the Giants' 10-hit attack on loser Robin Roberts and two successors. He was coasting along with a 5-1 lead going to the ninth. Sad Sam struck out Tony Gonzalez on a wild pitch but Gonzalez reached first base before Catcher Tom Haller could retrieve the ball. A wild pitch and a single by Pancho Herrera counted a run. Harvey Kuenn's error, a ground out and a hit batsman alerted Dark to call for O'Dell.

Doubles by Kuenn and Orlando Cepeda helped get the Giants away to a three-run first inning and doomed Roberts to his second defeat.

A show-stopping kicking duel between Dodger Coach Leo Durocher and umpire Jocko Conlan broke out during the Dodger-Pirate game in which Los Angeles ended a three-game losing streak.

Leo and Jocko exchanged kicks during an argument over a high pop by Dodger Norm Larker that landed in fair territory but then bounced foul. Conlon called it a foul ball.

Law Loses 2nd

The Dodgers came from behind and racked up five Pirate pitchers for 15 hits, handing Vern Law his second straight defeat. Stan Williams was the winner with the help of home runs by Tommy Davis, Wally Moon and Sherry.

Sadecki, 20-year-old left-handed pitcher, threw a seven-hitter at Cincinnati and struck out seven, while beating Jim O'Toole. Don Landrum, whose failure to hit must have been worrying Manager Solly Hemus, finally snapped out of it on his 19th trip to the plate and launched a decisive two-run rally in the fifth with a double. Hemus has been counting on Landrum to plug his center field gap, is he can hit consistently. A double by Bill White and a single by Ken Boyer followed Landrum's hit.

Basilio Ready To Meet Pender

BOSTON (AP)—Don't figure me for some lamb being led to slaughter."

With those words of warning two-time former division king Carmen Basilio arrived Sunday night for the final brushing up for his Saturday night 15-round challenge for Paul Pender's middleweight championship.

The televised encounter, Pender's second defense of a crown recognized in two states and Europe, is set for Boston Garden.

Basilio, the craggy-faced onion farmer from upstate New York, made his reply to questions concerning whether he would retire if he loses and the odds.

"Who knows about retirement?" Basilio asked. "I'll answer that after the fight. But don't figure me for some lamb being led to slaughter.

"I'm not surprised I'm a 9-5 underdog. Just remember, though, that the first thing that goes with a fighter is the legs. My legs are good. My reflexes are fine. And I haven't lost any of my punch.

"I'm not going to do any more sparring. I've had two warmup fights and sparred about 80 rounds. That's enough."

Springfield Wins AHL Championsh

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The powerful Springfield Indians today have a firm grip on the Calder Cup and a "first" in American Hockey League history.

By shutting out Hershey 3-0 Saturday night in the Pennsylvania city, Springfield became the first club in the 25 years of AHL competition to top the regular season race and win the playoffs two years in a row.

Sweeps over both Cleveland and Hershey enabled the Indans to match the 1949-50 Indianapolis club as the only other team capturing the cup in a minimum eight games.

Spare goalie George Wood completed his fill-in job for injured Marcel Paille in the entire Hershey series with a 13 save shutout. Wood had won only two games during the regular season.

Dennis Olson, Harry Pidhirny and Gerry Foley scored the Springfield goals in the finale.

"We get paid for only four games, so why go any further?," was the reaction of top AHL goalgetter Jimmy Anderson.

"We're so much better it isn't even funny," said Brian Kilrea.

International Loop Starts Its 78th Year with New Look

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The International League, the oldest and perhaps the hardiest of the minors, opens its 78th season today in a new location and with something of a new look.

The opener takes place in San Juan, Puerto Rico, where organized professional baseball never has been seen before. Enthusiastic fans are expected to jam little Sixto Escobar Stadium to its 9,400 seat capacity to see the Marlins, transferred from Miami and somewhat improved in the process, play the opener against the 1960 champion Toronto Maple Leafs. The other three opening games are scheduled Tuesday.

Three Puerto Rican players are the Marlins' biggest drawing cards. They are shortstop Julio Gotay, infielder Ed Olivares and Rinaldo Oliver, a utility player and coach.

The International League has a second new member this year—Syracuse, shifted from Montreal; five new managers and one new president.

The president is Tommy Richardson, an effusive and experienced baseball veteran who was president of the Eastern League for many years.

Two of the new managers are involved in today's opener. They are Johnny Lipon of Toronto and Joe Shultz at San Juan.

Big Halftime Lead

The Tackle Shop was on its way to an easy win in the opener, leading 45-34 at halftime. However, George Carpouzis was waived to the bench with five personals with 3:40 remaining in the third period and his teammates ahead, 58-49. To compound matters, Bob Bondar was playing with four fouls and there was nobody left on the bench.

With Joe Uhl showing the way, the Dye Works sliced the margin to four points, 72-68, with 7:10 remaining in the game.

A foul and jumper by Uhl, a and Leo Armstead's jumper made the scoreboard read, 74-73, and the capacity crowd at the small gym was rising to the occasion.

Kaye Comes Through

Marty Kaye, a great clutch player all evening long, made a tap off a missed shot and then Ronnie Scheffel took a lead pass from Klonowski and sped in for a driving layup. Leo Corkery put the contest out of reach with a pair of baskets. The final one came with less than four minutes to play and widened the gap to nine points, 82-73. The Dye Works was finished.

As usual, it was a superb team effort that carried this all-star club to its success. After a second and third this year, it marked the first tourney won by the Ward Dunham sponsored team.

Scheffel was high with 22 points and an excellent floor game. Carpouzis, who held Uhl to four points the first half, finished with 17. Kaye had 15 while Klonowski and Bondar had 14 each. Corkery chipped in with nine.

Uhl tallied 21 points in a blistering second half and finished with 25 for the losers. Armstead added 14 while Harry Pratt and John Kelly had 10 each. The combined efforts of Klonowski and Corkery held Richie Strong to nine points.

Uhl ended up with scoring honors in the tournament. He had totals of 29-30-25 for 84 markers.

New Paltz Has Veteran Club Back for Baseball

With last year's varsity club almost intact, New Paltz Central figures to be a top contender for UCAL honors this time around. Coach Joe Heloski, who guided the Huguenots to a 7-3 mark and second place in the circuit during 1960, is optimistic about this year's club and who can blame him?

Returning are pitchers Biff Longfield and Bill Lohrman; first baseman Herb VanValkenburg; second baseman John Keator; shortstop Eddie Kruescher and third baseman Ken Freer. Elwood Osterhoudt, who pitches and plays the outfield, is back and George Bond, a second string catcher last year also returns.

Other candidates are Frank Gray, Glen Moore, Barney Hansen and Bob Martin. The big loss is Billy Freer, the hard hitting catcher. Other losses are outfielders George Wirthman and Paul Dansereau.

Heloski, who played at Oswego State between 1954-57, is starting his third year as varsity baseball coach at New Paltz. Larry Johnson, the school's athletic director, handles the jayvees.

Heloski feels the league race will be between Highland, New Paltz, Wallkill and Marlboro.

National LL Set To Open May 20

Plans were made for the opening of the National Little league season at a meeting yesterday of league officials at the VFW Hall on Delaware Avenue. The season is scheduled to open on May 20 with a doubleheader.

A four foot hurricane fence, stretching 300 feet across the outfield, has been erected. A six foot fence is also being erected in front of the little league installations to protect the building and grounds from cars. The league will contact Mayor Radel and Police Chief Murphy about vandalism at the stadium.

President James Carlson asks fathers who can spare an hour to report to the field beginning Tuesday evening so that it may be put in first class shape by the opening of the season. Final registration and tryouts for the boys will take place on Saturday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at Block Park.

Geneva Woman New President State Bowling Association

Gladys Secor Banker of Geneva has been elected president of the New York State Woman's Bowling Association. She succeeds Alberta Crowe.

Mrs. Banker, who was sergeant-at-arms for several terms, defeated Harriet Darling of Syracuse in a two-way contest at the annual state convention in Niagara Falls Saturday.

The special election was necessitated by the declination of Mrs. Alberta Crowe to run for another term. Mrs. Crowe is now president of the Women's International Bowling Congress and said it would be impossible for her to hold both posts.

Four directors were re-elected, including: Mrs. Katherine Linder of Jamestown; Miss Ermine Mulholland, Albany; Mrs. Theresa Reynolds, Endicott; Mrs. Mrs. Ann Steeley, Olean, elected to three-year terms. Miss Margaret Barry, Buffalo, was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Clover Bayly of Watertown is state secretary.

Hall of Fame

The state association has instituted a Hall of Fame for women bowlers in New York state and the first inductee is Mrs. Iola Lasher, who helped organize the state association and was its president for 26 years. One candidate will be nominated each year by a committee designated by the state association.

The association also voted to reapportion its delegate strength for annual conventions and as a result the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association delegation has been reduced from 11 to six.

Mrs. Nell Glennon, KWBA president, headed the local delegation this past weekend. Other delegates included: Nell Alverson, Alicia Wrinn, Joan B. Grant, Chris Gallop, Sis Balash, Terry Beckert, Winnie Overfield, Doris Meyer, June Van Kleeck and Arlene Raible.

Syracuse was awarded the 1963 tournament. The 1962 event is scheduled in Kingston. The Poughkeepsie association made an unsuccessful bid for the 1963 tourney.

Mrs. Glennon announced that the new state president and secretary would be in Kingston in early May to select the bowling alleys and pick the dates for the tournament and the convention headquarters for the 1962 tournament.

Souchak Winner At Greensboro With 276 Score

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Broad-shouldered Mike Souchak, his awesome tee shots screaming down the fairways hole after hole, returned to the winner's circle after an absence of almost 10 months by winning the Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament Sunday.

The muscular 33-year-old former Duke University football end was the only player in the starting field of 120 to break par four times. He had rounds of 70-68-69-69 for a 72-hole total of 276, eight under par for the Sedgefield Country Club course.

Souchak, a Durham, N.C., resident, who plays out of Grossinger, N.Y., picked up $3,200 for his first victory since winning at Flint, Mich., last July.

His seven-stroke margin over runnerup Sam Snead equaled the biggest spread for the year's professional tour.

Snead, seven times winner here, closed with a par 71 to slip into second place and win $2,100 of the $22,500 purse.

Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., who had been tied for the 36-hole lead with Souchak ano was only two strokes down starting the last round, finished third at 284. He won $1,650.

Tied for fourth place at 285 were Canadian Stan Leonard, who closed with 73, and Charlie Sifford, a 75 finisher. Each won $1,300.

San Francisco Leading in NL

Giants Beat Phillies, 5-2, Behind Jones

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco leads the National League on a combination of the Giants' 5-2 victory over Philadelphia Sunday and Pittsburgh's 13-6 defeat at Los Angeles.

The Giants staggered in the late stages of their game with the Phils but Manager Al Dark made the right move when he brought in Billy O'Dell to relieve Sam Jones in the ninth inning.

Dark went to the bullpen for O'Dell with the bases loaded and only one out. O'Dell promptly got Bobby Del Greco, a pinch hitter, to hit a comeback ball for a game-ending double play.

The Giants' 5-2 victory over Philadelphia, combined with the Los Angeles Dodgers' stormy 13-6 decision over Pittsburgh put San Francisco in first place all alone. Ray Sadecki pitched St. Louis to within a half game of the top with a 5-3 edge over Cincinnati. Milwaukee and Chicago were snowed out at Chicago.

Gets Two Hits

Jones contributed two doubles to the Giants' 10-hit attack on loser Robin Roberts and two successors. He was coasting along with a 5-1 lead going to the ninth. Sad Sam struck out Tony Gonzalez on a wild pitch but Gonzalez reached first base before Catcher Tom Haller could retrieve the ball. A wild pitch and a single by Pancho Herrera counted a run. Harvey Kuenn's error, a ground out and a hit batsman alerted Dark to call for O'Dell.

Doubles by Kuenn and Orlando Cepeda helped get the Giants away to a three-run first inning and doomed Roberts to his second defeat.

A show-stopping kicking duel between Dodger Coach Leo Durocher and umpire Jocko Conlan broke out during the Dodger-Pirate game in which Los Angeles ended a three-game losing streak.

Leo and Jocko exchanged kicks during an argument over a high pop by Dodger Norm Larker that landed in fair territory but then bounced foul. Conlon called it a foul ball.

Law Loses 2nd

The Dodgers came from behind and racked up five Pirate pitchers for 15 hits, handing Vern Law his second straight defeat. Stan Williams was the winner with the help of home runs by Tommy Davis, Wally Moon and Sherry.

Sadecki, 20-year-old left-handed pitcher, threw a seven-hitter at Cincinnati and struck out seven, while beating Jim O'Toole. Don Landrum, whose failure to hit must have been worrying Manager Solly Hemus, finally snapped out of it on his 19th trip to the plate and launched a decisive two-run rally in the fifth with a double. Hemus has been counting on Landrum to plug his center field gap, is he can hit consistently. A double by Bill White and a single by Ken Boyer followed Landrum's hit.

Basilio Ready To Meet Pender

BOSTON (AP)—Don't figure me for some lamb being led to slaughter."

With those words of warning two-time former division king Carmen Basilio arrived Sunday night for the final brushing up for his Saturday night 15-round challenge for Paul Pender's middleweight championship.

The televised encounter, Pender's second defense of a crown recognized in two states and Europe, is set for Boston Garden.

Basilio, the craggy-faced onion farmer from upstate New York, made his reply to questions concerning whether he would retire if he loses and the odds.

"Who knows about retirement?" Basilio asked. "I'll answer that after the fight. But don't figure me for some lamb being led to slaughter.

"I'm not surprised I'm a 9-5 underdog. Just remember, though, that the first thing that goes with a fighter is the legs. My legs are good. My reflexes are fine. And I haven't lost any of my punch.

"I'm not going to do any more sparring. I've had two warmup fights and sparred about 80 rounds. That's enough."

Springfield Wins AHL Championsh

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The powerful Springfield Indians today have a firm grip on the Calder Cup and a "first" in American Hockey League history.

By shutting out Hershey 3-0 Saturday night in the Pennsylvania city, Springfield became the first club in the 25 years of AHL competition to top the regular season race and win the playoffs two years in a row.

Sweeps over both Cleveland and Hershey enabled the Indans to match the 1949-50 Indianapolis club as the only other team capturing the cup in a minimum eight games.

Spare goalie George Wood completed his fill-in job for injured Marcel Paille in the entire Hershey series with a 13 save shutout. Wood had won only two games during the regular season.

Dennis Olson, Harry Pidhirny and Gerry Foley scored the Springfield goals in the finale.

"We get paid for only four games, so why go any further?," was the reaction of top AHL goalgetter Jimmy Anderson.

"We're so much better it isn't even funny," said Brian Kilrea.

International Loop Starts Its 78th Year with New Look

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The International League, the oldest and perhaps the hardiest of the minors, opens its 78th season today in a new location and with something of a new look.

The opener takes place in San Juan, Puerto Rico, where organized professional baseball never has been seen before. Enthusiastic fans are expected to jam little Sixto Escobar Stadium to its 9,400 seat capacity to see the Marlins, transferred from Miami and somewhat improved in the process, play the opener against the 1960 champion Toronto Maple Leafs. The other three opening games are scheduled Tuesday.

Three Puerto Rican players are the Marlins' biggest drawing cards. They are shortstop Julio Gotay, infielder Ed Olivares and Rinaldo Oliver, a utility player and coach.

The International League has a second new member this year—Syracuse, shifted from Montreal; five new managers and one new president.

The president is Tommy Richardson, an effusive and experienced baseball veteran who was president of the Eastern League for many years.

Two of the new managers are involved in today's opener. They are Johnny Lipon of Toronto and Joe Shultz at San Juan.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Bob East and Tony Gentile, a couple of greybeards in the pocket billiards business, meet in the first block of their 375-point challenge match tonight at the Uptown Billiard Parlor.

From the standpoint of the sports world this is not an earth shaking event. On the other hand, it has a tangible factor that makes it a pleasant addition to the sports picture.

About 75 person will assemble at the Wall Street billiard room to watch these two veterans of the 18.1 balklien play. What's so great about that, you ask? Nothing, except, let us know the next time you see 75 people at a local baseball game.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Joe Tremper of Kingston was among students honored at the 10th annual sports award banquet of Albany Business College Friday night at the Circle Inn in Latham. Tremper, a 1957 Kingston High graduate, played with the ABC varsity basketball team which compiled a 13-6 record. . . . Les Stubbins is starting his 27th year as golf professional at the Orange County Golf Club at Middletown. . . . Al Chase, the Grey Fox of Port Jervis, is back in the hospital. . . . Cosmi Realty Company of Paterson claimed the seasonal scoring record last week with a 3658 series, with a high single of 1283. The previous record was 3,562 by Marcal Products of East Paterson in February. . . . The golf course at Lake Mohonk will be open for limited play starting today. From today through May 13, permission to play must be obtained from Thomas Mayo, head greenskeeper at Mohonk. The official opening at Mohonk is scheduled May 14. Kudos to Keith Costello for a first-time 500 with 572 and Tim Schussler, Bowler-of-the-Week with a rousing 733 for another career-first effort, Charlie Riccardi's jackpot bowling getting a lively play.

• Big League Operation:

While young men continue to stay away from baseball in droves, it is reassuring to watch the Ellenville Little League operation about to go into "double sessions" at two parks in the southwestern Ulster village. The elaborate setup directed by Vernon J. Kelder would not be possible without the financial assistance of several firms and individuals in the township, the Youth Recreation funds, sponsors and advertisers. Each advertiser pays $25 per sign in the ball parks. There are a few $50 signs and one that pays $100. All of the adult personnel including the umpires and ladies work faithfully and for no pay. The sponsor pays $100 per team. The village of Ellenville contributes $500 and the Town of Wawarsing another $500. The total budget exceeds $3,000 per year. Game voluntary collections, profit from the concession stand and parent membership plus one tag day a year take up the slack. There is no door to door nagging for funds.

• Of Men and Mice:

The 1961 Boat Owners Buyers Guide, top grade publication in the industry, is off the press, a slick record-size 258 page book considered by many the ultimate in directories to the boating market. More than 2000 builders and manufacturers of every kind of boat and boating equipment from plastic owls for scaring away gulls to $195,000 cruisers are listed. It's a must for any buff of the waterways. . . . Although not especially noted as a puncher, Floyd Patterson still ranks third among the heavyweight champions dating back to John L. Sullivan. Pattern's percentage is .710 in 38 fights, behind only Rocky Marciano (.878) and Joe Louis (.761. Johansson ranks eighth among the all-time heavyweight sluggers with a kayo percentage of .608. He stands ahead of such historic hitters as John L. Sullivan and Jack Johnson. Little silly, isn't it?

Team Rolls 2633; Murphy Unloads 1700 All-Events

Manhattan Bowling Balls of Kingston and one of its star bowlers — Hilda Murphy — grabbed fourth places in the four-week-old State Women's Bowling tournament at Niagara Falls.

Manhattans, the Hudson Valley Women's League champions, rolled 2633 for fourth place in the team standings.

Mrs. Murphy, high average shooter in the HVWBL, replaced Sally Moore of Rochester in fourth place in all-events with 1700.

The all-events leader is the well known Mary Diana of Middletown with 1785, including a 672 blast in the doubles Sunday night. Manhattans edged Llewellyn Farms of New York from fourth place.

A New York city quintet leads the team division with 2782.

In compiling the 1700 all-events total, Hilda Murphy rolled 565 in the team event, 548 in doubles and 587 in singles.

The breakdown of Mrs. Murphy's 1700 all-events:

US Cagers Leave For Russian Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — An all-star United States basketball team leaves for an eight-game tour of the Soviet Union Tuesday and if the Russians want to know what's in store for them, all they have to do is ask coach Jimmy McLendon.

"We're going to make the Russian clubs play our way," said McLendon today. "We're going to play a running game."

McLendon, coach of Cleveland's championship NBL team, said the Russians might be surprised to find some of his guards short compared to what they's used to seeing.

The United States starting team will be composed of Ohio State's All-America, Jerry Lucas, plus three members of McLendon's Cleveland club — John Barnhill, Ben Warley and Roger Taylor. The fifth starting spot still is open.

Buffalo Cagers In Hall of Fame

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The legendary Buffalo Germans, among the latest members of basketball's Hall of Fame, are a team that used to run up scores of 100 points or more in the low-scoring days of 50 years ago.

In 1902, the Germans annihilated Hobart College, 134-0, in the worst rout on record. Niagara University got a 102-7 battering from the Germans that year.

In their 30 years together under Allie Heerdt, the Germans posted a record of 792 victories and 86 losses, including an 111-game victory skein from 1908 through 1910. The team played its last game in 1925.

Heerdt, once described by Nat Holman as "the greatest basketball player of all time," founded the team in 1895 with the help of a YMCA worker, Frederick W. Burkhardt had brought the game to Buffalo from Springfield, Mass. where he played Dr. James Naismith's original "peachbasket" game.

The Germans Saturday were among 14 players, coaches and officials enshrined in the game's Hall of Fame at Springfield, where Dr. Naismith conceived the game in 1891.

Clarkson to Play In Cage Tourney

POTSDAM, N.Y. (AP) — Clarkson will play in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference's first Christmas Holiday Invitational hockey tournament in Madison Square Garden Dec. 21 and 22.

Henry R. Hodge, Clarkson director of athletics, said today he had accepted an invitation from Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the ECAC.

Hodge said Boston College and Boston University also would play in the tournament. A fourth team has not been picked, he said.

Clarkson had a 13-8 record last season.

Twins Win 2 From Baltimore

Bob Allison, Versalles Star In Double Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The transplanted Minnesota Twins are leading the American League after taking both ends of a Sunday doubleheader from the highly-regarded Baltimore Orioles.

Bob Allison, an accepted slugger, and Zoilo Versalles, supposedly a glove man, boosted the Twins into the league lead with their home runs in Sunday's double victory over Baltimore. Thus the Twins were assured of a raucous welcome home Friday afternoon.

Allison drove in seven runs with a grand slam homer and a three-run homer in the 10-5 first game and Versalles, the 20-year-old Cuban shortstop, won the second game 6-4 with his two-run homer in the 11th.

Cleveland Rallies

While the old Washington club moved west was flexing its muscles the new Washington Senators were settling into the cellar after a 3-2 defeat by Cleveland. The Indians, shut out for eight innings by Dick Donovan, rose up in the ninth with five straight hits, including a home run by Tito Francona.

Rain, cold weather and snow washed out the scheduled doubleheaders between New York and Kansas City, Los Angeles and Boston and a single game between Chicago and Detroit.

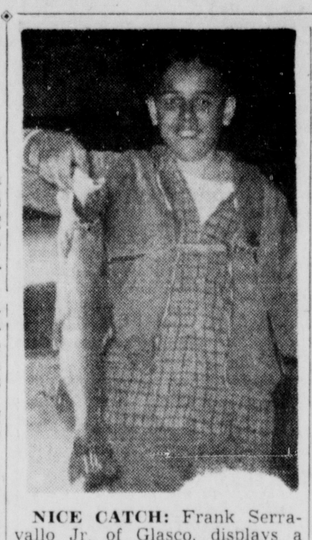
Pedro Ramos, far off the form he showed in shutting out New York on opening day, gave up 12 of the Orioles' 14 hits before he was replaced by Ray Moore in the seventh. Pedro, however, was the winner.

Batting at .478

Bill Pleis, third of four Minnesota pitchers, won the second game on Versalles' homer, following a walk to Reno Bertoia. It was Versalles' fourth hit in six trips in the game and his first major league homer. The 150-pound shortstop, a .133 hitter in 15 games last year, now is batting .478. Don Mincher also hit a homer for the Twins.

Donovan was rolling along with a 2-0 lead going into the ninth when Johnny Temple led off with his third straight single. Francona tied the score with a blast over the right field wall. After singles by Jimmy Piersall and Willie Kirkland, Manager Mickey Vernon of the Senators replaced Donovan with Rudy Hernandez who was greeted by Woody Held's game-winning single.

Johnny Antonelli, making his first American League start for the Indians, departed for a pinch hitter after seven innings. Bob Allen, a lefty up from Mobile, won in relief.



NICE CATCH: Frank Serravallo Jr. of Glasco, displays a 22-inch Rainbow trout he caught in the main stream at Mount Tremper on a lure. It was the biggest catch of his life for 13-year-old Frank, who is son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Serravallo of Glasco. He is a former Glasco Little League star and attends Saugerties High School.

Major League Stars

Batting, Bob Allison, Twins — drove in seven runs with pair of home runs in Minnesota's 10-5 first game victory over Baltimore.

Pitching, Sam Jones, Giants — boosted lifetime record against Phils to 21-9 with 5-2 victory. He helped his own cause with two doubles but needed relief when he ran into a wild streak in the ninth after allowing only five hits.

Miss McIntire Hopes To Capture Golf Title

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla., begins her quest of a third North and South Amateur golf championship in five years today.

Miss McIntire, who also holds the British amateur crown, was paired against Mrs. W. G. Boggs of Pittsburgh in the day's first match.

The tournament's traditional qualifying round has been dropped in favor of a compact, high caliber field of 32 players, of whom 15 have handicaps of two or under.

One round will be played daily with the 18-hole finals Friday.

Rochester Ace New Leader in the State

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — D. Parisee of Rochester was out front today in both the open and handicap singles event in the New York State Bowling tournament.

Parisee hit 683 in actual pins over the weekend to take the open division lead and his handicap of 120 pins gave him 803 for a large bulge in the handicap singles.

In team play, Motts of Newark held to their first place lead with a score of 3130. M. Barrus and P. Nieves of Jamestown, with a 1450, were first again in the handicap doubles.

Chicago Gets Title In the NHL

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks, following years of struggle and frustration, today have the Stanley Cup, hockey's symbol of supremeacy.

They regained the coveted cup for the first time in 23 years by walloping the Detroit Red Wings 5-1 Sunday night to win the best-of-seven playoff series four-to-two.

The Hawks had finished in the National Hockey League basement nine times in 11 seasons before they began building their present team in 1957-58. The present season, when they finished third, was their first winning season in 15 years.

The Hawks made the finals by dethroning five-times champion Montreal in the semifinals and then scored three home victories over Detroit before finishing off the Red Wings with a three-goal spurt in the final period Sunday night.

They started off their championships victory in an odd manner. Trailing 1-0 in the second period, the Hawks found themselves short-handed because of a penalty.

Goals by Eric Nesternko, Jack Evans and Kenny Wharram wrapped it up in the final period. Evans' goal was his first in two years.

Four Boxing Titles Slated To Take Place During Week

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Starting with the Joe Brown-Dave Charnley light-weight title fight in London Tuesday night, four titles will be at stake within a seven-day span.

At London's Earl's Court Stadium, the 35-year-old Brown of Baton Rouge, La., will risk his 135-pound crown for the tenth time in a return bout with the left-handed, 25-year-old British and European champion. "Old Bones" stopped Charnley on a cut over the right eye in their first fight at Houston, Texas, 16 months ago.

Next on the championship parade in the middleweight title fight between Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass., and Carmen Basilio, of Chittenango, N.Y., at the Boston Garden Saturday night. Pender is the New York, Massachusetts, and European-recognized as boss by the NBA.

On Sunday, Duilio Loi, the junior welterweight (140 pounds) champion from Italy, meets Carlos Ortiz of New York, in a title bout for the third time. The "rubber" bout will be held at Milan, Italy, Loi's home town. Each has won once in close fights.

The fourth title scrap will be fought Monday, April 24, at Philadelphia. This one matches Harold Johnson, the NBA light heavyweight ruler, and Von Clay. Both are from Philadelphia

Kerr Signs Pact

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Center John Kerr has changed his mind about retiring and will play for the Syracuse Nationals of the NBA next season.

Kerr, 28, is the first player to sign with Syracuse for the 1961-62 season, the club said Saturday.

Kerr, 6-9, has played 514 consecutive regular-season games for the Nats since he left the Illinois campus eight years ago.

Detroit Bowler Hits 279 Game

DETROIT (AP)— A 32-year-old railroad switchman may take a bigger prize from the 58th American Bowling Congress tournament than any of the bowling world's superstars.

Mike Senosky of Toledo, Ohio, opened his team series Sunday night with a 279 game. It was not the highest single game of the 44-day-old tournament (Corky Degraff of Grand Rapids, Mich., rolled a 300 in the classic doubles) but Senosky's big line was the best rolled thus far in the team events.

An automobile manufacturer has offered a $5,000 sports car for the high individual game in the team event. The top prize a bowler can win from the ABC's $460,000 prize fund is $2,500.

2 French Horses Set to Participate In Yonkers Race

A pair of 5-year-old mares from France head a field of trotters from five nations Thursday night in the $50,000 United Nations Trot, second of six weekly international events at Yonkers Raceway.

Masina, winner of the $61,000 Prix de Amerique at Vincennes in February, and Marjolaine V are hoping for better conditions than befell their fellow Europeans in last week's $65,000 Gotham.

Two Italian entries, Lavandiere III and Jariolain, disliked the slippery going caused by rain and wet snow. Both are entered in the United Nations.

Su Mac Lad, winner of the Gotham, and Air Record, who finished second, will represent the United States.

Others expected to start in the 1½-mile race Thursday night are Germany's Iskander F. who was forced out of the Gotham with a broken sulky wheel; Canada's Tie Silk, winner of the race last year, and Italy's Tornese, second to Masina in the Prix de Amerique.

Lucky Demon surprised the largest crowd of the season Saturday night when he nipped favored Hoot Dolmont in the $5,000 Monitor Trot. The 4-year-old son of Demon Hanover returned $34.50 to his backers in the crowd of 31,939. Garnet Queen was third.

At Buffalo Raceway, Heather Stable's Heathcliffe won the $4,000 Invitational Trot over a slow track. He was timed in 2:17 and paid $8.80. Torrence Hanover was second and Safety First, third.

Buffalo Raceway opened a 78-night meeting Friday night.

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Bob East and Tony Gentile, a couple of greybeards in the pocket billiards business, meet in the first block of their 375-point challenge match tonight at the Uptown Billiard Parlor.

From the standpoint of the sports world this is not an earth shaking event. On the other hand, it has a tangible factor that makes it a pleasant addition to the sports picture.

About 75 person will assemble at the Wall Street billiard room to watch these two veterans of the 18.1 balklien play. What's so great about that, you ask? Nothing, except, let us know the next time you see 75 people at a local baseball game.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Joe Tremper of Kingston was among students honored at the 10th annual sports award banquet of Albany Business College Friday night at the Circle Inn in Latham. Tremper, a 1957 Kingston High graduate, played with the ABC varsity basketball team which compiled a 13-6 record. . . . Les Stubbins is starting his 27th year as golf professional at the Orange County Golf Club at Middletown. . . . Al Chase, the Grey Fox of Port Jervis, is back in the hospital. . . . Cosmi Realty Company of Paterson claimed the seasonal scoring record last week with a 3658 series, with a high single of 1283. The previous record was 3,562 by Marcal Products of East Paterson in February. . . . The golf course at Lake Mohonk will be open for limited play starting today. From today through May 13, permission to play must be obtained from Thomas Mayo, head greenskeeper at Mohonk. The official opening at Mohonk is scheduled May 14. Kudos to Keith Costello for a first-time 500 with 572 and Tim Schussler, Bowler-of-the-Week with a rousing 733 for another career-first effort, Charlie Riccardi's jackpot bowling getting a lively play.

• Big League Operation:

While young men continue to stay away from baseball in droves, it is reassuring to watch the Ellenville Little League operation about to go into "double sessions" at two parks in the southwestern Ulster village. The elaborate setup directed by Vernon J. Kelder would not be possible without the financial assistance of several firms and individuals in the township, the Youth Recreation funds, sponsors and advertisers. Each advertiser pays $25 per sign in the ball parks. There are a few $50 signs and one that pays $100. All of the adult personnel including the umpires and ladies work faithfully and for no pay. The sponsor pays $100 per team. The village of Ellenville contributes $500 and the Town of Wawarsing another $500. The total budget exceeds $3,000 per year. Game voluntary collections, profit from the concession stand and parent membership plus one tag day a year take up the slack. There is no door to door nagging for funds.

• Of Men and Mice:

The 1961 Boat Owners Buyers Guide, top grade publication in the industry, is off the press, a slick record-size 258 page book considered by many the ultimate in directories to the boating market. More than 2000 builders and manufacturers of every kind of boat and boating equipment from plastic owls for scaring away gulls to $195,000 cruisers are listed. It's a must for any buff of the waterways. . . . Although not especially noted as a puncher, Floyd Patterson still ranks third among the heavyweight champions dating back to John L. Sullivan. Pattern's percentage is .710 in 38 fights, behind only Rocky Marciano (.878) and Joe Louis (.761. Johansson ranks eighth among the all-time heavyweight sluggers with a kayo percentage of .608. He stands ahead of such historic hitters as John L. Sullivan and Jack Johnson. Little silly, isn't it?

US Cagers Leave For Russian Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — An all-star United States basketball team leaves for an eight-game tour of the Soviet Union Tuesday and if the Russians want to know what's in store for them, all they have to do is ask coach Jimmy McLendon.

"We're going to make the Russian clubs play our way," said McLendon today. "We're going to play a running game."

McLendon, coach of Cleveland's championship NBL team, said the Russians might be surprised to find some of his guards short compared to what they's used to seeing.

The United States starting team will be composed of Ohio State's All-America, Jerry Lucas, plus three members of McLendon's Cleveland club — John Barnhill, Ben Warley and Roger Taylor. The fifth starting spot still is open.

Buffalo Cagers In Hall of Fame

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The legendary Buffalo Germans, among the latest members of basketball's Hall of Fame, are a team that used to run up scores of 100 points or more in the low-scoring days of 50 years ago.

In 1902, the Germans annihilated Hobart College, 134-0, in the worst rout on record. Niagara University got a 102-7 battering from the Germans that year.

In their 30 years together under Allie Heerdt, the Germans posted a record of 792 victories and 86 losses, including an 111-game victory skein from 1908 through 1910. The team played its last game in 1925.

Heerdt, once described by Nat Holman as "the greatest basketball player of all time," founded the team in 1895 with the help of a YMCA worker, Frederick W. Burkhardt had brought the game to Buffalo from Springfield, Mass. where he played Dr. James Naismith's original "peachbasket" game.

The Germans Saturday were among 14 players, coaches and officials enshrined in the game's Hall of Fame at Springfield, where Dr. Naismith conceived the game in 1891.

Twins Win 2 From Baltimore

Bob Allison, Versalles Star In Double Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The transplanted Minnesota Twins are leading the American League after taking both ends of a Sunday doubleheader from the highly-regarded Baltimore Orioles.

Bob Allison, an accepted slugger, and Zoilo Versalles, supposedly a glove man, boosted the Twins into the league lead with their home runs in Sunday's double victory over Baltimore. Thus the Twins were assured of a raucous welcome home Friday afternoon.

Allison drove in seven runs with a grand slam homer and a three-run homer in the 10-5 first game and Versalles, the 20-year-old Cuban shortstop, won the second game 6-4 with his two-run homer in the 11th.

Cleveland Rallies

While the old Washington club moved west was flexing its muscles the new Washington Senators were settling into the cellar after a 3-2 defeat by Cleveland. The Indians, shut out for eight innings by Dick Donovan, rose up in the ninth with five straight hits, including a home run by Tito Francona.

Rain, cold weather and snow washed out the scheduled doubleheaders between New York and Kansas City, Los Angeles and Boston and a single game between Chicago and Detroit.

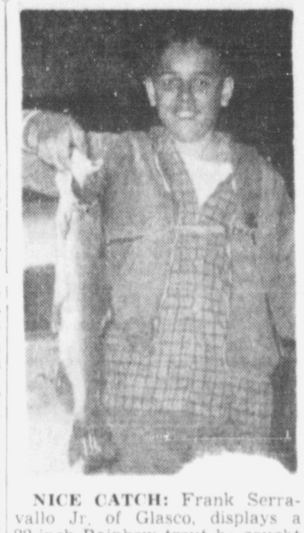
Pedro Ramos, far off the form he showed in shutting out New York on opening day, gave up 12 of the Orioles' 14 hits before he was replaced by Ray Moore in the seventh. Pedro, however, was the winner.

Batting at .478

Bill Pleis, third of four Minnesota pitchers, won the second game on Versalles' homer, following a walk to Reno Bertoia. It was Versalles' fourth hit in six trips in the game and his first major league homer. The 150-pound shortstop, a .133 hitter in 15 games last year, now is batting .478. Don Mincher also hit a homer for the Twins.

Donovan was rolling along with a 2-0 lead going into the ninth when Johnny Temple led off with his third straight single. Francona tied the score with a blast over the right field wall. After singles by Jimmy Piersall and Willie Kirkland, Manager Mickey Vernon of the Senators replaced Donovan with Rudy Hernandez who was greeted by Woody Held's game-winning single.

Johnny Antonelli, making his first American League start for the Indians, departed for a pinch hitter after seven innings. Bob Allen, a lefty up from Mobile, won in relief.



NICE CATCH: Frank Serravallo Jr. of Glasco, displays a 22-inch Rainbow trout he caught in the main stream at Mount Tremper on a lure. It was the biggest catch of his life for 13-year-old Frank, who is son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Serravallo of Glasco. He is a former Glasco Little League star and attends Saugerties High School.

Major League Stars

Batting, Bob Allison, Twins — drove in seven runs with pair of home runs in Minnesota's 10-5 first game victory over Baltimore.

Pitching, Sam Jones, Giants — boosted lifetime record against Phils to 21-9 with 5-2 victory. He helped his own cause with two doubles but needed relief when he ran into a wild streak in the ninth after allowing only five hits.

Miss McIntire Hopes To Capture Golf Title

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla., begins her quest of a third North and South Amateur golf championship in five years today.

Miss McIntire, who also holds the British amateur crown, was paired against Mrs. W. G. Boggs of Pittsburgh in the day's first match.

The tournament's traditional qualifying round has been dropped in favor of a compact, high caliber field of 32 players, of whom 15 have handicaps of two or under.

One round will be played daily with the 18-hole finals Friday.

Rochester Ace New Leader in the State

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — D. Parisee of Rochester was out front today in both the open and handicap singles event in the New York State Bowling tournament.

Parisee hit 683 in actual pins over the weekend to take the open division lead and his handicap of 120 pins gave him 803 for a large bulge in the handicap singles.

In team play, Motts of Newark held to their first place lead with a score of 3130. M. Barrus and P. Nieves of Jamestown, with a 1450, were first again in the handicap doubles.

2 French Horses Set to Participate In Yonkers Race

A pair of 5-year-old mares from France head a field of trotters from five nations Thursday night in the $50,000 United Nations Trot, second of six weekly international events at Yonkers Raceway.

Masina, winner of the $61,000 Prix de Amerique at Vincennes in February, and Marjolaine V are hoping for better conditions than befell their fellow Europeans in last week's $65,000 Gotham.

Two Italian entries, Lavandiere III and Jariolain, disliked the slippery going caused by rain and wet snow. Both are entered in the United Nations.

Su Mac Lad, winner of the Gotham, and Air Record, who finished second, will represent the United States.

Others expected to start in the 1½-mile race Thursday night are Germany's Iskander F. who was forced out of the Gotham with a broken sulky wheel; Canada's Tie Silk, winner of the race last year, and Italy's Tornese, second to Masina in the Prix de Amerique.

Lucky Demon surprised the largest crowd of the season Saturday night when he ripped favored Hoot Dolmont in the $5,000 Monitor Trot. The 4-year-old son of Demon Hanover returned $34.50 to his backers in the crowd of 31,939. Garnet Queen was third.

At Buffalo Raceway, Heather Stable's Heathcliffe won the $4,000 Invitational Trot over a slow track. He was timed in 2:17 and paid $8.80. Torrence Hanover was second and Safety First, third.

Buffalo Raceway opened a 78-night meeting Friday night.

Detroit Bowler Hits 279 Game

DETROIT (AP)— A 32-year-old railroad switchman may take a bigger prize from the 58th American Bowling Congress tournament than any of the bowling world's superstars.

Mike Senosky of Toledo, Ohio, opened his team series Sunday night with a 279 game. It was not the highest single game of the 44-day-old tournament (Corky Degraff of Grand Rapids, Mich., rolled a 300 in the classic doubles) but Senosky's big line was the best rolled thus far in the team events.

An automobile manufacturer has offered a $5,000 sports car for the high individual game in the team event. The top prize a bowler can win from the ABC's $460,000 prize fund is $2,500.

Chicago Gets Title In the NHL

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks, following years of struggle and frustration, today have the Stanley Cup, hockey's symbol of supremeacy.

They regained the coveted cup for the first time in 23 years by walloping the Detroit Red Wings 5-1 Sunday night to win the best-of-seven playoff series four-to-two.

The Hawks had finished in the National Hockey League basement nine times in 11 seasons before they began building their present team in 1957-58. The present season, when they finished third, was their first winning season in 15 years.

The Hawks made the finals by dethroning five-times champion Montreal in the semifinals and then scored three home victories over Detroit before finishing off the Red Wings with a three-goal spurt in the final period Sunday night.

They started off their championships victory in an odd manner. Trailing 1-0 in the second period, the Hawks found themselves shorthanded because of a penalty.

Reg Fleming, ace penalty killer, intercepted a Red Wing pass and scored the tying goal. Ab McDonald added another late in the second period and Detroit never recovered.

Goals by Eric Nesternko, Jack Evans and Kenny Wharram wrapped it up in the final period. Evans' goal was his first in two years.

Louise Suggs Wins 52nd Golf Crown

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Louise Suggs won her third $10,000 Dallas Civitan open in a row Sunday then checked up and found it was the fifty-second tournament she has knocked off in a 13-year professional career.

Actually, she has most of the 13th year to go and could make her record — the greatest in women's pro golf — even more impressive. The Dallas Civitan was her third this year.

It's on to Beaumont today for the Babe Zaharias 54-hole tournament for Miss Suggs and the women's tour.

Rod Laver Wins Tennis Tourney

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Rod Laver, a freckled Australian of 22 years, will take the River Oaks tennis trophy out of the country for the first time.

Laver beat fellow Australian Roy Emerson in the River Oaks finals Sunday, 7-5, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3.

Laver's powerful volley's and sharp placements left him even with Emerson, who beat Laver in four sets in the Australian finals in January. Laver's placements drew applause from Emerson on three occassions.

Bernard Bartzen, America's No. 1 ranked player and fourth-seeded player in the 27th Oaks tournament, was defeated in the first round.

Rams, Manhattan In 2-Mile Battle

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Now it's Fordham as well as Manhattan to gun for in the 2-mile relay this season.

Fordham's sophomore junior quartet altered any opinion that it was just another entry in the record 30 flat in the Quantico Relays over the weekend.

Sophomore Frank Tomeo was caught in 1:49.5, better than he has ever recorded, as he made up lost ground and brought Fordham home ahead of Manhattan on the anchor half-mile.

Don O'Connor, Doug Tyanan and Tom Kenney, who preceded Tomeo, also may have exceeded previous bests in their 880 legs.

14th Lions Show Sets New Record, 16,769 Turn Out

The 1961 Lions Exposition and Home Show closed Saturday night with a record-breaking attendance for a single evening and for total five-day attendance.

A total of 4,123 paid their way into the armory Saturday evening for the 14th annual Exposition, bringing the total for the five days to 16,769. This five-day total is a good 500 more than last year's record when an all-time attendance figure was established.

Plans are now being formulated to hold the show again in 1962 and to make even bigger and better. A Lions spokesman told The Freeman.

Some of those visiting the show came from distances as great as 75 miles.

Exposition Chairman Dr. Stephen McGrath remarked Saturday evening that the large attandance demonstrated that Kingstonians appreciate "a good show and approve of the work being done by the Kingston Lions Club in its many community service projects."

Major award winners for the week were Gerald W. Nichols, Guyton Street, Town of Ulster, $500 Savings Bond; Donald R. Celuch, 70 O'Neil Street, $250 bond; Paul Gregory, 15 Hinsdale Street, $125 bond; Alan Greene, 237 Wall Street, stereo console, and Meyer Levy, 60 Abbey Street, ski sled. Several $50 and $25 bonds were also awarded.

O'Connor Names Group Chairmen

Two additional committee chairmen have been named by Joseph E. O'Connor, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Arthur W. Buddenhagen has been named as chairman of special City Planning-Urban Renewal Liaison Committee to keep in touch with the City Administration to support adequate planning and urban renewal.

Ronald G. Drowns was named again as chairman of the Convention and Visitors Committee. This committee, with comunity support has been successful in bringing additional conventions to Kingston. A strenuous effort will be made to book more conventions.

It is anticipated that the chairman of the recently created Safety Promotion Committee will be named within a few days.

Area Churches To Take Part in Migrant Sunday

April 23 has been designated Migrant Sunday by churches affiliated with the Mid-Hudson Area Migrant Committee. A special offering will be taken to aid in the establishment of a child cares day center and to support the committee's program of counselling and religious education through the migrant ministry.

Churches in Ulster, Dutchess and Columbia counties will participate. Literature and envelopes were distributed at a meeting held in the Milton Methodist Church April 11.

Ministers will be employed during the harvest months in Warwick, New Paltz, Milton-Marlboro, and Hudson.

Th local committee serves under the auspices of the New York State Migrant committee and the statewide organization of the Migrant Ministry, which served over 22,000 persons last year.

INVERNESS, N. S. (AP)—Willian Nicholson, 110, possibly Canada's oldest resident, died Sunday night.

Born at Northeast Margaree in Cape Breton, Nicholson spent most of his life in Cape Breton except for brief trips to sea. He was a farmer and occasionally a miner.

Offers Caution To Oscar Champs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—To the winners at tonight's academy awards, Jose Ferrer offers these words of caution:

Don't believe everything people tell you.

Joe knows. Just a decade ago, he won the Oscar for his pyrotechnical job as "Cyrano de Bergerac."

"Immediately after you win an Oscar, they throw Luise Raine up to you," said Ferrer, mentioning the star who won two awards in a row and then was heard from no more. "They don't mention Gable, Cooper, Holden and others who thrive after winning the Oscar."

Glow Grows Dim

Nor should tonight's winners believe those who say an Oscar is the open-sesame for an actor, Ferrer agreed. He himself has experienced the rude awakening of an actor when the golden glow of Oscar grows dim.

"For three years, there has been no call for my services as a film actor," said the 1950 winner. "Why? I have no idea why. You'll have to ask that question of numerous producers around town."

Never one to remain idle long, Ferrer is now devoting his full energies to being a film director. He took on the job of piloting "Return to Peyton Place" by way of the censorial shoals—"because nobody else was willing to direct it after the success of the first film." He appears to have succeeded, since reports of the sequel's chances are good. Good enough to win Ferrer a new deal at 20th-Fox and a job of directing another toughie, "The Chapman Report."

Favors Grand Style

I found him happily established in an office which Dan Dailey, Bing Crosby and Elvis Presley once used as dressing room.

Ferrer reviewed his film career with amazing candor. He said he didn't like "Cyrano." "Too much pussy-footing, too much penny-pinching; it should have been done in a grand style or not at all."

He followed "Cyrano" with "Anything Can Happen" — "A wonderful picture but it did nothing." Among the others: "Moulin Rouge"—a smash"; "Miss Sadie Thompson"—"a bomb"; "Caine Mutiny"—"no one remembers I was in it."

He and Rosemary Clooney have five youngsters to feed, and Joe found himself dipping into debt durng the period of no jobs. Then came "Return to Peyton Place" and the flowering of a whole new career.

He admitted that in "Peyton" and "Chapman" he is dealing with highly censorable stuff, but he added: "I have that strange arrogance in having enough faith in my own taste so that I would not make pictures I couldn't let my children see.

"I'm not interested in making dirty pictures. I think in both subjects there is enough worth in the human relationships so that the racy material can be eliminated or made incidental."

Most Are Betting Liz Taylor Will Win First Oscar

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Most everybody is betting Liz Taylor will win her first Oscar tonight—everybody but the beautiful star herself.

"I'm not betting on it," Miss Taylor told a reporter, "but I'll be there just the same."

The two-hour awards show, telecast over ABC-TV, gets under way at 10:30 p.m. (EST) from the Santa Monica Civil Auditorium.

Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies.

According to most polls, only the big contention is among the men. It's a down-to-the-wire race between Jack Lemmon and Burt Lancaster for best actor. The same goes for Sal Mineo and Peter Ustinov for best supporting actor.

Among the supporting actresses, Shirley Jones, like Miss Taylor, is rated a shoo-in.

It will be a big night for Liz, win or lose. It's her first public outing since her near fatal illness. If she wins, her doctor has warned her to go easy on the celebration afterwards.

She was nominated for "Butterfield 8." Her competition is Greer Garson for "Sunrise at Campobello," Deborah Kerr for "The Sundowners," Shirley MacLaine for "The Apartment," and Melina Mercouri for the Greek-made "Never On Sunday."

Should Lemmon win for "The Apartment," he will become the first actor ever to ever win both the supporting and top acting awards.

Lemmon won previously for "Mr. Roberts."

Louise Suggs Wins 52nd Golf Crown

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Louise Suggs won her third $10,000 Dallas Civitan open in a row Sunday then checked up and found it was the fifty-second tournament she has knocked off in a 13-year professional career.

Actually, she has most of the 13th year to go and could make her record — the greatest in women's pro golf — even more impressive. The Dallas Civitan was her third this year.

It's on to Beaumont today for the Babe Zaharias 54-hole tournament for Miss Suggs and the women's tour.

Rod Laver Wins Tennis Tourney

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Rod Laver, a freckled Australian of 22 years, will take the River Oaks tennis trophy out of the country for the first time.

Laver beat fellow Australian Roy Emerson in the River Oaks finals Sunday, 7-5, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3.

Laver's powerful volley's and sharp placements left him even with Emerson, who beat Laver in four sets in the Australian finals in January. Laver's placements drew applause from Emerson on three occassions.

Bernard Bartzen, America's No. 1 ranked player and fourth-seeded player in the 27th Oaks tournament, was defeated in the first round.

Rams, Manhattan In 2-Mile Battle

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Now it's Fordham as well as Manhattan to gun for in the 2-mile relay this season.

Fordham's sophomore junior quartet altered any opinion that it was just another entry in the record 30 flat in the Quantico Relays over the weekend.

Sophomore Frank Tomeo was caught in 1:49.5, better than he has ever recorded, as he made up lost ground and brought Fordham home ahead of Manhattan on the anchor half-mile.

Don O'Connor, Doug Tyanan and Tom Kenney, who preceded Tomeo, also may have exceeded previous bests in their 880 legs.

14th Lions Show Sets New Record, 16,769 Turn Out

The 1961 Lions Exposition and Home Show closed Saturday night with a record-breaking attendance for a single evening and for total five-day attendance.

A total of 4,123 paid their way into the armory Saturday evening for the 14th annual Exposition, bringing the total for the five days to 16,769. This five-day total is a good 500 more than last year's record when an all-time attendance figure was established.

Plans are now being formulated to hold the show again in 1962 and to make even bigger and better. A Lions spokesman told The Freeman.

Some of those visiting the show came from distances as great as 75 miles.

Exposition Chairman Dr. Stephen McGrath remarked Saturday evening that the large attandance demonstrated that Kingstonians appreciate "a good show and approve of the work being done by the Kingston Lions Club in its many community service projects."

Major award winners for the week were Gerald W. Nichols, Guyton Street, Town of Ulster, $500 Savings Bond; Donald R. Celuch, 70 O'Neil Street, $250 bond; Paul Gregory, 15 Hinsdale Street, $125 bond; Alan Greene, 237 Wall Street, stereo console, and Meyer Levy, 60 Abbey Street, ski sled. Several $50 and $25 bonds were also awarded.

O'Connor Names Group Chairmen

Two additional committee chairmen have been named by Joseph E. O'Connor, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Arthur W. Buddenhagen has been named as chairman of special City Planning-Urban Renewal Liaison Committee to keep in touch with the City Administration to support adequate planning and urban renewal.

Ronald G. Drowns was named again as chairman of the Convention and Visitors Committee. This committee, with comunity support has been successful in bringing additional conventions to Kingston. A strenuous effort will be made to book more conventions.

It is anticipated that the chairman of the recently created Safety Promotion Committee will be named within a few days.

Area Churches To Take Part in Migrant Sunday

April 23 has been designated Migrant Sunday by churches affiliated with the Mid-Hudson Area Migrant Committee. A special offering will be taken to aid in the establishment of a child cares day center and to support the committee's program of counselling and religious education through the migrant ministry.

Churches in Ulster, Dutchess and Columbia counties will participate. Literature and envelopes were distributed at a meeting held in the Milton Methodist Church April 11.

Ministers will be employed during the harvest months in Warwick, New Paltz, Milton-Marlboro, and Hudson.

Th local committee serves under the auspices of the New York State Migrant committee and the statewide organization of the Migrant Ministry, which served over 22,000 persons last year.

Succumbs at 110

INVERNESS, N. S. (AP)—Willian Nicholson, 110, possibly Canada's oldest resident, died Sunday night.

Born at Northeast Margaree in Cape Breton, Nicholson spent most of his life in Cape Breton except for brief trips to sea. He was a farmer and occasionally a miner.

Offers Caution To Oscar Champs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—To the winners at tonight's academy awards, Jose Ferrer offers these words of caution:

Don't believe everything people tell you.

Joe knows. Just a decade ago, he won the Oscar for his pyrotechnical job as "Cyrano de Bergerac."

"Immediately after you win an Oscar, they throw Luise Raine up to you," said Ferrer, mentioning the star who won two awards in a row and then was heard from no more. "They don't mention Gable, Cooper, Holden and others who thrive after winning the Oscar."

Glow Grows Dim

Nor should tonight's winners believe those who say an Oscar is the open-sesame for an actor, Ferrer agreed. He himself has experienced the rude awakening of an actor when the golden glow of Oscar grows dim.

"For three years, there has been no call for my services as a film actor," said the 1950 winner. "Why? I have no idea why. You'll have to ask that question of numerous producers around town."

Never one to remain idle long, Ferrer is now devoting his full energies to being a film director. He took on the job of piloting "Return to Peyton Place" by way of the censorial shoals—"because nobody else was willing to direct it after the success of the first film." He appears to have succeeded, since reports of the sequel's chances are good. Good enough to win Ferrer a new deal at 20th-Fox and a job of directing another toughie, "The Chapman Report."

Favors Grand Style

I found him happily established in an office which Dan Dailey, Bing Crosby and Elvis Presley once used as dressing room.

Ferrer reviewed his film career with amazing candor. He said he didn't like "Cyrano." "Too much pussy-footing, too much penny-pinching; it should have been done in a grand style or not at all."

He followed "Cyrano" with "Anything Can Happen" — "A wonderful picture but it did nothing." Among the others: "Moulin Rouge"—a smash"; "Miss Sadie Thompson"—"a bomb"; "Caine Mutiny"—"no one remembers I was in it."

He and Rosemary Clooney have five youngsters to feed, and Joe found himself dipping into debt durng the period of no jobs. Then came "Return to Peyton Place" and the flowering of a whole new career.

He admitted that in "Peyton" and "Chapman" he is dealing with highly censorable stuff, but he added: "I have that strange arrogance in having enough faith in my own taste so that I would not make pictures I couldn't let my children see.

"I'm not interested in making dirty pictures. I think in both subjects there is enough worth in the human relationships so that the racy material can be eliminated or made incidental."

Most Are Betting Liz Taylor Will Win First Oscar

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Most everybody is betting Liz Taylor will win her first Oscar tonight—everybody but the beautiful star herself.

"I'm not betting on it," Miss Taylor told a reporter, "but I'll be there just the same."

The two-hour awards show, telecast over ABC-TV, gets under way at 10:30 p.m. (EST) from the Santa Monica Civil Auditorium.

Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies.

According to most polls, only the big contention is among the men. It's a down-to-the-wire race between Jack Lemmon and Burt Lancaster for best actor. The same goes for Sal Mineo and Peter Ustinov for best supporting actor.

Among the supporting actresses, Shirley Jones, like Miss Taylor, is rated a shoo-in.

It will be a big night for Liz, win or lose. It's her first public outing since her near fatal illness. If she wins, her doctor has warned her to go easy on the celebration afterwards.

She was nominated for "Butterfield 8." Her competition is Greer Garson for "Sunrise at Campobello," Deborah Kerr for "The Sundowners," Shirley MacLaine for "The Apartment," and Melina Mercouri for the Greek-made "Never On Sunday."

Should Lemmon win for "The Apartment," he will become the first actor ever to ever win both the supporting and top acting awards.

Lemmon won previously for "Mr. Roberts."

Lancaster, the rousing sawdust revivalist of "Elmer Gantry," has never won an Oscar. A dark horse is Britain's Trevor Howard of "Sons and Lovers."

9 More Markets Are Closed as Strike Spreads

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Nine more supermarkets were closed today, swelling the total to 278, as a second union joined a 10-day strike that has closed stores of five chains in Upstate New York and Northern Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, officials of the Amalgamated Meat cutters, Butchers and Affiliated Crafts Union and the five supermarket chains planned to resume bargaining talks here.

The new walkout shut down nine A & P supermarkets in Rochester after 375 members of Local 345, Retail Clerks Union, voted unanimously Friday to strike. The stores had operated since the strike began April 7, but meat counters had been closed.

Members of the retail clerks' union were picketing the stores today.

Their contract expired Sunday, a union spokesman said.

Robert J. McIntyre, chief negotiator for the chains, said when negotiations recessed Saturday that management had offered wage increases totaling $9 a week over two-years for key employes, $7.20 for men clerks and $5.60 for women clerks. Part-time workers would get pay increases totaling 12½ cents an hour over two years, he said.

The Amalgamated union contended the offer was a poor deal for part-time workers.

A union spokesman said part-time workers would get only 7½ cents the first year while they would lose 6 cents in welfare benefits and have the number of guaranteed hours of work a week cut from 15 to 12.

Nearly 9,000 members of the union have been idled since it struck 75 Loblaw stores, A&P, American Stores (Acme) Victory-Johnson and P & C, in sympathy, closed many of their stores in an area generally between Rochester and Albany and a few stores in Northern Pennsylvania.

Rocky Proclaims Law Day in May

May 1 has been proclaimed as Law Day by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller who points out in his proclamation "the role of law in our history as a people true to our heritage as a people, has forever been this: to give practical form and testimony, to our faith in the individual man, his free destiny and his universal brotherhood."

Rockefellr points out that there is "no subject more sobering or more inspiring than the law of America. For the meaning of law in our nation rests upon the meaning of our life as a nation.

"Our laws have served, as our nation was created, for a single purpose, clear and supreme: to give expression, protection and validity to our spiritual heritage proclaiming the worth of the individual, his sanctity and dignity as a creature of God. This has been the historic inspiration —and this has been the political purpose—of our life as a people.

"This has not been a moral intention merely asserted after the fact. It was proclaimed before the fact — in the very document heralding the freedom of the American people. For the Declaration of Independence itself explicitly cites as the source and the basis of American freedom — not some national ambition, not merely some economic convenience — but the 'laws of nature and of nature's God.'"

3d Ward Residents To Discuss Tablet Plans Wednesday

Another meeting of residents of the Third Ward interested in the reconstruction of the War Tablet will be held at the City Hall, Wednesday 7:30 p. m.

The War Tablet, damaged considerably last year by Hurrincane Donna, is now located on private property. It is planned to move it to city property at the triangle on Highland and Clifton Avenues.

Work on the project was commenced Saturday by a group of interested citizens. It is hoped to have the work completed before Memorial Day. A concrete base in the shape of a large star will be laid and the large sphere representing the world will be placed on a new pedestal in the center of the star. A new walk, hedge, flag pole, markers and flower receptacles are also planned.

To carry out the project the committee is depending on the generous response to the request for funds. There is an urgent need for canvassers to carry out this phase of the project.

The Girl Scouts of the Church of the Comforter will distribute a letter of explanation and a sketch of the new memorial to all residents of the Third Ward. Canvassers will start their collections for funds possibly the week of April 24. Contributions may be sent to the committee treasurer, Donald Wood, 17 Reynolds Street.

The Citizens' Committee for Third Ward Veterans' Memorial includes Clarence Hyde, chairman; Donald M. Hastings, Third Ward alderman, and Francis Vertetis, co-chairmen; Eugene Winters, designer, and George Heppner, engineer.

Saugerties Man Issued Summons After Mishap

A Saugerties man was issued a summons for following too closely as a result of a collision involving his car and another Sunday afternoon at a village intersection. No one was reported injured, according to Village Police Sgt. Harold Mills.

Raymond J. Mooney, 55 of 29 Clermont Street must appear Tuesday 9 a. m. before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr.

Village police reported Mooney driving a 1960 sedan was following a 1954 sedan driven by Bernice Meigs, 18 of Tannersville proceeding north on Washington Avenue. Near the corner of Post Street, the Meigs vehicle owned by Ellsworth Meigs of Tannersville, stopped, the Mooney car continued and was in collision with the rear of the Meigs vehicle, Sgt. Mills said.

Norman S. Brunner, a passenger in the Meigs car was reported uninjured, police said.

The Meigs vehicle was damaged to the left rear fender, bumper and truck cover. The Mooney car sustained damage to the hood, according to Sgt. Mills.

The mishap occurred at 4:25 p. m.

Fugitive Sought After Collision

MIDDLEBURG, N. Y. (AP) — Police combed cold, wet woods today in a continuing search for a man who fled from a village policeman who was questioning him.

State Police said they were "almost positive" that the man was the driver of a stolen car involved in a three-car collision Sunday in which two persons were injured. The car had been stolen in Catskill.

State Police said the car was abandoned after a crash near this Schoharie County village and the driver fled on foot into nearby woods.

The injured, Michael Harper, 4, and Edward Cummings, 19, both of Middleburg, were taken to Cobleskill Hospital. Harper was reported in satisfactory condition, Cummings as good.

Troopers said a Middleburg policeman took the stranger into custody when he saw the man in the village.

They said he gave vague replies to questions and declined to identify himself. He agreed, however, to show the policeman where he had spent the night.

They drove back to Middleburg from the sheriff's office, where he was questioned, and up a dead-end dirt road.

When they reached the end of the road, the man jumped out of the car and fled, troopers said.

Mistress Starts Animal Aid Trek

BUDD LAKE, N. J. (AP) — A grandmother and her horse, plugging for better care for animals in a cross-country trek, have Bethlehem, Pa. as their destination tonight.

Nora Jo O'Brien, who likes to be called Miss despite her grandchildren, said she and her pony, Ebony, planned to leave this morning on a light-traffic highway that parallels Route 24. Further south she plans to ride down Route 24 to its intersection with Route 519 in Phillipsburg.

There, they'll both take a rest by boarding a truck and riding into Bethlehem, she said.

Miss O'Brien arrived her Saturday from New York. She and her black stallion covered 40 of the 44 miles by truck after police advised her against riding on Route 46 because of heavy traffic.

A riding mistress and a resident of Hollis, N. Y., Miss O'Brien is making the trip to California to impress on communities along the way the need for better care of horses. She also hopes to induce various communities to set up municipal stables for underprivileged children.

Goldwater Lauds Work of Society

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Members of the controversial John Birch Society are doing an effective job of alerting Americans to the dangers of communism, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) says.

Goldwater said, however, that he knows only of the society as it exists in Arizona and added that he could not agree with members of the ultra - conservative group who have charged that former President Eisenhower and Chief Justice of the United States Earl Warren are Communists.

"I can't agree with calling a man a Communist just because you don't believe in him," he said.

Goldwater, considered the leader of Republican conservatives, told a civic group Saturday that the United States faces danger ahead in the United Nations because the weight of new independent African members may bring more pressure for admission of Red China.

"The question at that time will be whether we shall remain a members of the U. N.," Goldwater said.

Another meeting of residents of the Third Ward interested in the reconstruction of the War Tablet will be held at the City Hall, Wednesday 7:30 p. m.

The War Tablet, damaged considerably last year by Hurricane Donna, is now located on private property. It is planned to move it to city property at the triangle on Highland and Clifton Avenues.

Work on the project was commenced Saturday by a group of interested citizens. It is hoped to have the work completed before Memorial Day. A concrete base in the shape of a large star will be laid and the large sphere representing the world will be placed on a new pedestal in the center of the star. A new walk, hedge, flag pole, markers and flower receptacles are also planned.

To carry out the project the committee is depending on the generous response to the request for funds. There is an urgent need for canvassers to carry out this phase of the project.

The Girl Scouts of the Church of the Comforter will distribute a letter of explanation and a sketch of the new memorial to all residents of the Third Ward. Canvassers will start their collections for funds possibly the week of April 24. Contributions may be sent to the committee treasurer, Donald Wood, 17 Reynolds Street.

The Citizens' Committee for Third Ward Veterans' Memorial includes Clarence Hyde, chairman; Donald M. Hastings, Third Ward alderman, and Francis Vertetis, co-chairmen; Eugene Winters, designer, and George Heppner, engineer.

Saugerties Man Issued Summons After Mishap

A Saugerties man was issued a summons for following too closely as a result of a collision involving his car and another Sunday afternoon at a village intersection. No one was reported injured, according to Village Police Sgt. Harold Mills.

Raymond J. Mooney, 55 of 29 Clermont Street must appear Tuesday 9 a. m. before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr.

Village police reported Mooney driving a 1960 sedan was following a 1954 sedan driven by Bernice Meigs, 18 of Tannersville proceeding north on Washington Avenue. Near the corner of Post Street, the Meigs vehicle owned by Ellsworth Meigs of Tannersville, stopped, the Mooney car continued and was in collision with the rear of the Meigs vehicle, Sgt. Mills said.

Norman S. Brunner, a passenger in the Meigs car was reported uninjured, police said.

The Meigs vehicle was damaged to the left rear fender, bumper and truck cover. The Mooney car sustained damage to the hood, according to Sgt. Mills.

The mishap occurred at 4:25 p. m.

Fugitive Sought After Collision

MIDDLEBURG, N. Y. (AP) — Police combed cold, wet woods today in a continuing search for a man who fled from a village policeman who was questioning him.

State Police said they were "almost positive" that the man was the driver of a stolen car involved in a three-car collision Sunday in which two persons were injured. The car had been stolen in Catskill.

State Police said the car was abandoned after a crash near this Schoharie County village and the driver fled on foot into nearby woods.

The injured, Michael Harper, 4, and Edward Cummings, 19, both of Middleburg, were taken to Cobleskill Hospital. Harper was reported in satisfactory condition, Cummings as good.

Troopers said a Middleburg policeman took the stranger into custody when he saw the man in the village.

They said he gave vague replies to questions and declined to identify himself. He agreed, however, to show the policeman where he had spent the night.

They drove back to Middleburg from the sheriff's office, where he was questioned, and up a dead-end dirt road.

When they reached the end of the road, the man jumped out of the car and fled, troopers said.

Mistress Starts Animal Aid Trek

BUDD LAKE, N. J. (AP) — A grandmother and her horse, plugging for better care for animals in a cross-country trek, have Bethlehem, Pa. as their destination tonight.

Nora Jo O'Brien, who likes to be called Miss despite her grandchildren, said she and her pony, Ebony, planned to leave this morning on a light-traffic highway that parallels Route 24. Further south she plans to ride down Route 24 to its intersection with Route 519 in Phillipsburg.

There, they'll both take a rest by boarding a truck and riding into Bethlehem, she said.

Miss O'Brien arrived her Saturday from New York. She and her black stallion covered 40 of the 44 miles by truck after police advised her against riding on Route 46 because of heavy traffic.

A riding mistress and a resident of Hollis, N. Y., Miss O'Brien is making the trip to California to impress on communities along the way the need for better care of horses. She also hopes to induce various communities to set up municipal stables for underprivileged children.

Goldwater Lauds Work of Society

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Members of the controversial John Birch Society are doing an effective job of alerting Americans to the dangers of communism, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) says.

Goldwater said, however, that he knows only of the society as it exists in Arizona and added that he could not agree with members of the ultra - conservative group who have charged that former President Eisenhower and Chief Justice of the United States Earl Warren are Communists.

"I can't agree with calling a man a Communist just because you don't believe in him," he said.

Goldwater, considered the leader of Republican conservatives, told a civic group Saturday that the United States faces danger ahead in the United Nations because the weight of new independent African members may bring more pressure for admission of Red China.

"The question at that time will be whether we shall remain a members of the U. N.," Goldwater said.
